Mexican Affairs Trade Influence

New York, June 19.—(U. S. N.)—The acute Mexican situation developed unexpected late tendencies in the opening of the stock exchange today. This condition encouraged professional operators against the market, which apparently was in a good way to stand raising.

All Strawberries Are Scarce and High in the Wholesale Trade but Clarks From the Home Territory Are Going Elsewhere.

Wheat berries are showing a further advance in price along the wholesale way. For selected country berries are selling at 25¢ a bushel and first at 22¢.

Late Market Here Does Better Than Early Trading and Advance of 10 to 15c Over Saturday Is Made in the Swine Division.

Wilmington valley wool growers are holding back their fleeces because their price values are somewhat higher than bidders will give to.

Weakness of an intense nature was shown in foreign wheat markets for the day, and lower prices were generally forced, but in Chicago there was an early showing of strength, with fractions price advances in options.

While there were greater offerings of strawberries on both the east side farmers' market and on the wholesale market during the week, the market was generally quiet.

In fact, the reputation of the present quality of the current receipts is now so poor in the market that few of the local buyers are willing to take a chance and most of them are quoted prices because the selling basis of cracks and rots eliminated.

During the late trading there were higher prices for hogs and cattle. Sales of hogs were made at $8.20, $8.25, or 10¢ to 15¢ over last Saturday, while steers sold as high as $1.25 for selected stuff.

This week a second attempt will be made to sell the pool at Silverton. The first one about 10 days ago failed because of a failure to get a sufficient number of buyers.

There is more or less pressure among valley wool men. All sorts of prices are being offered for similar quality wools and on several occasions growers have come to the conclusion that a combination exists among the buyers.

As far as canning berries are concerned, the offerings to date this season have been nominal with local buyers and other Columbia river sections, which produce the bulk of the berries for this market, shipping their produce to eastern and western markets.

Outside markets continue to show liberal strength for quality eggs, with prices well maintained.

General cattle market range: Choice heavy calves, $6.00 to $6.25; ordinary heavy calves, $5.50 to $5.75; choice light calves, $5.00 to $5.25; ordinary light calves, $4.50 to $4.75.

There is nothing at all doing in the home trade. Even milling interests are seemingly no longer interested in the market, although here and there the opinion that the bear hold is being taken by parties from their own warehouses.

There is more now crop hay are still a failure. Growers are showing no disposition to weaken from their previous high price view and buyers are disposed to await a more favorable opportunity to take hold.

WALL STREET REVIEW

New York, June 19.—(U. S. N.)—The New York Evening Sun's financial review says: Wall street discussed the Mexican situation for the first time in its history, and developments over Sunday, including President Wilson's proclamation, mobilizing the National Guard, and the suspension of trade for service along the southern border, influenced a lower opening on the stock exchange.

PORTLAND LIVESTOCK REPORT

Monday, June 19, 1916. Cattle, Calves, Sheep, Hogs, Poultry. Market closed steady. Hogs - $8.25, Steers - $1.25, Cattle - $6.00, Sheep - $4.50.

Chicago Wheat Is Higher at Start

Chicago, June 19.—(U. S. N.)—July wheat was up 1/4¢, September 1/2¢ and December 1/2¢ when trading commenced in the grain pit today. The advice was considered more correct than the one of short covering.

Weakness of an Intense Nature

Weakness of an intense nature was shown in foreign wheat markets for the day, and lower prices were generally forced, but in Chicago there was an early showing of strength, with fractions price advances in options.

BEAN PRICES ARE HIGHER

Great strength is shown in the market for beans generally and practically all varieties are showing advances. The principal strength is in large and small whites and in limas, which are showing the greatest advances.

FIRST PEARS ARE OFFERED

There seems to be a race these days between wholesale fruit dealers and growers to secure the first offerings of various fruits.

ONIONS FIRM AND HIGHER

At $1 a cental the market here for new crop red onions is very firm and higher than last week. The market is now asking $2.50 a cental there, which with the cost of delivery here makes the local price a little lower for real profit.

SUGAR STRENGTH IS ACUTE

While the market for sugar is very firm and high all the world over, the market here for the fruit crops of the coast have had a tendency during recent days to keep the market here from becoming overdone.

APRASPAGUS IS HARD TO SELL

Because of the long extended season there is very little demand for apraspagus in the local market at this time. Quite liberal offerings are shown, but the market here is being quoted at 75¢ a pound and show at that price.

POTCATOES ALONG THE COAST
