

STRAWBERRY PRICE BREAKS BAD HERE ON BOTH MARKETS

Sales Made on Farmers' Market at $1.10 to $1.25 Generally With Front Street at $1.20 to $1.25—Receipts More Liberal.

Strawberry prices broke sharply from yesterday's prices here today, both along the wholesale way and on the East Side Farmers' market.

Sales of the soft varieties were shown on the Farmers' market around $1.10 to $1.25 generally, with a steady business at $1.25. Along the wholesale way sales were shown generally from $1.20 to $1.25, with the bulk of the day's trading around $1.25 to $1.30.

Receipts of berries were much heavier. The Vancouver action was a very liberal contribution to the Portland market and there were also greater offerings from the home growers.

While most of the berries were of only medium size, the quality of the fruit was excellent, and the stimulated buying.

Raspberries from California are arriving in liberal supply, and are quoted generally at $1.50 per crate of 15 assorted pint boxes, the net weight being 10 pounds to the crate.

Blackberries also came over from the south in good supply, with a similar weight and price as rasp.

EGG MARKET IS NOW STEADY

Market for eggs is now steady along the street with some supplies again being shipped to outside points. No change in prices announced on the street during the day.

CHICKENS AGAIN LOWERED

Price of chickens is again down about 2c a pound generally along the street. Sales are showing no higher than 14c a pair for heavy hens, with some of the lighter weights quoted around 14c. Springs remain slow.

CANTALOUPE ARE LOWER

Cantaloupe prices are down again here with quite few stocks offering from the south. Sales are showing no higher than 14c a crate, 15c a crate. Quality of last arrivals quite good.

NEW PEACHES ARE OFFERED

New variety of peaches known as the "Bird King" is being offered from southern California. Mark Lox & Co. received the first shipment. The stock resembles the Liberty peach. Other peaches are offering as usual at $1.50 a box.

BUTTER SITUATION IS GOOD

Situation in the butter trade remains very good here, as well as elsewhere about the coast. Prices are being maintained generally on all offerings of creamery and dairy. These trades are steady.

BRIEF NOTES OF THE TRADE

Country killed hams very slow. Some small lots. New potatoes again scarce, but unchanged in price. Wheat market reported quiet in the east. Offerings of cotton bolls increasing. Market steady. Beans and peas are firm at 16c a bushel. New California apples offering at $2.50 per box.

SHIPPERS' WEATHER NOTICE

Weather bureau advises: Frontal squalls during the next 24 hours as far north as Seattle. Light showers in the afternoon. A cold front will move from Spokane 12 degrees southward to Boise 7 degrees south to Astoria 4 degrees. High temperature at Portland tomorrow 61 to 64 degrees.

World's Wheat Has Much Weaker Tone

Liverpool Sharply Lower for Offerings—Millers Continue to Buy Bluestem.

WORLD'S STOCKS

Chicago, June 10.—(U. P. S.)—Wheat on June 10 was estimated at $14.00 per bushel, the greatest on record for this season.

While bluestem wheat bids for June delivery were unchanged for the day on the Portland market, the quality of the wheat was excellent and the stimulated buying.

There was a weaker tone generally in the wheat trade at leading world centers for the day and the market was generally lower. The early trading was generally at fractional price losses from yesterday and abroad a similar picture was shown.

Locally the market is confined principally to the purchases at interior points of bluestem wheat who are again buying with milling in anticipation of a very short supply of this variety during the coming season.

Bluestem wheat is being sold at $1.25 to $1.30 per bushel, with the wheat crop market was weak, 4c to 5c lower than yesterday.

Liverpool spot wheat dull and in demand with prices of wheat unchanged. Winter 4 1/2 and Manitoba 5 1/2 per bushel. American strength was offered in continued offers and predictions of large world shipments this week to United Kingdom. It is still contended that American and Canadian crops will not be off to possible damage to new crops. Holdings in exporting countries are very large and there is some apprehension that the market will be long holding near the top of the week, but an unusually heavy volume of trading ensued during the first hour. Opening prices were fractional under and subsequent losses of about 1 cent were registered before the recovery movement set in. Short covering helped in the latter part of the day.

Corn was active, with bids moderately rising in the early transactions. Prices for wheat and grain are higher. Merchants exchange June prices.

Wheat Situation in Good

Situation in the wheat trade remains very good here, as well as elsewhere about the coast. Prices are being maintained generally on all offerings of creamery and dairy. These trades are steady.

