

VETERANS OF INDIAN WAR ASSEMBLE IN BIG ENCAMPMENT

Attendance of Members Was About One Hundred Up to Noon.

FINANCIAL REPORT GIVEN

Telegram From Senator Chamberlain Quits Hopes of Gaining Recognition for Veterans.

The thirty-first grand encampment of the Indian war veterans of the north Pacific coast convened at Woodmen of the World hall, Eleventh and Alder streets, at 10:45 this morning...

All of the officers were present except E. N. Morgan, junior vice grand commander, who was unable to attend, and Rev. W. D. Ewing, chaplain for 21 years, who has died since the last meeting.

Other officers are: Edward Ross, senior vice grand commander; Otto Kleeman, grand adjutant; Charles H. Chamberlain, grand paymaster; W. R. McCord, captain of the guard, and John W. Cullin, grand marshal.

The reading of the financial report by Grand Adjutant Kleeman having shown that the treasury of the organization was depleted, Mrs. F. L. Benedict of the Sons and Daughters of Indian War Veterans association, rose and said that her organization had $50 which it wished to present to the old folks. The gift was accepted with applause.

Adjutant Kleeman read a telegram from Senator Chamberlain extending greetings and saying that he "hopes soon to see crystallized into law a proper recognition of the services" of the Indian war veterans to the country.

Adjutant Kleeman was authorized by resolution to take up the matter further with Senator Chamberlain.

There was discussion of the matter of asking the legislature to provide that Indian war veterans be allowed to fish and hunt without licenses, inasmuch as this privilege has been granted to veterans of the Civil and Spanish-American wars.

Dinner is given. The morning session was followed by dinner at noon, given by the Sons and Daughters association.

The afternoon session included an address of welcome by Commissioner George L. Baker, whose father was an Indian war veteran, an address by Colonel Robert A. Miller, a solo by Judge F. J. Hennessey, with Curry Houseman as accompanist; a Chinook reading by Laura B. Downey-Bartlett; an instrumental selection by Eugene Clifton, and a solo by Maud Springer Watkins, granddaughter of an Indian war veteran.

The oldest person present was Charles Bolden, 84, who came to Oregon from Kentucky via Missouri in 1845, and took part in the Cayuse war of 1847-8. He lives at the Baron apartments, Fourteenth and Columbia streets.

W. D. Stillwell, who was born in Ohio 91 years ago, and got to Oregon to home to serve in the Cayuse war, came from Tillamook for the meeting.

Falls to Recognize Him. Frank Nichols of Tualuma, Crook county, failed to recognize his old comrade, J. C. Nelson, until the latter said, "Don't you remember St. Charles" and recalled incidents of the campaign against the Indians.

C. H. Walker of Albany, oldest white "old" man in the Pacific northwest, was present. He is 78 years old, and was born near Walla Walla.

Mrs. Sarah Pendleton of Aurora and Mrs. Elizabeth Hovenend, of Woodburn, sisters who came to Oregon in 1847, are both widows of Indian war veterans.

Mrs. M. L. Abbott, whose picture was in all the local papers during the meeting, is here again from Vancouver, Wash., for the veterans' meeting and the old settlers' reunion.

"I guess it must have been the kind of bonnet that attracted the photographers last year," she said this morning. "All the other women wore black."

Mrs. Abbott was born at Booneville, Mo., in 1833, and came to Oregon in 1852.

The following deaths were reported during the past year, but the list is incomplete:

George L. Hayes; J. C. Paulsell, Mr. Hubler, Company K, Ninth Regiment, late of Millaukie; Solomon Durbin, Salem; George B. Needles; George H. James; J. M. Floyd, Colfax, Wash.; James J. Robinson, Spokane; W. H. Goodwin; W. D. Ewing, chaplain of association for 21 years; Mrs. Isaac Butler; Mr. Laughlin; Mrs. Cape; J. L. Collins, Dallas; George Whittier; James J. Robinson, Spokane; at Portland, whose funeral was this morning; Mrs. Melvina Hembree; Louis Klinger; Dufur; Carl Beard; Captain Spencer; Mr. Baker; Mr. Morrow; Edward Lewis.

Prosecutes Case in Khaki. Visalia, Cal., June 21.—(U. P.)—Private James Burke of Company D, Second Infantry on ordinary times duty, Attorney Burke, sat in the superior court in khaki today to prosecute an alleged blind-pig operator. He is ready to leave the case and join his company at any minute.

Kills Rabid Coyote. Harriman, Or., June 21.—W. L. Patterson killed a rabid coyote at the Hoyt ranch on Emigrant creek after the animal threatened his wife and children and himself. Dogs diverted the coyote's attention long enough for Patterson to get his gun. Two dogs had to be killed.

E. D. Alexander Nominated. Washington, June 21.—(WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE JOURNAL.)—The president today nominated E. D. Alexander for postmaster at Dayton, Oregon.

WIDOW ALLEGES THAT SHE WAS DEFRAUDED IN REAL ESTATE DEAL

Lawsuit Follows the Investment of $2800 Life Insurance Money.

