M'CRAKEN BRINGS SUIT FOR DIVORCE; CRUELTY IS ALLEGED

Action Filed Today Is the Climax of Many Domestic Troubles.

CHARGES ARE RELATED

Suit Will Meet Strong Opposition From Mrs. McCraken, It Is Predicted; Civil Suits Factors.

The domestic troubles of Mr. and Mrs. Peter B. McCraken, which for some time have been before the courts of Multnomah county in various suits, led to the divorce court today when McCraken filed suit asking for a divorce from his wife, Mrs. Emma McCraken.

Married in California on April 7, 1913, the McCrakens lived together until January 31, 1915, when, McCraken alleges in his complaint, his wife ordered him to leave the apartment in which they were living in San Francisco and since then has refused to live with him. He alleges desertion as a second cause for divorce.

The first cause alleged is that of cruelty. The complaint says:

"The defendant made continual and almost daily use of insulting, nagging and scolding language toward plaintiff without any reasonable cause therefor.

"On or about the 24th day of January, 1915, the defendant without reasonable cause brought to a culmination said continual attacks on plaintiff's good nature by using in the presence of certain mutual friends of plaintiff and defendant opprobrious, profane and obscene epithets directed toward plaintiff."

The final separation of the McCrakens occurred after a party at their apartment. It is expected that the suit for divorce will be strongly opposed. Last week Mrs. McCraken won a suit against her husband's father, James R. McCraken, to collect $300 under an agreement made by the elder McCraken to contribute to her support as long as his son was in his employ. She also has a suit pending against her husband to collect a $10,000 note and $2500, she alleges, she advanced him after their marriage.

COLD SPELL IS REVIVED

General Electric Company to Pay for Snow Damage.

The General Electric company will have to pay W. P. Sinnott for damages done by throwing snow on the roof of his house near Fifteenth and Marshall streets last January and February, so decided Circuit Judge Morrow today. The amount will be $22.25. In addition to that, the company will have to pay $2.50 for the removal of rubbish placed on Sinnott's property without his consent.

The company owns a four story warehouse at the corner of Fifteenth and Marshall streets, and last winter shoveled snow from the roof onto Sinnott's house.

The case was first tried in the district court, where the court costs amounted to more than the sum involved in the suit. The decision was for the plaintiff, and the electric company appealed, losing again in the circuit court. It is probable that the case will be carried to the state supreme court.

MISSING HEIR IS SOUGHT

Sheriff Asked to Help Find Joseph Phillips.

A world wide search is being made for Joseph Phillips, who is wanted at Auckland, New Zealand, as the heir of a considerable estate left by his father.

Sheriff Hurlburt is in receipt of a letter of inquiry from Endean & Holloway, barristers of Auckland. They state that Phillips left Auckland for San Francisco 28 years ago and that in the fall of 1894 he was a prisoner in the county jail at Portland, serving six months for larceny. He is about 52 years old.

Judge to Go to Kalamath.

Judge W. N. Davis of department four of the circuit court, will leave about the middle of July for Klamath county, where he will hear a number of cases for Circuit Judge Kuykendall. While in the southern portion of the state, Judge Davis also will view the Jackson county road work which has been the subject of long litigation in connection with the suit brought by J. W. Sweeney, contractor, against Jackson county.

CHAMBER COUNCIL ON RECORD AS FAVORING OPEN SHOP SYSTEM

Directors' Action Disapproving Longshoremen's Strike Indorsed at Meeting.

The meeting of the members council of the Chamber of Commerce yesterday afternoon approximated an "open shop" demonstration. On motion of D. A. Pattullo a vote supporting the resolution of the board of directors, disapproving the longshoremen's strike and declaring for the open shop principle, was adopted.

George E. Hardy, executive secretary, explained why in the opinion of the directors, the conditions warranted the "declaration for industrial liberty." William F. Woodward asserted that when the Woodard-Clark building was under construction and his firm had trouble with the unions, one of the union leaders said to him, "You don't want another Los Angeles blowup at your place, do you?"

