Packingtown Claims A New Distinction

Growing of Flowers Gives an Aesthetic Aid to District Where Packing Plant Is Located.

Portland's Packingtown has laid claim to new distinctions. Known as the most center of the northwest, with products like toothsome hams and luscious bacon to tempt lagging appetites, North Portland is advancing toward the front now as a community of flowers.

C. C. Coit, president of the Union Meat company, has sent The Journal a great bouquet of sweet peas, grown at the plant under the supervision of the company's gardener, who is a graduate of the Oregon Agricultural college.

Mr. Coit has the idea that pleasant surroundings help out in the general scheme of things and that perfection in growing flowers is fully as important as perfection in making sausages or pickling tripe.

CHAIRMANSHIP IS PLUM

Moore's May Be Seeking Honor, It Is Inferred—C. A. Johns' Name Is Among Those Now Mentioned.

Charles B. Moore, chairman of the Republican state central committee, severed diplomatic relations with the Democrats of Oregon yesterday afternoon, when he forwarded a sharp ultimatum of some 1500 words to members of the state central committee for delivery to the recalcitrant public and directed the committeemen to close their consulates and come to the Imperial hotel July 8 at 1 o'clock in the afternoon.

On that date it is expected that the weather will be sufficiently warm to begin the uncongealing of the Hughes-Fairbanks campaign in Oregon by the organization of the state central committee.

In one column of agate language, Chairman Moore in his note discussed the "20 columns of language" of Governor Glyn and Senator Ollie James, delivered at St. Louis, and draws the conclusion that R. G. Dun & Co. shows a great deal of money to have been made in the United States during the recent past.

It can reasonably be inferred that Mr. Moore's note is really destined to keynote him back into the chairmanship of the state central committee for another term. He has been delaying the call for the organization meeting until after a conference with Ralph E. Williams, E. D. Baldwin and other of the leaders, and during this time has been mentioned with increasing frequency as an available man for the state chairmanship, because of his experience in the position and his capability as a writer of notes.

Charles A. Johns is also an active candidate for election as state chairman, while N. D. Hermann of Roseburg, the younger son of Binger Hermann, has been in Portland for some time waging an active campaign for the honor. It is also rumored that a movement is being fostered in eastern Oregon to boom W. J. Furnish, who was defeated by George E. Chamberlain for election as governor in 1902, for the position. It is probable that still other candidates will appear before the time for the meeting.

PROHIBITION ISSUE STATED

Secretary Fox Discusses the Proposed Amendments.

J. Sanger Fox, executive secretary of the Oregon headquarters of the prohibition party, has prepared the following statement regarding the prohibition amendment, petitions for the initiation of which are now being circulated. It is practically in answer to the statement issued by those backing the proposed amendment to permit the manufacture of beer within the state, and published in The Journal several weeks ago. The statement follows:

The friends of the brewers are circulating a petition to permit the opening of breweries in Oregon. They state that 4 per cent beer is a non-intoxicating, light and simple beverage and try to create the impression that beer drinking is harmless, notwithstanding convincing testimony of examiners for life insurance and physicians who say "the beer drinker is much worse off than the whiskey drinker."

The brewers seek the right to manufacture, sell, and deliver beer in original packages, with no restriction as to the size of the package, which may result in its being handled in small bottles, thereby practically reestablishing its retail distribution under conditions which would be difficult to control.

Their argument commences with the following preamble: "We the undersigned feel that there is a lack of logic, even from a prohibition point of view, in allowing beer and intoxicating liquors to be brought into the state, yet forbid the manufacture of beer in the state." This statement probably reflects a unanimous verdict.

Notwithstanding its shortcomings, the friends of prohibition had purposed to give the present law a longer trial, but they now feel that they are not only released from any actual or implied obligation to do so, but that this action of the brewers impels them to accept their challenge by initiating a counter amendment so framed as to remedy the illogical provisions complained of and remove the privilege granted to those who still wished to indulge themselves and give real constitutional prohibition to the people of Oregon.

This new amendment is short and simply adds the following to the present constitutional provision: "Section 25A. No intoxicating liquors shall be imported into this state for beverage purposes." This amendment has the purpose of removing the alleged defects of our present law, instead of enlarging them.

Those who believe in prohibition prefer an offensive rather than a defensive fight; to go forward rather than backward, and strive for such legislation as will give them all that they want, rather than defend that which gives them only a part.

With the reopening of the breweries it would be impracticable to restrict the amount of liquor manufactured. It is claimed that one of Oregon's brewery plants alone could manufacture in a few days all the beer now being imported.

This new dry amendment is initiated by the Prohibition party and was drafted by Governor West with the collaboration of Attorney General Brown. It is endorsed by the Portland Ministerial Association, the Oregon Woman's Christian Temperance, the Anti-Saloon league of Oregon and the Woman's Prohibition club of Portland.

Those following are a few well known citizens who have signed the petition: Oswald West, ex-governor; Charles B. Moore, state chairman of the Republican party; J. P. Newell, state chairman of the prohibition party; Mrs. Jennie M. Kemp, state president of the W. C. T. U.; Mrs. Adah Wallace Unruh, well known national lecturer; Ellis A. Baker, president of the Anti-Saloon league; Dr. W. O. Shank, president of the Portland Ministerial Association; Rev. W. N. Coffey, presiding elder of the Free Methodist church; Dr. W. F. Amos, vice chairman of the state prohibition committee; Harry W. Stone, general secretary of the Y. M. C. A.; B. Lee Ford, E. M. Phelps, W. E. Mitchell, E. T. Johnson, Dr. J. L. Hewitt, W. C. Koertsche, Dr. George B. Pratt, Captain E. B. Warren, F. McKercher, J. T. Wilson.

Republicans Dangle Bait to Roosevelt man. The proposal is viewed with favor by many prominent Republicans. The attitude of neither Mr. Roosevelt nor Mr. Hughes is known. While Mr. Roosevelt has declared he is out of politics, some of his Republican friends believe he would not shun the senatorial nomination if he were persuaded that his acceptance offered the surest means of helping to carry out his program on preparedness.

Colonel Roosevelt, with his letter to the Progressive national committee prepared, will come to New York today to confer with leading Republicans and Progressives. The colonel's letter will be made public on Monday, either from Sagamore Hill or from Chicago, where the Progressives' committee meets.
