Reames Permits Introduction of Measures Withdrawn When Motive Discovered.

San Francisco, June 7.—(P. N. S.)—Bills introduced before congress by Representative Johnson and Senator J. Hamilton Lewis, and which were later withdrawn at their request, when they discovered that they were being used in assisting to perpetrate a fraud upon the public, were introduced in evidence by the defendants in the Oregon land fraud case yesterday.

Their admission was agreed to by United States Attorney Clarence L. Reames of Oregon, on condition that it was stipulated that Senator Lewis and Representative Johnson had withdrawn these bills and denounced them after discovering that they were being used for fraudulent purposes.

It is claimed by United States Attorney Reames that applicants by the hundred were secured by showing that these bills were pending before congress.

Reames also declared in court that the present bill, which recently passed the house and senate and which was introduced by Senator Chamberlain of Oregon, is being used to secure applicants for the land, the public being unaware that there is a clause which provides that only actual settlers on the land, who have developed the land for agricultural purposes, and who have been actually residing thereon at the time of making the application, will benefit by the bill.

Can Sue Railroad. The bill which is awaiting the president's signature, also permits the government to bring suit against the Oregon and California railroads to recover all money paid it by the large timber companies in excess of $2.50 an acre.

John W. Logan concluded his testimony yesterday. He admitted interesting the chief of police of Sioux City, Iowa, in the Oregon land.

R. T. Stokes of Patterson, Cal., one of the victims of the fraud, was the first witness to follow Logan on the stand. W. E. Reboale of Herman, David Markle of Santa Monica, Ralph G. Martin, an Indian, formerly a miner of Alaska; A. P. Hodges of Tionnon, and Mrs. and Mrs. James T. Dunn of Gardena, also told of being victimized.

County Roadmaster Yeon Makes Suggestions for Preventing Accidents and Congestion on Highway.

John B. Yeon, county roadmaster, announced last night that the "figure-eight" roadway on the Columbia highway will be opened for traffic this morning for the dedicatory services of the highway this afternoon.

The road from the end of the Base Line road to the Automobile club is also open.

In order to prevent accidents and congestion of traffic, Mr. Yeon has requested that visitors cooperate with the officers, making their cars where directed, and by doing this there will be sufficient space for all autos.

Alleged Leaders of Opium Gang Seized

Customs Officers at San Diego Arrest Three Accused of Smuggling Great Quantities of Drug Into U. S.

San Diego, Cal., June 6.—(P. N. S.)—United States customs officers have arrested in San Diego the alleged ringleaders of a gang said to be smuggling opium into San Diego on an enormous scale. It is charged they have embezzled from Tia Juana, can by can, 600 cans of the drug valued at more than $50,000.

The three, Eddie Gonzalez, Joe M. Echeverria and Mrs. Echeverria, are alleged to have been caught with the opium in their possession.

Mrs. Echeverria is alleged to have made trips to Tia Juana every night for some time past for the purpose of getting cans of opium from the big cache.

Mrs. Pankhurst Pays Kitchener Tribute

Leader of English Suffragettes Urges Preparedness in Appeal at Hellig for Relief of Belgians and Serbians.

"He was the idol of the people," said Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, noted English suffragette, referring to Lord Kitchener in her speech at the Hellig last night on "Preparedness and Women's Part in the War." She said that his example had always been an inspiration to the nation and expressed confidence that new leaders will arise to fill his place.

"Patriotism isn't enough," said Mrs. Pankhurst, "preparedness is necessary."

The speaker expressed belief that after the war women will be granted the rights they seek in England.

Mrs. Pankhurst is raising funds for Belgian and Serbian relief.

She was introduced by James B. Kerr.

PACIFIC COAST LEAGUE

Los Angeles 2, Salt Lake 1. Los Angeles, June 7.—(P. N. S.)—There was quite a gathering at the home plate in the tenth inning. The physiological moment, Paul Fittery's fast one, and Frank Chance all arrived at one and the same time. Chance took what is technically known as "one swipe" and before his hands had cooled the wild cry of the populace told him that he had won a baseball game for his Angel club. The score: SALT LAKE.
