CHILDREN'S DAY TO BE OBSERVED IN A BEFITTING MANNER

Most of Sabbath Schools of the Land Will Hold Programs Tomorrow.

TO ASSIST THE MISSIONS

Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America Asks Financial Aid for War Victims.

Tomorrow is "Children's Day" in most of the Sabbath schools in the land and it will be the biggest duy of the year in the hearts of many of the little folks. It is in fact graduation day in the Sunday school. Many will pass from the beginners' class to the "big room" and thus have one of their youthful ambitions fulfilled. while others in the advanced classes will be presented with diplomas. Bibles or religious books from the superintendent showing that their work and attendance during the past year has deserved a remembrance. Special exercises will be held in exercises will contain a missionary strain as the offering on this day goes toward the mission fund. The federal council of the Churches of Christ in America with headquarters in New York have sent out a request asking the Sunday schools of the land to give their offerings tomorrow to the war relief funds to help save the children of Europe from disease, starvation and death.

Pleas Is Submitted. Dr. Charles S. MacFarland, general secretary of the federal council, says in part: Children's Sunday comes in June. What more fitting disposition could the children of America make of their offering than to send it to their little brothers and sisters of Armenia, Albania, Belgium and Poland? The plight of the innocent children in these and other lands should be described to the children here.

"Do you realize," he added, "that he children in those stricken lands are hungry and half naked and cold; that the fifthy rags in which they are clad are in that condition because their homes and means of cleanlines. have been destroyed; that this and the lack of food exposes them to disease and death, that children, pitifully thin little girls and boys, are dying by the thousand in hovels, beneath hedges, on mountainsides, huddled in the ruins of once beautiful homes? All their homes were beautiful once-because they were homes. No stronger foundation could be laid for peace among the maturing generation in all lands than for American children to save the lives of the suffering children of all na-

WHAT WHITSUNTIDE MEANS

By Chaplain Frederic K. Howard, Good Samaritan Hospital. The season of the Christian year known as Whitsuntide reminds Christians that "we are members one of another" in the family of God. It also emphasizes the gift of the spirit which God gave to the first Christians to enable them to live in unity. St. Paul urges on all Christians the duty of "endeavoring to keep > the unity of the spirit." The catholic ideal of universal unity has been shattered into the segments of what was once a circle of men of one heart and soul. Whatever justification there may have been in former ages for sectarian divisions, they

The whole trend of Christian thought and desire is toward unity. Not by diverse labels or different associations, but by incompatible spirits are the disciples of Christ kept apart. So long as we are sectarian in our feeling and thinking, just so long will our unhappy divisions continue to disgrace the Christian world. When we become universal in our inner life, the catholic spirit will build again the city that is at unity with itself. When we encourage the catholic spirit of inclusiveness and discourage the sectarian spirit of exclusiveness, we begin to show to the world the religion of all humanity and the whole man; a religion unincumbered and unentangled with contingent and perishable values, free as an arrow in its flight straight home to the universal conscience of humanity.
