

MUCH DANGER SEEN IN COASTWISE LABOR SITUATION JUST NOW

Rivermen Likely to Strike on Thursday Morning as Demands Are Refused.

TIME SOUGHT BY SHIPPERS

Longshoremen's Union Asked to Grant 60 Day Lay Way as Per Original Agreement.

The greatest crisis that the shipping interests of the Pacific coast have ever faced is before the members of the International Longshoremen's Association.

Several thousand steambot hands and many thousands longshoremen have demands before their employers, which if not met June 1 at a 6 m. men's strike.

The belief here is that certain of the longshoremen's demands will be met, but that the steambot deck hands and firemen's demands will be refused.

Non-compliance with the demands of either organization means strike, assert the leaders.

"Our hand is on the table and only a better showing by the steambot men will waive off a strike," declares Charles Bennett, business agent of the River Steambot Men's union.

The longshoremen's activities are centered about Puget sound which owing to the heavy movement of war munitions is the most important.

ROBERT DOLLAR SEES GOOD LUMBER MARKET AFTER WAR IS OVER

Head of Big Corporation Stops in Eugene on His Way to Coquille.

Head of Big Corporation Stops in Eugene on His Way to Coquille.

MILL THERE TO REOPEN

Big Stamp in Europe Fought After Hostilities in East Have Ceased and Unemployment Foreseen.

Eugene, Or., May 29.—Robert Dollar, head of the Robert Dollar company, who was in Eugene Saturday, says that the lumber business is expected to be much better after the war, for the reason that lumber yards all over the world are very low in stock, due to the great advance in rates of transportation since the war began.

When the war ends, business in the United States will come down with a thud, in the opinion of Mr. Dollar, who was in Eugene on his way to Coquille, where his father owns sawmills and other property.

The reason Mr. Dollar thinks that general business conditions in this country, especially in the east, will be affected adversely when the war is ended is that all of the great munitions factories which have sprung up in different parts of the east and the plants that were established to meet the war's needs are now being run night and day now, will be compelled to drop a greater percentage of their employees, and thus hundreds of thousands of men will be out of employment.

"There will have to be a reconstruction period, after that," said Mr. Dollar, "and eventually these men will secure employment in other lines, but for some time after the war is ended it appears to me that business is going to be pretty quiet."

Mr. Dollar announced that one of his mills at Coquille will be in operation within 60 days and that one of the logging camps has been in operation for some time past, employing 100 men.

The company will make improvements on its property in that section. One of the mills has a capacity of 80,000 and the other 100,000 feet a day.

The Grace Dollar, the only vessel of the kind being built in the United States, is being built at a Japanese steamship company for the trans-Pacific trade, will be used in shipping the lumber from this mill after it is completed.

Mr. Dollar's company has under charter 11 steamships which are engaged in the transportation of war munitions between Vancouver, B. C., and Russia.

He says every ship is loaded to its capacity on each trip and there are no indications of a cessation of the business in the near future.

HEAD OF DUMA SAYS RUSSIA WILL FIGHT ON TILL GERMANY YIELDS

Country and Its Emperor Are United in Demand That the War Be Carried to Limit.

By William Phillip Simms. Copyright, 1916, by the United Press Association; Copyright in Great Britain.

Petrograd, May 29.—Russia will fight 20 years if necessary until Germany is forced to accept allied terms of peace, Michael Rodzianko, president of the Duma, told the United Press in an interview today.

"There is no peace party in Russia," said Rodzianko. "That is a German lie. The Duma is solid in its demand that Russia continue to fight until Germany puts her cannon in a pile and accepts the allied conditions."

"The emperor, the Duma and the peasants are united in this. Tell this to the people of America as emphatically as you can."

Duma Reopens Today. Rodzianko has just arrived from his home in the provinces for the purpose of reopening the Duma today.

"You need not accept my word exclusively," he said. "You are welcome to the floor of the Duma where you can talk to anyone. All will tell what I have told you. Russian peasants know the meaning of German hegemony. They are for war. We will fight 20 years if necessary to abolish this menace. We will force Russia to accept our terms. Peace on any other basis would be unthinkable."

Russia would refuse to accept even if the allies would—and the allies would not. Peace propaganda now in circulation are injurious to the allies.

No Reforms at This Time. Rodzianko was asked if the duma would attempt reforms.

"This is not time for such legislation," he replied. "We will devote the session first to war measures, revivify the army, etc.; second, to economic problems growing out of the war, and third, to the strengthening of local governing bodies."

"I cannot say how long it will remain in session, but we are not afraid of dissolution. The duma is working pretty well with the government. It will finish its program early, however, as the duma is composed of agrarians, who must adjourn before harvest, which comes shortly."