W. D. B. Dodson, secretary of the trade and commerce bureau of the chamber, said that longshoremen here have been getting more than at any competitive port, the rate for handling general cargo being 55 cents an hour in Portland compared with 75 cents in Seattle and 50 cents in San Francisco; while the rate for overtime has been in Portland 82½ cents for coast and $1 for offshore trade, as compared with 55 cents in Seattle and 75 cents in San Francisco. While union men claimed the longshoremen were of greater efficiency in Portland, Dodson said there was conclusive evidence that men paid less in other ports did more work.

Witnesses Testify to Theft of Grain Bags

Isaac Davis Is on Trial on Charge of Having Received Stolen Property; Witnesses Under Indictment.

Isaac Davis is on trial today before Judge McGinn on a charge of receiving stolen property, the property being 3000 grain bags taken from the Crown Mills by J. W. World, who was foreman of the Crown Mills warehouse, and A. D. McQuisten, an employe of the mills.

Both World and McQuesten, who are under indictment for the larceny of the bags, testified today to having stolen the bags and of selling them to Davis.

World testified he told Davis he had no authority to sell the bags, but was persuaded by Davis and his own financial needs, to take the sacks and deliver them to Davis for six cents a piece when the market price was 10 cents each.

The case is being prosecuted by Deputy District Attorneys Collier and Hindman, while Attorney Morris Goldstein is defending Davis.

Four Attacked by Striking Deckhands

Police Arrest Men Suspected of Assaulting Nonunion Men Early This Morning.

While going to their rooms from the steamer "Twin Cities" shortly before 2 o'clock this morning, R. J. Mayer, C. L. Layman, W. M. Francisco and William Jones were attacked by a number of striking deck hands at Fifth and Taylor streets, and Mayer was badly beaten.

Shortly after the battle Harry Lewis, 84 North Fifth street, appeared at police headquarters, told of the fight, and said he had followed some of the assailants to the north end. Patrolman Converse was detailed to accompany him, and at Second and Davis streets Joseph Kelly was arrested. Herbert Fletcher was arrested by a deputy sheriff at the scene of the trouble. The two men were later identified at police headquarters by several witnesses, including the men attacked.

Kelly and Fletcher are charged with inciting to riot and will receive hearings before Municipal Judge Langguth this afternoon.

ADVOCATE OF BIRTH CONTROL MOVEMENT MAY ANSWER CHARGE

Three Arrests Last Night on Charge of Distributing Obscene Literature.

Mrs. Margaret E. Sanger, head of the so-called "Birth Control" movement, and a speaker of national repute, will probably be tried in the municipal court June 30 on a charge of distributing obscene literature.

Attorney C. E. S. Wood appeared in behalf of Mrs. Sanger's three agents in the municipal court this morning and made the request that Mrs. Sanger be allowed to answer the charges herself, inasmuch as she was responsible for the men selling them.

Ralph Chervin, 37 years old, Carl Rave, 39 years, and E. L. Jenkins, 35 years, were arrested at the Heilig theatre by Lieutenant Harms and Patrolmen Martin and Schum last night while selling the booklet, "Family Limitation."

Colonel Wood also requested that the books seized by the police be returned to Mrs. Sanger, but Deputy City Attorney F. W. Stadter asked to be given until 2 o'clock this afternoon so he could see whether anything in the municipal ordinance would allow the police to return them.

The long continuance was granted because Mrs. Sanger, who was in court, said through Colonel Wood that she had other engagements to speak through the northwest that necessitated her leaving the city today. She will be back in Portland June 30.

Mrs. Sanger and a large number of others interested in her work were in court. Dr. Marie Equi, who championed the cause of the three men arrested last night, securing bail for them, was with Mrs. Sanger.

RUSSIAN STRATEGISTS APPARENTLY OUTWIT AUSTRO-HUNGARIANS

Present Offensive Not Only Stops Drive Into Italy But Drive to Black Sea.