Wool Embargo May Be Removed, Mills Have Requirements

English Institutions Unable to Take Care of Colony Supplies—In Meantime Embargo Forces Advance in United States.

By Hyman H. Cohen.

There is a very strong possibility that the present embargo placed by Great Britain against the shipment of wool from its colonies to the United States will not continue for an extended period.

While no official word is heard regarding such a move, even the suggestion made that the wool of the British empire and the ability of the mills here to take care of it, leads to the conclusion that Australia and New Zealand wool will soon be released to manufacturers of this country.

The fact remains that it has already been proven that English institutions are unable to take care of all colony wool offerings, and this is expected to soon call for request from the wool growers that they be allowed to sell their wool elsewhere.

In the meantime the embargo is having a strong effect on the wool trade and market prices all over the United States. At Boston, Philadelphia and Chicago higher prices were again announced for the week.

Weak Cables a Reason for Loss

Chicago, June 10.—(U. P. S.)—Weakness in the cables surprised the wheat trade at the opening of the day today. Also, many favorable crop reports had a tendency to depress prices. The foreign situation uncertain and heavy long holding near the top of the week, but an unusually heavy volume of trading ensued during the first hour. Opening prices were fractional under and subsequent losses of about 1 cent were registered before the recovery movement set in. Short covering helped in the latter part of the day.

California Apples in Good Condition

First Fruits in California's War Against Oregon Fruits Being Gathered by Southern Interests—Officials Are Lenient.

PORTLAND LIVESTOCK RUN.

June 10.—(U. P. S.)—The livestock market here today was quiet and uneventful. There was a slight decline in prices for hogs and cattle, but sheep remained steady. The market was generally lower than yesterday.

California Apples in Good Condition

The fruits of California's threat against Oregon apples sent to that market are already being gathered.

New crop apples from the south are arriving, and quite fair stocks have already been offered to the Oregon market. Local inspection officials have already made it plain that if California proposes to discriminate against Oregon apples, the latter will also be taken against the southern supplies, of which a large part always arrives in the Oregon market.

First new crop California apples have already been received here, but local officials do not seem to be prepared to pass anything that does not comply with the Oregon laws.

It is quite likely, according to state officials, that California will not be allowed to export to the local market, unless the package fully conform to the Oregon standard of quality. Some shipments have been allowed to sell here, because local officials are being rather lenient.

HUGHES ACCEPTS NOMINATION, ATTACKS POLICY IN MEXICO

stant tolerate any division of allegiance.

I believe in making prompt provision to assure absolutely our national security. I believe in preparedness, not only entirely adequate for our defense with respect to numbers of men, but also in the most efficient manner, but with all thoroughness to the end that in each branch of the service there may be the utmost efficiency and the most competent administrative heads.

No Danger of Militarism.

We are devoted to the ideals of honorable peace. We wish to promote all wise and practical measures for the just settlement of international disputes. We are not in favor of militarism, but there is no danger of militarism in this country. We have no policies of aggression; no lust for territory, no zeal for strife. It is in this spirit that we demand adequate preparation for our defense and we condemn those who neglect that has been shown in this matter of first national importance.

We must have the strength which self-respect demands for every emergency.

Severe Test After the War.

"Our preparation must be industrial and economical as well. Our severest test will come after the war is over. We must take a fair and wise adjustment of our resources according to sound principles to secure our economic independence and maintain American standards of living. We must counter the best interests of labor, realize the interests of the farmer, and conserve strength must be rooted in even handed justice. Preventing, as we must, unjust discrimination and monopolistic practices, we must still be zealous to secure the foundation of our national independence. Particularly should we seek the expansion of foreign trade.

Must Not Throttle Enterprise.

We must not throttle enterprise, but we must regulate it so that it will take pride in honorable achievement. We must take up the serious problem of transportation of interstate and foreign commerce in a sensible and candid manner, and provide an enduring basis for prosperity by the intelligent use of the constitutional powers conferred upon us by the people to protect the public on the one hand, and on the other, to conserve the essential instrumentalities of progress.

I am glad to accept this nomination for the office of United States Senator, and I accept it with the full realization of the great responsibilities which will be placed upon me.

I have resigned my judicial office, and I am ready to devote myself unreservedly to the service of my country.

—CHARLES R. HUGHES.