RECOVERY IS ASKED FOR

Plaintiff Declares That She Found Land Was Worn Out and Would Not Produce Crops.

Mrs. Nellie Myers is plaintiff in the suit being tried before a jury in Judge Morrow's department of the circuit court today. Her husband died in 1913, leaving her four young children and $3000 insurance money. The friend in the case was J. E. Shears, who assisted Mrs. Myers to make the proper proof of death so she could collect the insurance.

Shears advised her to invest in 12 acres of land near Forest Grove. He testified he urged her to pay $2800 for the land because of his friendship for Mrs. Myers and the children. But on cross-examination he admitted that he received half of the commission on the sale. After buying the land Mrs. Myers found it had been worn out and would not produce crops.

In the deal she was defrauded of $175, but she is suing Shears, J. O. Hall, who received the other half of the commission for the sale, and F. S. Wetherly and L. C. Westerbrook, who sold the place, to recover $2387, which she has paid out on the property.

Mrs. Myers says she acted on Shears' advice, because she thought he was giving it as a friend; and she did not learn until long after that he was negotiating the deal as a real estate agent.

She testified that Hall had told her the place had red soil of good quality.

Hall testified he gave Mrs. Myers his opinion about the place. On cross-examination he admitted he knew that the owner had raised no crops in 1910, 1911 or 1912, but he said he never told Mrs. Myers about it.

Witnesses called from that neighborhood testified the land was worth all the way from $75 an acre up to $175, but none, excepting two real estate men, placed the value as high as $225 an acre.

Prisoner Serves Extra Time. More than two months ago A. Nakano, a Japanese, was convicted of committing an assault with intent to kill and was sentenced to a term in the penitentiary. But he is still in the county jail because Judge Morrow overlooked the order committing him to the state prison. In the meantime he has been in jail, but the time does not apply on his sentence.

Indictment is Dismissed. The indictment against A. C. Pattimore, who was charged with larceny by bailie, was dismissed today by Judge McGinn. This action was based on an affidavit filed to the effect that Pattimore had paid back the $300 he was charged with taking.

Will Be Brought From Seattle. Harry Lapensky, a barber, is to be returned to Portland from Seattle to answer a charge of failure to support his wife and three children. He was arrested at Seattle yesterday.

Arrested as Deserter. Paterson, N. J., June 21.—(U. P.)—Private William H. Smith refused to respond to the call to the colors and was arrested as a deserter. He faces a maximum penalty of eight months imprisonment if found guilty.

Charged of Bigamy. IS PLACED AGAINST SHERMAN CRAWFORD

Stepfather of San Francisco Society Girl Complaining Witness.

San Francisco, Cal., June 21.—A bigamy charge was filed today against Sherman O. Crawford who married Margaret Abercrombie, society heiress, following a romantic courtship at Monterey two weeks ago.

Crawford posed as a nephew of United States Senator Chamberlain. The complaint was sworn to by the girl's stepfather, George McGowan. Crawford was removed from a sanitarium by a detective from the district attorney's office. He will be placed in jail unless bail is forthcoming.

It is alleged that at the time Crawford, who was popularly supposed to be a naval surgeon, was winning the heart of Miss Abercrombie, he had not yet secured a final decree of divorce from his second wife. McGowan charges Crawford swore falsely in getting the marriage license, when he made affidavit that he had not been married before.

Crawford declares most of the accusations are false. State authorities entered the investigation of the career of Dr. Sherman O. Crawford, pseudo naval officer. Dr. Charles B. Pinkham, secretary of the state board of medical examiners, declared that his office was investigating a complaint of Dr. V. B. Murray, of the marine hospital, that he suspected Crawford of stealing his New York and California licenses to practice, and his New York diploma. Dr. Murray, who was Crawford's room-mate when the latter was interne at the hospital, also complained to District Attorney Charles M. Fisker.

Into the case there has entered a third woman, the mysterious first wife of Crawford. He is said to have admitted this first marriage when he wedded Verma Belle Florence Pryce, whom he sued for divorce six weeks after their wedding. He never got a final decree—could not until next September—and on that the allegations of bigamy in the Abercrombie marriage are based.

Mrs. Crawford No. 2 in Portland. Mrs. Pryce-Crawford is now believed to be in Portland, where it is thought she went to investigate the report of her husband's first marriage, according to her sister, Mrs. G. D. Hood of Oakland.

Mrs. Crawford No. 3—or Miss Abercrombie—refused to discuss this or other phases of the situation today. She remained in seclusion in the apartments of her sister, Baroness von Brincken, and of her mother and stepfather, Mr. and Mrs. George A. McGowan.

Crawford declares he never deliberately impersonated a naval officer. The impression that he was connected

PORTLAND HEIGHTS ROSE SHOW OPENS AND BLOOMS ATTRACT

Beautiful Display of Flowers Greatly Admired by Scores of Persons.

EXHIBIT ENDS TONIGHT

Table of Peonies From the Famous Wood Gardens Feature; Black Calla Lilies Displayed.

The choicest roses grown in the gardens surrounding the beautiful homes on Portland Heights are now on display at the Portland Heights club, the occasion being the annual Rose Show of that district. The show opened yesterday afternoon and many interesting visitors viewed the beautiful blossoms during the afternoon and evening and again today.