Asked the reason for the duma's long recess, Rodzianko replied: "Its members are mostly farmers. They can do more good raising crops for the army and the nation than by sitting idle."

He declared Russia was not only willing but prepared to carry the war to a victorious end.

"Russia will support her share of the burden much better than at the start," he said. "The army has almost double the spirit it possessed early in the war. It is better equipped and better trained than ever before."

The fortunes of war vary; but, whatever happens, Russia will fight until Germany is beaten. There is no danger of internal revolution. You can tell the Americans that."

WILL GIVE AUTONOMY TO POLES AFTER WAR

Impossible to Outline Program Now While Empire Is in the Throes of Death Struggle.

Petrograd, May 29.—(I. N. S.)—M. Sergius D. Sazanoff, Russian minister of foreign affairs, authorized the following interview today.

"In the new era dawning in Russia, there is promised a period in this empire which will justify in its beneficial efforts the sacrifice of all the blood and wealth that this war has involved. Our emperor and the government have bled in heart at the losses and sacrifices this war has entailed on the Russian subjects, and particularly at the misery that has come to the unfortunate Poles. But Poles living in foreign lands must realize that these misfortunes will not be repeated, but all other races, both east and west, into whose lands has come the German scourge."

"The emperor has been so moved by the distress of the Polish subjects within the German lines that the greater demands of human sympathy have swept aside the military aspects, and he has freely given his permission for the Russian relief work to be done by the Rockefeller commission, for it has seemed better to him that there should occur even a leakage in relief provisions than that the Polish subjects should suffer unnecessarily."

"Poles cannot expect, in this supreme life-and-death struggle, that we can outline a full program for the future of Poland, but they will receive just and equitable autonomy in the greatest degree adjusted to their future life and their economic and industrial development as is true today as when the announcement was first made."

"The Russian government will therefore look forward to the dawn of a new era and a period of unequalled development which will follow the successful and inevitable conclusion of the great war."

AUSTRIA CONTINUES TO PRESS ITS ADVANTAGE IN VICENZA DISTRICT

Austrians are awaiting the arrival of their heavy pieces before undertaking systematic infantry attacks for the possession of the trenches.

The town of Asiago, though deserted, is still intact, said the official, while Vicenza is quiet and the population is as cheerful as the presence of the Austrians would permit.

Believes Valleys Are Safe. Asked whether he believed the Austrians would be able to advance into the valleys leading to the plains, the mayor said that it was unlikely.

"The Austrians will never venture outside the range of their heavy guns, in my opinion," declared the official. "Admitting that this is their ambition, they must first secure the mouths of the several valleys. This is almost impossible. Besides, there is another factor to be considered, the numerical superiority of troops at the mouths of these valleys which are strongly guarded. Also in the Vicenza plain the power of our artillery would at least be a serious handicap."

Must Climb to Advance. "Furthermore, the advance of the Austrians will be hard climbing. Even admitting that they should reach the plains, their position would be most dangerous, and they would be unable to hold it."

The mayor said he saw General Cadorna on Thursday while the leader was at lunch at a wayside inn. The general appeared in fine humor.

Minor Victories Reported. Vienna, May 29.—(I. N. S.)—Victories over the Italians at points along the southern fighting front were claimed in an official statement issued by the Austrian government today. The bulletin said: "We conquered an armored work at Cornovo, west of Arsiero, and also a fortified dam southwest of Monte Intero, near the village of S. Giovanni. On the lower Voisava, skirmishes between patrol detachments took place. Otherwise the situation is unchanged."

Austrian Attack Desperate. Milan, May 29.—(I. N. S.)—Although military critics declare that the Austrians is impossible, the Austrians' efforts to take it can only be likened to the desperation of the Germans' operations at Verdun, according to dispatches received here today from the front.

NEARLY WILD WITH BURNING ITCHING. Eczema. From Hands to Elbows On Mass. Could Not Put Hands in Water. Could Not Sleep.

HEALED BY CUTICURA SOAP AND OINTMENT. "My daughter was poisoned by salt and it turned into eczema and from her hands to her elbows was one mass of red, burning itching eruptions. It began with a rash which was of such burning itching nature that at times she was nearly wild. Many weeks she could not put her hands in water and she could not sleep. She suffered intensely for several weeks and I tried wringing towels out of hot water and putting a rubber sheet across her, but she wasn't helped. The doctor said to use Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I did just the itching and burning left her, and I used four boxes of Cuticura Ointment together with the Cuticura Soap and she was completely healed."