Petrograd, June 20.—(U. P.)—Russian troops have occupied the villages of Zadov, Zroginets and Glibonka, war office announced tonight.

By William Philip Simms.

Petrograd, June 20.—(U. P.)—Eighty thousand Austrian troops, retreating from the region of Czernowitz, have been cornered in Bukovina by the lightning drive of the Russian left wing. The Russians are pressing the pursuit with the utmost vigor. A large part of the Austrian force in all probability will be cut off and surrounded. The others face alternative of retreating through the Carpathian passes, abandoning their guns, or crossing into Roumania.

General Pflanzer, commanding the Austrians around Czernowitz, is retreating southward in the direction of the Sereth river with his beaten forces. How many Austrians escaped westward, planning later to join Bothmer's army, is not yet known.

Practically the whole Russian front north of Czernowitz is steadily pressing in upon Lemberg. It is reported that measures have already been taken for the evacuation of the Galician capital. Russian troops pressing down upon Brody in the advance upon Lemberg may already have crossed the Galician frontier.

That the Russian offensive not only arrested the Austrian drive southward into Italy, but frustrated an ambitious scheme of the Austro-German staffs for the conquest of southern Russia was indicated by Bucharest dispatches today. These reports said it had been learned from German sources that an Austro-German thrust across southern Russia to the Black sea was to follow the Austrian offensive in Italy, the plan being to cut Russia off entirely from the Balkan states. If this report is true, the Russian strategists outwitted the enemy.

Wilhelmina Sends Milk.

Amsterdam, June 20.—(I. N. S.)—(Via London) — Vienna advices state that Queen Wilhelmina of Holland sent several carloads of condensed milk as a gift to the women and children of Vienna in response to an imploring telegram from the burgomaster's wife.

Demonstrations protesting against the food prices continue to take place daily in Amsterdam. The Danish government is about to prohibit the exportation of sea fish beginning today.

Student Returns; Wins High Honors

Harold C. Bean, Son of Federal Judge, Graduate of Medical Department of Johns Hopkins.

Harold C. Bean, son of Federal Judge Bean, has returned home from Baltimore. He has been a student in the medical department of Johns Hopkins university during the past three years, and was graduated therefrom June 15, having taken his first year in medicine in the medical department of the University of Oregon in Portland.

His class standing was such that he was appointed by the faculty of Johns Hopkins to one of the four positions in the university hospital that are awarded to members of the graduating class having the highest class standing.

Dr. Bean is a graduate of the University of Oregon and a member of the Sigma Nu fraternity. He will visit his parents during the summer, returning to Baltimore in the fall.

Summer Normal Opens.

Monmouth, Or., June 20.—Summer term of the Oregon Normal school opened Monday with a registration of 670 students. This morning 64 more enrolled, making total of 734. President Ackerman predicts that before the summer term is over, July 28, close to 800 will be enrolled. The new $50,000 training school building has been fixed for accommodation of 100 girls. The girls' dormitory accommodates 100, but now is taxed with 120.

Keys to Armory to Be Left in Care of Mayor of the City

War department regulations prescribe that when the militia leaves its station the keys of the Armory shall be turned over to the mayor of the city by the commanding officer.

If it happens that the entire Oregon National Guard stationed in Portland is called out the local Armory will be left in the hands of a suitable caretaker and the keys turned over to the mayor.

From Woodburn came frantic calls to the adjutant-general's office this morning.

"Whom shall we give the keys of the Armory to?" was asked.

"The mayor."

"But he has enlisted in the company," came the reply.

ARMORY RESOUNDS WITH ACTIVITIES OF ASSEMBLING TROOPS

Sounds of Hoarse Commands Mingle With Tramp of Guardsmen.

Making ready for the first departure of troops this afternoon the Armory this morning echoed with the sound of hoarse commands, tramping feet and pounding gun-butts.

In the drill hall men in full marching equipment went through the manual of arms and such company drills as the space would permit.

In the corridors awkward squads under drill sergeants were being shown the how of it. Sentries paced the hall. Upstairs the Third infantry band held strenuous practice.

