MRS. ANTON GIBBISH, one of Portland's prominent club women, has returned from New York, where she attended the biennial of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, delegates from the Portland Shakespeare club. Mrs. Gibbish describes the biennial as being a wonderful convention, instructive and inspiring in its vast number of interesting, worthwhile women and in the great variety of subjects discussed. During her absence from the city Mrs. Gibbish was elected president of the Shakespeare club and is serving as a special business meeting of the club for tomorrow afternoon at her home, 672 Halsey street. The picnic which was to have been held tomorrow has been indefinitely postponed.

For Rose Courson Reed.—While there are always innumerable small tent parties for cards or plain sewing, and informal hops at the auditorium during Chautauqua periods, the coming assembly at La Grande is to be marked by an unusually important social function early in the week. Former pupils of Mrs. Rose Courson Reed, who appears in recital Monday at the Chautauqua, are arranging an informal reception in the auditorium Monday evening after the evening's program, for Mrs. Reed. It is to be very informal and patrons of the park will be cordially invited. Mrs. Reed is charming and this will be a fine opportunity to meet her. Among those who are former pupils and who will be instrumental in arranging the reception and being sponsors for it are Mrs. A. L. Richardson, Mrs. Parker, Mrs. Will French and Mrs. Harry Bouvey. Other social functions will no doubt be witnessed during the ten days, but this promises to be one of the foremost.

There will be need for 100 automobiles and plenty of flowers will help make the welcome more fraternal. The 300 guests will be shown over the city and will leave at 1:30 p. m. It is hoped to have enough flowers brought to the depot to decorate all the train coaches and make them a bower of beauty. The guests will be taken to the Pantages to view the Columbia river highway in motion films and the Jones-Berger color pictures. The entertainment is being planned by a joint committee from Oregon Commandery No. 1 and Washington Commandery No. 15. ## UMPIRE ON FERRY LACKS SAFETY DEVICES ALLEGES INSPECTOR

Atlas, Used in Carrying Passengers From the Railways Across, Object of Charges.

Marshfield, Or., June 27. — United States Inspector McGraw is inspecting boats on Coos Bay and Coquille river. He announces that on returning to Portland he will file charges against the launch Atlas, used to transport passengers across the Umpqua river where they transfer from one train to another. It is alleged there are no precautions taken for the safety of the people.

Rancher Held for Theft.
Marshfield, Or., June 27. — Frank Ward, a young rancher, was arrested Monday on a charge of robbing Twin Spotted, aged 17, of $50. The money was taken from a room in the Central hotel where Spotted was staying and he accuses Ward. "The latter pleaded not guilty when arraigned. Spotted was received money from a pension and was on his way to California to visit a relative but is now penniless."

lighted the audience last night with their singing, some real novelties all in all. "The Information Bureau," in which songs, dances, acute situations and airy perlage all figured.

Magician Wins Contest.
Cunning, magician, demonstrated his right to his name as "Portland's greatest" by winning a contest on the subject of a box made by packers from Lipman, Wolfe & Co. The exhibition at the Hippodrome last night was the result of a "leave off" issued by the packers.

Mexican Music Withdrawn.
INTERNATIONAL complications hit the Pantages theatre last night. One would hardly suppose that Mexico could interfere any with the amusement of Portland audiences, but it has. For example, when the 11 "melodyphians" started their whirlwind concert, the well-known "La Paloma" was on the program. But it was not played. A Spanish piece was substituted, "La Paloma," as everybody knows, is the national air of Mexico. Those theatre managers are certainly horn diplomats.

Another Canard Nailed.
It is not true, as reported, that Frank Hayes, the Keystone police chief, is to appear in a comedy, "The Triangle-DeWolf Hopper comedy, 'Casey at the Bat.'"

Primrose Still Lively.
George Primrose was just closed a season of 70 consecutive victories in vandeville with his Eight Minstrel Boys.

VACATION FOR MOTHER
Seashore and summer resort may lure the young folk and the masculine head of the house away from the city for at least a brief vacation each year. With the housewife, however, the preparation for a fortnight out of town is often far more an expenditure of time and labor—also expense—than it is worth. It is but an extra exertion which often fails to bring compensating results.

CARE OF BEDDING
A blanket lawn keeps the "extra blanket" clean and is very economical when blankets have to be pulled off and on. Inexpensive flowered lawn can be used. The cover can be made very attractive, if a border of plain colored lawn, matching the tone of the flowered ground, is added. These covers are fastened to the blankets with a row of coarse cat-stitching and cross-stitching at the top and bottom of the blanket.

PEACH BAVARIAN CREAM
Two tablespoonfuls granulated gelatin, one half cup cold water, one half cup boiling water, one pint crushed peaches (or apricots if preferred), the whip from one pint of cream, one half cup sugar. Soak gelatin in cold water, dissolve in boiling water. Add fruit and sugar, stir until mixture begins to thicken. Cut and fold in the whip from the cream. Line a mold with halves of apricots or peaches, pour in cream mixture. Chill, garnish with beaten cream and halves of fruit.

HANDLING NAILS
Whenever I have troubles with my nails becoming rusted in the wood, I find that a good way to remove them is to allow a small quantity of paraffin oil to soak into the wood around them. If you wish to drive a nail in very hot water until it is thoroughly heated. You can then drive it in clean without breaking or chipping any of the surrounding plaster.

