

What Society is Doing BY NONA LAWLER

THE rain of the last few days interrupted the progress of the society movie pictures "Veda the Vampire" for over a thousand feet of film have already been taken, however, just about one third of the whole scenario having been staged. Yesterday morning a committee of the patronesses, including Mrs. Helen Land Corbett, went out the Columbia highway to choose sites for the pictures which are to be photographed there. Ford Tarpley, who is directing all the rehearsals with Mrs. Eleanor Sanford Large, has announced that the pictures so far taken have been a splendid success and that the film would be complete this month and will be shown in July.

Laurelhurst Club Activities.
Mrs. William Davis and Mrs. M. D. Alger were hostesses for the ladies' afternoon card party, which was held at the Laurelhurst club Tuesday afternoon, June 13. Bridge and 500 both were played, the high scores in bridge being won by Mrs. Bert Alger and Mrs. G. Rushmore, and in 500 the fortunate winners were Mrs. M. E. O'Connor and Mrs. W. C. Wilkes. The next card party will be held Tuesday afternoon, June 27, at 2 o'clock. Friends of the members are invited. The regular Friday night card party was held June 16. Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Chandler were hosts for this occasion. The high scores in bridge were held by Mrs. A. M. Lawrence and Mrs. E. T. Hall and in 500, Mrs. Ferdinand Reed and Miss Ruth Zannello were the winners. Friday night, June 23, will be dance night, for members only, this being the first dancing party to be given since May, as the parties were postponed on account of Rose Festival week. Five new tennis courts have been added and will be completed by the end of the month.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Allen Lewis were dinner hosts Tuesday evening, when the following guests circled the board, which was most artistically arranged with the shell pink Ophelia roses: Mr. and Mrs. John G. Edwards, Mr. and Mrs. William D. Wheelwright, Miss Sarah Lewis, A. Philmister Proctor and the hostess.

Neustadter-Wolfe Engagement.
An interesting engagement is that of Miss Stella Wolfe, the attractive young daughter of Adolph Wolfe, president of the firm of Lippman & Wolfe, and Edw. I. Neustadter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Neustadter. No formal function was given attendant upon the announcement, the couple having just announced the wedding to their relatives and most intimate friends. Both are popular in the younger set, and the prominence of the families makes the announcement of unusual interest. The wedding is planned for September. Hostess at "500."

Mrs. Roy H. Flaherty was hostess to a five hundred party at her home on Glenn avenue at the home of Mrs. J. C. Hare. The music room looked like fairyland with roses and ferns. Numbers by Miss Ruby Loyd from "Lucia di Lammermoor" (for left hand alone) and "Concert Waltz" by Liebling, were especially enjoyed. Little Etelvynn Kelley of Salem also played one number.

Married at Vancouver.
At Vancouver, Wash., June 20, T. H. Bigham and Mrs. Emma Rich, both of Portland, Or., were married. Mr. Bigham is a member of the firm of John Burkyne, Frank Pattison and T. H. Bigham, contractors and builders of Portland.

Birthday Honored.
The women of the White Temple whose birthdays occurred in April, May and June will be hostesses to the women of the church and congregation on Friday at the home of Mrs. E. E. Wightman, 474 College street. Luncheon will be served at 12:30, after which a good program will be given and other features of entertainment presented. Leave Eleventh and Hall street car at Twelfth street and walk one block south to College. Birthday offerings will be received for missions.

Shirt Waist Party.
A benefit shirtwaist party will be given Tuesday evening, June 27, at the B'nai B'rith building by the Daughters of the Covenant. Special features and good music will be introduced, and it is anticipated that a large attendance will enjoy the event.

Society Notes.
Mr. and Mrs. Louis B. Senosky have returned from Spokane, Wash., where they attended the P. C. A. men's convention.
Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Bowles returned from the presidential convention, where Mr. Bowles was a delegate from Washington, via Portland to visit Mr. Bowles' mother, Mrs. M. C. Bowles, 447 Broadway.

Sale Certain in Case of Western Pacific
Court Denies Petition for Rehearing and Immediate Reorganization of Defunct Railroad Is Assured.
San Francisco, June 22.—(P. N. S.)—The sale of the Western Pacific railroad next Wednesday to the majority bondholders for $1,800,000, and the immediate reorganization of this property followed by the building of a dozen or more California branch and feeder lines, was practically made certain today by the decision of Federal Judge M. T. Doelling in denying the petition of the Savings Union Bank & Trust company for a rehearing.

