

CHILDREN ENLIST IN NEW SOCIETY WHICH HAS PATRIOTIC AIMS

Thirty-Five Charter Members Expected to Come Into Organization.

PROGRAM IS RENDERED

Society Presented With Beautiful Silk Flag; President and Treasurer Are Appointed.

Mrs. John J. Reed and Mrs. William Ingold have been appointed president and treasurer, respectively, of a local society of children of the American Revolution...

The national society was founded in 1835 by Mrs. Daniel C. Lothrop, a member of the Daughters of the American Revolution...

It is expected that the society will have enrolled at least 35 charter members. Those already accepted are Virginia Pearson, Walter Pearson, Paul Workman, Esther Workman, Delight Ingold, Anne Ophelia Read, William Vines Ward, Virginia Ferris, John Markoe Ferris, Eleanor Scott, Gertrude Sharp, Dorothy Albaugh, Edward Becker, Dorothy Manville...

After 13 years of waiting for money alleged due him for drafting a charter for the town of St. Johns, Mark O'Neill, a Portland attorney, now wants the city to pay him $100...

In Europe the hydrogen gas which is a by-product of the manufacture of oxygen is utilized to harden oils for use in the soap industry.

gave the salute to the flag, and Anne Ophelia Read recited "Our Flag of Liberty" written by Mrs. Lothrop...

Mrs. J. B. Montgomery, first state regent of D. A. R. and founder of Multnomah chapter, addressed the children, giving an interesting account of the christening of her little grandson, Rufus Zagbaum Jr., who was on that occasion wrapped in a "homeward bound" pennant...

Mrs. Isaac Lee Patterson, state regent of D. A. R. in her address, gave many items of interest regarding Mrs. Daniel C. Lothrop, the founder of C. A. R., who was also the author of "Five Little Peppers"...

The address of Mrs. James R. Davis, regent of Multnomah chapter, was particularly appropriate, the keynote of which was patriotism and loyalty. Accident Is Sustained.

Mrs. Edward Alden Beals was prevented from being present owing to an accident which occurred to her while en route to the meeting, which was a great disappointment to all...

A Wilson-Marshall ratification meeting was held at Central library last night by the Jackson club. In his opening address Colonel R. A. Miller, president of the club, called attention to the higher question than mere partisanship...

American flags had been distributed to the members and they were enthusiastically waved throughout the entire meeting. Mrs. M. L. T. Hidden, legislative candidate, spoke on the necessity of making the suffrage plank of the Democratic party a state issue...

Laudatory remarks on the policies of the Wilson administration, were made by Colonel C. E. S. Wood, principal speaker of the evening. A strong plea for Americanism, neutrality, and divorce of government control from the hands of Wall street, was also made.

JACKSON CLUB HOLDS RATIFICATION MEETING FOR PARTY NOMINEES

President Wilson Lauded for Warless Tactics in Meeting International Problems.

THIRD MAN CONVICTED OF ATTEMPT TO BURN MILL OVER YEAR AGO

Charles McDaniels Is Found Guilty of Attempting to Commit Arson in Daytime.

Freewater Woman Hurt in Runaway

Mrs. Glazebrook Leaps From Rig When Horse Becomes Unmanageable and Falls on Rock Fracturing Her Skull.

This is the third conviction scored by the district attorney's office in connection with the attempt at arson at the shingle mills. The others convicted were Hugh Priest and Thomas Patterson, who are serving terms of five to 15 years in the penitentiary.

The penalty provided for the crime of arson in the daytime is from three to ten years in the penitentiary, while the crime is reduced by half, or one and a half to five years.

When one is fishing with a hook and line, even little fish, when caught, make a lively fuss about it, and so I did not notice just how small some of the fish were that I was catching.

Thus explained H. Clausenius, a Portland business man who lives at 575 East Thirty-first street, North, to District Judge Jones yesterday afternoon when he pleaded guilty to the charge of having in his possession fish under the legal limit in size, namely, six inches.

The minimum fine for such offenses is $25, but in this case about $10, the deputy game warden and Deputy District Attorney Ryan the court remitted $10, making the fine $15.

Forger Extradited To Protect Crown

Self-Styled "International Spy" Protests in London That British-American Treaty Violated in His Case.

