Albina Mothers' Club Picnic .- The members of the Albina Mothers' club held their first picnic of the season at A basket Columbia park Tuesday. lunch, concluding with ice cream, was a feature of the day. Later the members paid a visit to the St. Johns tunnel, which is now being repaired. The day was voted a great success. Other picnics will be held during the summer.

La Grande Contributes to Building Fund.-The Women's Neighborhood club of La Grande, by making a donation of $75, has just sent the fund which the women of the state are rais ing for a state women's building at the University of Oregon up past the 17000 mark. This amount, however, does not represent the whole of the women's accomplishment in their effort to build this structure, since Mrs. George T. Gerlinger of Dallas was appointed the first woman regent the iniversity has ever had, and immediraise $100,000 by private subscription. been received to the effect that subscriptions will be forthcoming either in amounts not stated, a little later in the campaign, or in conjunction with other subscriptions. The total financial effect of the first year of effort on the part of the women is estimated as the equivalent of raising $20,000 toward the women's building. ### WHAT LABOR IS DOING

Central Labor Council Will Address Chamber Members.

Labor courcil last night adopted the report of a special committee regarding the recent declarations in favor of the open shop, made by the Portland Chamber of Commerce. Resolutions will be presented to the public, setting forth the controversy, and letters will be sent to every member of the Chamber of Commerce. Arrangements were made to have committees 31 the Central Labor council visit every labor organization in the city and attempts will be made to organize new unions and present a closer front to the employers in the city, because of the alleged antagonism of the Chamber of Commerce.

Revival Needed by Council.-It was plainly set forth by the special committee on the open shop appointed by the Central Labor council at its previous meeting that the interest of the were rarely more than 35 unions repredelegates, there were hardly ever over 50, and an average of but 33. There are also a number of unions that will not send delegates, and others that elect delegates who never appear. One very large union in this city entitled to several delegates had not been represented on the floor in several weeks. An effort is to be made to bring ielegates in and arouse interest in the "What an idea!" And it was now "What an idea!" proceedings hereafter.

"Oh, please don't," cried the pansy. "Do stay and talk to me!"

"Not so fast, not so fast, Pansy, dear," said the raindrop. "How am I to stay on your smooth velvet petals? n't you see that presently I will slide right off? I canont stay here, though I admit I would like to." "I'll fix that," laughed the pansy; and what do you suppose she did? She promptly curied up the edges of her petals so that the raindrop couldn't slide down even if he wanted to! Wasn't she a clever little flower? And folks who passed by the garden after the unexpected shower was over spled the pansy and saw the raindrop in the middle of the curled-up, purple petals. They saw the raindrop, but they didn't guess the good time that raindrop and that pansy were having, talking of the wonders of this earth.

WHAT is more fun than a June day at Oaks Park? If you can't have a good time, then there's no hope. Now that we are blessed with sunshine, we should begin to enjoy life, spruce up a bit to court old Mother Earth, admire her various beauty spots, of which Oaks Park is really a favorite, and get the best of life in gen-There isn't a prettier trip anywhere about Portland than to The Oaks, and the knowledge of a classy program and all sorts of sport at the end of the brief jaunt should make you doubly appreciative of the joy of life. Yesterday large crowds enjoyed the afternoon and evening entertainment, which is the best of the season. Miss Alice Juston is adding to her laurels and popularity with attractive song numbers and her lovely contralto voice.

Seldom is a concert offered like that of the Ladies' Columbian Orchestra. Every day their repertoire grows and their soloists become more proficient. The park fairly rang with their applause last night. Fascinating Glenna Delgado is a figure of interest with her queer Egyptian dances and more modern numbers. Tine and Edwards and the Big Four Quartet are a happy group of warblers, who appear on the program.

Have you gone for a ride on our miniature railroad and have you heard the kiddies shout with glee as they bounce to the river in the big shoot the chutes? If you have not, you've still a thrill coming. There's a joy wheel, too, worth trying, and the old mill is quite romantic. Punch and Judy are about the most tireless little actors that ever put on a melodrama. They're preparing numbers that will give the little folk many a good laugh. What's more, they're a matter of interest as ancestors of the good-looking modern actors. Our menagerie is becoming a big feature. We've bears and monkeys and lots of other animals, to say naught of our baby seal.

Likewise we're preparing for a great time the 4th of July. A monster fireworks exhibition, with flaming skyrockets tearing the air and light and glimmer of shooting