Company headquarters held open house for recruits and regimental headquarters in command of Captain Clarence L. Hotchkiss was the apex of the hive.

Visitors Throng Building.

Hundreds of visitors filed through the Armory during the course of the morning — relatives and friends, old soldiers and the curious.

In a room on the second floor Major M. B. Marcellus of the medical corps and his assistants examined recruits, five being admitted to the room at a time.

From the storerooms parts of uniforms were given out and boxes of supplies trucked to the main floor by perspiring workers.

The call was general through the Armory for cooks, and every effort is being made by the recruiting officers to get competent men in these important positions.

In the galleries practice was held in wigwagging in the signal service code.

The whole building was alive with activity, every room, every floor, every open space.

Men Kept Busy.

In company quarters men off duty for brief periods amused themselves the best they could. But most of them kept their hands employed, burnishing guns, fixing their kits, or rolling blankets.

The public telephone in the main corridor of the Armory were continuously in use. Kept in the building under strict orders the men employed spare moments to telephone their families or places of business.

Many guardsmen were torn away from their businesses yesterday morning and have been hard pressed to find substitutes or to give directions for the conduct of their affairs during their enforced absence.

But the Armory is not the only martial place in Portland. Even the streets indicate unusual conditions. The uniform is ever present. Squads of men under command of non-commissioned officers are to be seen marching to and from down town restaurants, where they are fed at the expense of the state, an individual allowance of 75 cents a day being made.

Portland is re-experiencing the scenes of 1898.

Information Filed By the Government

J. M. Craig of San Francisco Accused of Shipping Liquor to Oregon Improperly Marked.

A criminal information was filed in federal court this morning against J. M. Craig, president of F. Zimmerman & Co. of San Francisco by Assistant United States Attorney Beckman, alleging violation of the statute relating to the labeling of shipments of intoxicating liquor.

The statute makes it a misdemeanor to ship such liquor without the nature of the contents of the bottles being plainly set forth on the outside of the package. It is alleged that Craig's company shipped 19 cases, containing 24 bottles each, from San Francisco to Gardiner, Or. The bottles were labeled "beer" and contained whiskey, it is alleged.

The shipment was seized by the sheriff of Douglas county and by him turned over to the federal authorities. A libel was filed against it and it is now in possession of United States Marshal Montag in Portland. The maximum fine for the offense of which Craig is accuse dis $5000, with no jail penalty.

City Employes May Retain Their Places

Resolution Affecting Guardsmen to Be Introduced Before the Civil Service Board.

All city employes who are members of the Oregon National Guard will retain their positions on the civil service eligible list if the troops are called to the front under a resolution to be introduced before the civil service board meeting this week.

In all, there are about a dozen city employes under civil service who are members of the guard. City Health Officer Marcellus, who is also a major of the medical division, is not under civil service.

It is probable that the resolution will be unanimously adopted, and it will mean that all men who enlist will be given back their old positions on their return.

BUSINESS MEN WILL TALK TO PORTLAND, MAINE, BY TELEPHONE

Plans for Meeting at Chamber of Commerce Next Friday Night Made.

RESERVATIONS ARE ALL IN

Mayor Albee to Talk With the Mayor of Portland, Me., as Part of the Program Arranged.

Reservations had all been made today for the telephone meeting to feature the quarterly session of the Portland Chamber of Commerce. On that occasion, next Friday night, 400 Portland business men will listen to residents of Portland, Me. New York City will be on the line, also, for a few words.

Final reservations were made this morning and about half the members of the board of directors who had not made them will have to look on. District Manager W. J. Phillips, of the Pacific Telephone & Telegraph Co., was able to provide only 400 telephone instruments for the occasion and indications are that every one will be ably manned.