Attorney Frank D. Madison, representing the petitioners, argued the price of the road should be fixed at $3,000,000 at least, since the reproduction value was $75,000,000 and the expenditure of $1,000,000 the net earning power could be vastly increased. Judge Doelling declared that it was not within the court's concern to pass on the future prospects of the road, but to fix a fair price on its present value.

Unless the Savings Union Bank & Trust company appeals, the road will be sold Wednesday in Oakland by United States Commissioner Francis Kruhl.

Lutheran Synod Is In Annual Session
Proposition of Aiding Incapacitated Ministers Is Discussed; Interesting Program.
The annual session of the Oregon and Washington districts of the Evangelical Lutheran synod of Missouri, Ohio and other states is being held at Trinity church, Williams and Graham avenues, with about 80 delegates in attendance.
Rev. H. Speckhard of Saginaw, Mich., third vice president of the general bodies, opened the session with divine services, and yesterday afternoon the president of this district, Rev. L. Stuede, heard reports and appointed various committees. The proposition to aid incapacitated pastors and preachers was discussed with much enthusiasm, after Rev. J. Huch-plausen of Tacoma, who has charge of this work, had read his report. The meetings will be in session till Tuesday, June 27. This morning a doctrinal paper formed the general program and this afternoon mission work in Oregon, Washington and Idaho is being discussed. The welfare of the Concordia college in this city will also be taken up for discussion this afternoon.

BLANKETS FOR GUARD FROM SALEM LACKING. FIRST NIGHT IN CAMP

Need Is Quickly Supplied With Shipment of 100 by Auto Truck to Clackamas

Salem, Or., June 22.—When word came here Wednesday that members of Company M of Salem, had been obliged to sleep in relays Tuesday night and had suffered in consequence of a lack of bedding and coats at the rain-soaked and muddy Clackamas range, there was a ready response and Wednesday evening over 100 blankets had been collected and started by auto truck to the camp. It was said the equipment would reach there before day time.

The call for the blankets was made by Mayor White and in a very short time enough were on hand. Word as to the plight of the men came from Captain Max Gehlhar and others of Company M.

Sign Merely Joke.
Salem, Or., June 22.—The Salem Commercial club passed a resolution Wednesday night saying that the motion adopted recently to erect a sign near the present site of the Southern Pacific passenger depot, "Don't judge our town by the depot," was clothed in a spirit of jest and did not represent the true attitude of the club toward the company. The resolution also says that the club appreciated the attitude the company has thus far taken toward the new depot and urges the company to have it erected as soon as possible.

Bed Time Tales BY CLARA INGRAM JUDSON

Yellow Puff Helps.
"I T'S one thing to plan to do a thing and quite another to carry out the plan," said Mr. Garden Toad, as he croaked once more, "Be kind!" "I must admit that I'm getting both hoarse and tired. I think I'll hop away and take a nap. There'll be plenty of time to tell folks to be kind later in the day." And he started to hop over toward the pile of leaves under which he liked to take his nap.

"Wait a minute! Wait a minute, Mr. Garden Toad," called Yellow Puff, "I was just coming to ask you something."

Yellow Puff didn't quite understand, so Mr. Garden Toad explained further.
ins and his aunts and brought them back to Mr. Garden Toad. "Now tell them!" he commanded. "And that is how it happened that Billy Robin looked down from his nest and saw a whole row of chickens standing in front of the toad, who was croaking, 'Be kind! Be kind!' as fast as ever he could!"
Tomorrow—A Splash of Rain.

"You can tell me what you were croaking a while ago," said Yellow Puff, eagerly. "I was across the alley and I heard you calling something, but could not tell just what you said. So I came over to ask."

PERSONAL MENTION
Chinook Editor in City.
Charles A. Payne, editor and publisher of the Chinook Observer (Chinook, Wash.), is a guest at the Perkins.

"I'm pretty sleepy," thought Mr. Garden Toad, "but I must remember my own advice and be kind. I'll wait and hear what Yellow Puff wants to ask me." And aloud he added, "Very well, Yellow Puff, what can I do for you?"
"You can tell me what you were croaking a while ago," said Yellow Puff, eagerly. "I was across the alley and I heard you calling something, but could not tell just what you said. So I came over to ask."