London, June 20.—(U. P.)—Ignatius T. T. Lincoln, self styled "international spy," was extradited to England on a forgery charge at the urgent behest of the British admiralty so that he would not endanger the British crown.

Lincoln, conducting his own case in Bow Street police court today, brought the admission from two witnesses that they had been summoned to see admiralty officials, who prompted them to push proceedings against Lincoln.

At the end of the hearing, Lincoln pleaded guilty to two charges of forgery and was committed for trial. When he had shown that the admiralty was the real cause of his extradition, he protested vigorously, declaring the case could not proceed. He said it was a violation of the treaty between Great Britain and the United States.

Cannery Plant, North Plains, Burns

Destruction of Cannery Believed to Be Work of Fire Bugs; Plant Recently Leased by George W. Moore.

North Plains, Or., June 20.—Fire of incendiary origin destroyed the North Plains Cannery Saturday at midnight. The plant cost $500 had recently been turned over by the stockholders of the cannery association to George W. Moore, who had a two-year lease on the building and had made about $50 worth of improvements to the same with the intention of beginning operations at the cherry season.

The building, a 30x90 one-story frame, was erected five years ago, during the boom period of the town, by J. W. Sheppard of Portland, now dead, for furniture storage and was owned by his widow. The fire occurred at a time when nearly all the business men of the town were attending a meeting of the K. of P. lodge at Gaston. It is known if the cannery will be rebuilt or not.

"Saviour of Paris" Victim of Assassin

Reported That General Gallieni Died From Wounds Inflicted by French Army Officer Accused as Spy.

New York, June 20.—(U. P.)—That General Joseph Gallieni, the "Saviour of Paris," really died from wounds inflicted by a traitorous assassin and not from a natural illness, was the story brought here today by passengers on the steamer La Fayette.

Gallieni's alleged assassin was a French army officer brought to Paris from Verdun for trial on the charge of attempting to betray Verdun to the Germans.

Gustav Heslouin of the French war office, who was on the La Fayette, would neither confirm nor deny the story.

Vice Admiral Mayo Succeeds Fletcher

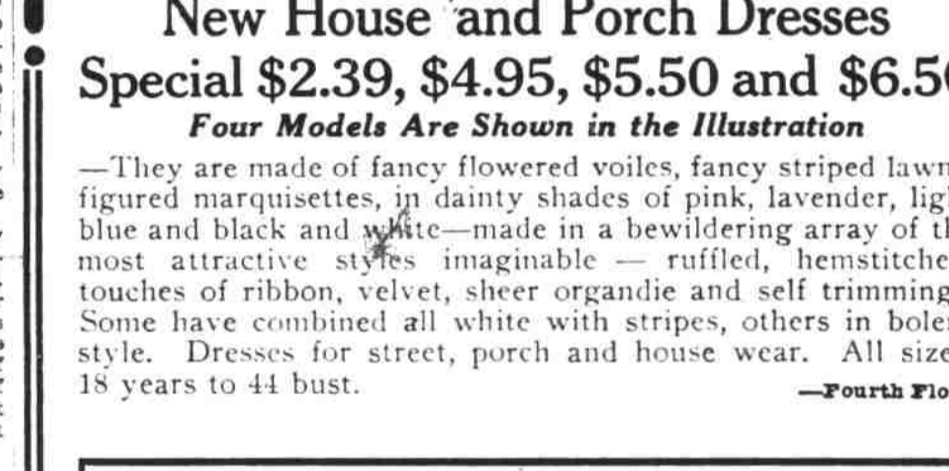

Transfer of Command of Atlantic Fleet Is Attended With Usual Ceremony; Coffman Commands First Division.

New York, June 20.—(U. P.)—Vice Admiral Henry T. Mayo, Sr. in command of the Atlantic fleet today, succeeding Admiral Frank F. Fletcher, who will go to Washington to become a member of the naval board. The ceremony was held at the navy yard here. The usual salutes and ceremonies marked the change, which took place on the deck of the Wyoming, flagship of the fleet. Rear Admiral Dewitt Coffman succeeds Admiral Mayo as vice admiral, commanding the first division.
