

TAN OAK FROM ROGUE RIVER DISTRICT WILL BE PLACED ON MARKET

Roderick Macleay of Portland Will Devote 17,000 Acres to a New Industry There.

LOGS FORMERLY WASTED

Marshfield, Or., June 19.—A new timber industry is to be developed on the Rogue river in Curry county, which will result in tan oak being put on the market.

Roderick Macleay of Portland, president of the Macleay Estate company, which owns 17,000 acres of land along the Rogue river, is making arrangements to manufacture oak lumber. On the company's land there is a large amount of what is known as tan oak. It is the same tree from which tan bark is taken and which has been an industry of the locality for years past.

Bark Is Stripped. The tan bark is removed from the tree during three months of the year. The trees are chopped down and wasted in order to secure the tan bark.

The plan is now to manufacture lumber from the oak logs. When the trees are cut during the seasons of the year in which the bark is good that also will be saved as a by-product. Oak is now in great demand and the product used comes mostly from Japan. It is believed that the Curry county oak is just as good and that it probably can be brought into successful competition with the Japanese product.

Will Make Furniture.

Pieces of furniture have been made from the Curry county oak and the wood when properly handled and varnished is very attractive. A large sample order is now being furnished one of the buyers and if this proves satisfactory, as it is believed it will, the industry will be started.

The oak timber is peculiar to the Rogue river district, but there are large amounts of it on the Macleay property. Much of this timber is lo-

Large wooden pipes have been purchased and an attempt will be made to float the logs by attaching each one to a wooden pipe which is sealed at each end. If this plan is practical the logs will be brought down the river to Wedderburn, where the Macleay company has a large saw mill.

Whatever plan is followed the manufacture of the oak lumber will be carried on and the industry will be an entirely new one for Oregon.

King's Son May Have Taken Part in Battle

Prince Albert, London Paper Says, Is Understood to Have Seen With His Ship as Substitute Lieutenant.

London, June 19.—(I. N. S.)—The Daily Mail says:

"We understand that Prince Albert, the king's second son, took part as a substitute lieutenant on his ship in the recent naval battle off Jutland. The prince is 20 years old, joined the royal navy as a midshipman in 1915 and has proved a keen sailor. In September, 1914, he underwent an operation for appendicitis. His slow recovery caused him great disappointment, for he was most anxious to resume his naval duties. Recently he was able to rejoin his ship and on May 15 he was promoted from acting substitute lieutenant to substitute lieutenant."

Roosevelt's Physical Condition Is Better

Oyster Bay, N. Y., June 19.—(I. N. S.)—Colonel Roosevelt spent a quiet Sunday playing with his grandchildren.

A previous dispatch had reported that the militia had been ordered out for service on the border, but refused to comment on the situation. Mr. Roosevelt also refused to comment on rumors that he would accept a place in the Hughes cabinet or become a candidate for the United States senate.

Uruguayan Government Sends Staunch Fishing Craft to Rescue Men on Elephant Island—Shackleton With Ship.

S.)—The ship sent by the Uruguayan government for the relief of Shackleton's men on Elephant Island left here Saturday at 4 p. m., reads a dispatch to the Times from Port Stanley, chief port of the Falkland islands. "The weather was calm. The rigging of the trawler was festooned with the carcasses of sheep."

A previous dispatch had reported that lieutenant Shackleton would go with the ship, which is a staunch fishing craft built to weather hard storms and combat ice floes.

Governor Declares Soldiers Should Be Assured Their Jobs

Salem, Or., June 19.—Governor Withycombe expressed gratification this morning at reports coming in concerning the mobilization of the National Guard and said that everything seemed to be moving satisfactorily.

"I believe the Oregon troops will make a record for getting ready quickly and efficiently," said the governor.

The governor said he understood that a considerable number of new men were needed to bring the companies up to war strength and that recruiting was progressing satisfactorily.

"In this connection there is one important matter which should be placed squarely before the attention of every Oregon employer," said the governor. "The boys who enlist and give up their positions should be assured of getting them back when they come home. Not only that, but where needs be, I think that employers would do well to help out the families of enlisted men who might need such help. The least that those who do not go can do for those who do go is to assure them that their jobs will be open when they return."

The governor praised the spirit shown in Salem, where 10 recruits enlisted within 10 minutes.

More Opium Discovered.

Custom inspectors made an unusual find in Chinatown yesterday. While making a diagram, to be used in court July 12 in the prosecution of Louis Said, 99 North Fourth street, another haul of opium was made. This haul, consisting of 21 cards valued at 50 cents each, was cached in the bottom of an old brown jug. The bottom came out when two springs were released. The original cache found there was secreted beneath the sill of a door.

RUSSIANS ADVANCED 16 MILES IN 3 DAYS THROUGH AUSTRIANS

Now 44 Miles East of Lemberg; Surrender of Czernowitz Expected.

Petrograd, June 19.—(I. N. S.)—The Russians today were 44 miles east of Lemberg, according to advices from the front. They have advanced 16 miles in three days.

An official statement issued from the war office today indicates that the capture of Czernowitz, capital of Bukovina, is but a matter of hours. Despite unofficial reports during the last week of its evacuation by the Austrians, it is now known that the enemy garrison without all attacks until Sunday, the Austrians now being in flight through the passes of the Carpathians, pursued by the swiftly moving Russians.