The show will close this evening. On account of the recent rains some of the fine blossoms were injured, but on the whole the display was one of great beauty and interest. The entire main room of the clubhouse was arranged with tables surrounding a central table on which was arranged a miniature reproduction of the fountain of roses, which attracted so much attention at the Festival center.

Mr. and Mrs. Curry showed baskets of Ulrich Brunner and Frau Karl Druschki blossoms and they also displayed in moss beds individual blossoms of notable beauty and perfection. None were more admired than the exquisite flesh pink Yvonne Vacherot buds.

A fine specimen of the J. A. Curry, named for Mr. Curry when he was president of the Portland Rose society, attracted much attention. Mrs. D. Jellison showed a large collection of Caroline Testout's artistically arranged.

Mrs. J. C. Ainsworth displayed some fine specimens of the General McArthur, Lady Hillington and Irish Elegance. G. W. Hill had on display a beautiful basket of the light pink climbing rose, Tausendsohn. Mrs. E. G. Hill showed some fine Hugh Dicksons.

Mrs. Fred Prescott Kendall showed some fine Cecil Brunners. Others exhibiting exceptionally fine roses were Mrs. John S. Bradley, Mrs. F. I. Fuller, Mrs. J. F. Ewing, Bishop Walter Taylor, Sumner, Mrs. Jay Smith and E. E. Goudy.

Peonies Are Seen. One entire table was devoted to a display of peonies from the famous weed gardens. From the earliest times, the peony has been recognized as one of the grandest flowers, vying with the rose in popular favor. Its evolution from the old-fashioned "pinney" of our grandmothers' garden is one of the wonders of the garden, and the display made by Mr. Weed embraces many of the large and beautiful blossoms for which his gardens are famed.

Another feature of the shows is the jar of black calla lilies displayed by E. J. Labbe. The lilies are shaped like the ordinary calla except they are much larger and are jet black. The foliage is exceptionally beautiful. The Portland Heights Rose Show is purely a neighborhood affair, and no prizes are given.

with the navy was given no encouragement by him, he asserted, and grew out of the fact that he was employed at the Presidio marine hospital.

Federal Authorities Take Hand. With regard to a photograph of himself in naval uniform, Crawford said the attire was fancy dress ball costume.

GOVERNMENT WANTS TO BUY HORSES AND MULES FOR THE ARMY

Deliveries May Be Made at Portland, Seattle and Tacoma.

Oregon horses and mules are being sought by Uncle Sam for military use in the Mexican crisis.

Announcement was made today that 26,550 horses for cavalry are wanted, bids to be in the hands of the depot quartermaster at Seattle no later than next Monday.

In addition, 16,000 artillery horses are required, besides 16,200 draft horses and 4000 draft mules.

In addition, 192 light draft horses, are required. The specifications, received today by the Chamber of Commerce, call for delivery to the government at Portland, Seattle, Tacoma or some other centrally located place where facilities are ample, may also receive deliveries.

The 1915 tax assessment roll showed that Oregon is abundantly able to supply the United States army with all these horses and mules needed for the Mexican campaign.

The figures show that 222,271 horses and mules were owned in Oregon, particularly in the counties of Klamath, Umatilla, Lake, Harney, Baker, Malheur, Union, Crook, Morrow and Sherman.

The Chamber of Commerce is today notifying dealers of the government's order. It is believed that the entire number required could be easily supplied from Oregon and Washington.

The bids will be received by Colonel George Ruhlen, U. S. A., retired, who is acting quartermaster and depot quartermaster at Seattle.

John Smith Pardoned. Salem, Or., June 21.—A full pardon and restoration of citizenship has been granted by Governor Whymcombe to John H. Smith of Umatilla county, committed to the state prison September 4, 1913, to serve from one to 15 years for sodomy and paroled April 8, 1915.

CITY WATER BUREAU SURVEY RESULTS IN GAIN IN REVENUES

Number of Fixtures of Which There Was No Record Are Now Discovered.

LEAKY FIXTURES FOUND

Refrigerating Plants Found to Have Been Connected Without Notice to Water Bureau.

That the survey made by the water bureau to determine the number of fixtures installed in various parts of the city of which it had no knowledge is producing results, is shown by the report of the bureau for the year and a half ending June 1. The report was filed with Will H. Daly, commissioner of public utilities and head of the water bureau, this morning.

The survey has brought in $7228.35 on services which were not known to the water bureau and has resulted in an increase of water revenues of $942.75 monthly.

During the year and a half the inspectors found 88 services not on record and 1704 fixtures connected without the knowledge of the bureau. They also found 2026 leaking fixtures of various kinds. Water coolers to the number of 230 for which property owners had been paying no water rentals were found.

One of the biggest discoveries made and which has resulted in the installation of several water meters in addition to the collection of several hundred dollars, was that refrigerating plants had been established and connected with water services without notice to the water bureau. Ten of these plants have been found in the past year and a half.

The survey is now about 60 per cent completed and according to officials of the water bureau it is well worth continuing. It is expected to finish the survey in another year.