The program of the cross-country talk is for President C. C. Colt of the Chamber of Commerce to unhook the receiver and say: "Central, give me New York, in as casual a tone as if he were calling up the grocer to order a quart of vinegar. In a moment, the cheerful operator at Huntington will cut in and say: "I will connect you with Salt Lake City." Salt Lake City's long distance girl will plug in to another city farther east and so on until New York is reached. Then Portland, Me., will be cut in and the festivities will be on in earnest.

A. F. Thompson of New York, president of the telephone company, will exchange greetings with Mr. Phillips. N. G. Pike, president of the Portland Rotary club, will then talk to William Gettinger, president of the New York Rotary club. The rest of the 400 will be "listening in."

Mayor Albee will then talk to the mayor of Portland, Me., and President Colt with the president of the other Portland Chamber of Commerce.

Executive Secretary George E. Hardy of the Portland Chamber said this morning that the function will be "some party."

Secretary of War Baker cannot be hooked in on the conversation, because connections with Washington could not be made, Mr. Phillips announced today.

Jeweler Is Arrested, Fine Is Suspended

Henry M. Pickering Had Bought Goods Which Had Been Stolen; No Report Is Made to the Police.

Henry M. Pickering, manufacturing jeweler of the Oregonian building, was fined $10 and the fine was suspended in the municipal court this morning for violating the second hand store ordinance.

Pickering's arrest was made after Henry Bellamy, a man arrested Saturday by the detectives, confessed that he had robbed a home last Friday of considerable jewelry, and had sold the metal to Pickering.

The transaction was not properly reported to detective headquarters, as required by the ordinance, and Pickering's arrest followed. Pickering said he did not suspect that the jewelry had been stolen, and that he had received instructions from Captain of Detectives Baty and other city officials that he did not have to report all the purchases of valuable metals he made.

All cigarettes are pure, but—purity alone doesn't make a cigarette SENSIBLE.

We don't know of a single one of our competitors who doesn't make his cigarettes of pure tobacco.

But a pure cigarette that didn't taste just right wouldn't do for you, would it?

And to be really sensible a cigarette must give you more than purity and a good taste.

It must be cool and friendly to your throat and tongue. And it must leave you feeling fine after smoking all day.

Fatimas are not the only cigarette that measure up to all these requirements. There are other sensible ones.

But Fatimas seem to have a big margin in their favor on their good taste. Otherwise they could not outsell all other cigarettes costing over 5c.

You can't tell whether they will just suit your taste until you try them.

At the same time, you can easily prove how sensible they are by these two tests.

Most men who try Fatimas say "Good Bye!" to all other cigarettes right away. That's why Fatimas sell so fast.

Why don't you try Fatimas today?

TWO TESTS FOR ANY CIGARETTE

The taste of the cigarette—according to a leading tobacco journal—is up to the smoker. But there are other qualities that you should look for in the cigarette if you are going to stick to it for your steady smoke. Here are a couple of tests that may help the average smoker to choose more wisely between different kinds of cigarettes.

The first test is for coolness, which means more comfort to the throat and tongue. Light any cigarette. Draw in a cloud of smoke—a small, ordinary puff is not sufficient to make this test. Hold it in your mouth for a few seconds. Let it "float" around against your tongue and throat. Now blow out the smoke. If the cigarette contains a high grade of mild tobacco leaves, combined in just the right proportion, it will always feel COOL and smooth both to your throat and to your tongue.

On the other hand, if the proportions are not right and if the cigarette contains inferior grades of tobacco or hidden strands of rank, oily leaf, you will feel a nipping sting at the tip of your tongue or that "sandpaper" tickle in your throat.

Test number two—How do you feel after smoking all day?

If the tobaccos in the cigarette include a correct proportion of mild grades—and if all of the various grades have been properly mellowed by age—and if they have been so blended as to bring out the best qualities and to neutralize any unpleasant qualities in each of the different types of tobaccos, you will be able to smoke practically whenever you feel like it through the day without feeling any effect from it.

But with another cigarette in which the blend is less skillful, even though the tobaccos are of the highest grade, you will find along towards the end of the day that you are likely to have that feeling of having "smoked too much."

Clip out these tests and try them on Fatima