The capture of Czernowitz gives several important railway lines into the hands of the czar. Both sides are said to have suffered heavily in the fighting.

"Gigantic Bluff" Says Teutons.

Amsterdam, June 19.—(I. N. S.)—(Via London).—The Koelnische Zeitung, commenting on the Russian advance, says:

"We are confronted with one of the Russian bluffing tactics. Their number will soon be countless—to retrieve the persistently anti-Russian fortune of war, to invade the Austro-Hungarian monarchy and restore throughout the world shattered confidence in Russian might."

"But only a gigantic and overwhelming success could attain these objects, not a passing and partial advantage. However carefully the Russian advance is bolstered up by deception and grotesque figures, the very manner in which the Russian reports inflate these partial successes show that the undertaking is merely a desperate attempt to raise once more the spirits of the entente allies and effect what neither England, France nor Italy has been able to accomplish. What has not been accomplished by military means will not be accomplished by a gigantic bluff."

Russian Progress Admitted.

Berlin, via London, June 19.—(U. P.)—Admission that the Russians in their offensive opposite the railroad center of Kovel are making progress is made in the official statement of the war office today. The statement declares General Linsingen's forces defending this portion of the line have only "partly repulsed" the Russian attack.

Portland Party Is Thrown From Auto

Car Driven by Fred Gray Leaves Road on Grade—Driver Has Two Broken Ribs—Others Escape.

Albany, Or., June 19.—P. H. Drexler was seriously injured and may die, his wife was hurt and the head, A. L. Thomas was bruised and his wife and sister were slightly injured Sunday afternoon about 5 o'clock when the automobile in which they were riding ran off of a bridge and upset in a ditch seven feet below, near Granger, five miles west of this city. All live in Independence, where Drexler is a retired merchant and Thomas a hardware merchant.

At Eddyville, 64 miles west of Albany, on the Corvallis & Eastern branch, an automobile driven by Fred Gray and containing another man and woman and two little girls, all of Portland, left the road as they were going up a hill and rolled down 30 feet below, being saved from plunging into the Yaqueima river by landing against a tree. All were thrown out except Gray, who sustained a fractured rib and other bruises. None of the others was hurt.

Laredo, Texas, June 19.—(I. N. S.)—National feeling here today was at fever heat, and chances of an outbreak between American and Mexican residents were considered strong. In preparation for possible trouble, more than 100 Mexicans have been deported within the last 24 hours.

Portland Gains Much Publicity Through Festival

That the 1916 Rose Festival was advertised as never before is shown by a batch of newspaper clippings from 35 different papers scattered all over the country that reached Manager McDowell's office this morning. This is the largest number yet to be received in one mail. Most of the articles were wire stories dealing with the opening of the festa sent out by the United Press and Associated Press.

Oregon City Wakes Up.

Oregon City, Or., June 19.—Not since the Spanish-American war has the "war fever" swept Oregon City as it has done since the receipt of the dispatch to mobilize and move company "G" of the militia to Clackamas. For months an effort has been made to recruit the company, which has faded away in numbers, to 40 members. Without success Monday morning men came in bunches to recruit and the officers of the company were kept busy examining the applicants.

At 10 o'clock this morning the company had grown from 40 to 84 members and more were waiting to be examined. Captain I. E. Blanchard expects to move his company to Clackamas sometime during the afternoon. All is in readiness with the exception of completing the work of recruiting the men who are now anxious to join the company.

The mobilization will seriously affect many lines of work. Harry Worcester, superintendent of the county's paving plant, is a member of the company and it is quite probable that the work contemplated by the county, of hard surface roads, will be delayed due to his absence.

The mills will lose a number of their men and the mill men who belong to the company in almost every instance are members of the skilled labor which requires years to become efficient.

PARKER'S MISSION IN MEXICO COMPLETED IS WHY HE WITHDREW

Commander Was Under Orders to Capture or Disperse Bandits and He Did.

San Antonio, Texas, June 19.—(U. P.)—A disposition to criticize General Parker, commanding at Brownsville for withdrawing the column sent into Mexico from there Saturday morning, was checked by General Funston today.

The latter stated that Parker has been instructed to withdraw when he has accomplished the object of invasion—the dispersing or capture of the bandits—or when he found accomplishment impossible. He said that Parker had accomplished his object. The withdrawal of the expedition, comprising several hundred men, took place yesterday. Armed men, described by Parker as "bandits" fired on the retreating column. A minor rear guard exchange resulted, in which one Mexican was killed and two wounded. No Americans were hit.

Major Anderson, commanding the expedition was ordered back to the American side after Parker had exchanged notes with General Ricault, Matamoros commandant, through Mexican Consul Garza. Ricault informed Parker that unless the expedition, which he regarded as an "invading force," was withdrawn, it would be attacked. Parker replied that the beligerent attitude of the Mexican commandant was the best guarantee of continuation of the expedition's presence in Mexico, and that if attacked, the American troops would stay.

Ricault's attitude was much milder on receipt of Parker's reply and he began withdrawing Carranza troops from the route the Americans would travel on their way out. When this was completed Parker sent word to Anderson to withdraw.

It is feared, too, that the early termination of the chase would have a salutary effect on future bandit raids.