COTTAGE CHEESE SALAD
Cottage cheese mixed with canned red peppers which have been put through the ricer or sieve, then well seasoned served on lettuce with little boiled dressing makes most tasty salad.

FASHION FLINGS
Victorian sprigged muslins are revived for the summer girl's holiday frock. The new ribbed edges on warp ribbons are known as "candy" edges. Cape effects on some of the new summer blouses show deep hem-stitched borders.

KITCHEN HELPS
A handy water filter can be made by tying a thick square of absorbent cotton over the mouth of the faucet. The water will run through this easily and will be cleared by it of all impurities. The cotton should be renewed daily.

Paraffin oil, applied cold with a soft rag, is excellent for waterproofing a kitchen floor. It dries instantly, and

INSPECTION WILL BE MADE OF BOURNE MINE BY EASTERN ENGINEER

Baker, Or., June 27.—Carl O. Lindborg, examining engineer of the American Zinc, Lead & Smelting company of Boston, is in Baker en route to Bourne to make a complete examination of the Eureka and Excelsior mines, which his company has an option to purchase for $400,000, the interests of Jonathan Bourne Jr., former Oregon United States senator, who is owner of 69 per cent of the stock. The balance is owned by S. W. Foyd, Richard C. Kerns, formerly United States ambassador to Austria, and the A. C. Stewart Estate, all of St. Louis, and F. Wallace White of Bourne. The American Zinc, Lead & Smelting company recently purchased the property of the Granby Mining & Smelting company at Joplin, Mo., for $750,000.

The pending deal is one of several recent mining transactions in this district, and if it goes through, means active operation of the E. & E. in the past a big producer. Mr. Lindborg is unable to say when he will have his report ready.

Word came from Canyon City that the county commissioners refused to authorize the expense of extradition, or the sheriff to set Metz free. He has been in this vicinity several months, being associated with others in a mining deal.

Says Witness Changed.
Baker, Or., June 27.—Charging that Tom Tyrrell, one of the witnesses for the plaintiff, went back on him and told a different story at the trial than he told previously Attorney G. E. Allen of Sumpter, attorney for Frank Baird in his $400 damage action against P. M. Anderson and W. J. Robertson, has filed a motion for a new trial of the case, which was decided last week in circuit court in favor of the defendants. Tyrrell was one of the witnesses of the accident in which a team owned by Baird was killed while in possession of defendants, he having rented to them.

Maroney Will Fly.
Baker, Or., June 27.—"Will practice in Baker for my work in Mexico," writes Aviator Terrah T. Maroney to the Baker Commercial club in reply to inquiry whether he would be here to give his flying exhibitions July 3 and 4.

4. Being an officer in the naval militia, it was feared by the celebration promoters that Maroney might not be able to get here, but his letter sets aside all doubt.

Munitions Smuggled Over Mexican Line

S.)—Three truck loads of machine guns and rifle ammunition from Los Angeles, consigned to the Mexican forces under Colonel Estaban Cantu, at Mexicali, Lower California, were smuggled across the line at Tecate Sunday, according to information received by Major Johnson Hagood at Fort Rosecrans. Major Hagood immediately wired General Franklin Bell at San Francisco, with the result that two companies of Coast Artillery and a battalion of infantry of the National Guard were ordered to entrain for San Diego and Calexico.

The Dalles, Or., June 27.—The big Libby, McNeill & I canning factory began operations today canning Royal Anne cherries. A carload of cherries has arrived from Lewiston, Idaho, and more than 300 boxes of the local product are being canned.

"If the growers of The Dalles will cooperate with us," said Superintendent Campbell, "we'll have The Dalles one of the biggest fruit growing centers in the United States. If the farmers will plant the fruit and cultivate it we'll take it off their hands at a top market figure. Libby, McNeill & Libby is here with immense capital to put The Dalles on the map."

Modern Mermaids.
SO FAR as I know, no artist has ever pictured an ugly mermaid. The artistic idea seems to be that the imaginary creature of the watery depths always possesses physical beauty. If the theory is based upon the assumption that swimming and diving are productive of feminine grace and loveliness, I am sure it is correct.

"Tell me," I said to a friend whose figure is classic, "to what do you attribute the wonderful lines of your figure?" Her answer was "swimming." She swims regularly during every season of the year and has enjoyed the water since her girlhood days. In the winter she goes to a natatorium. In the summer she swims in the Columbia river and recently she has found a great deal of pleasure in an outdoor tank constructed by a country club of which she is a member.

"I love swimming and it has been good to me," she concluded. I agreed with her since it gave her such a beautiful figure. I also learned that she enjoyed excellent health.

Another girl I know credits her good health to swimming. Perhaps she does not attribute the symmetrical lines of her figure to the sport, but she might. This friend was quite a young girl when in very poor health. She was so extremely slender that her condition worried her family. To introduce her to the water she sent her to a camp for the summer. There she learned she did was to learn to swim. She enjoyed the sport so much that she spent a large part of each day in the water. When she left camp her limbs and body were well rounded, and she has not been ill a day since. Of course her outdoor life has a tendency to improve her physical condition, but she credits her chief exercise in swimming. She is a beautiful young woman and swims regularly.

A newspaper woman who boasts that she never misses a day from her office on account of illness credits her swimming with her good fortune. Such incidents are numerous.

So many of my friends have found pleasure and profit in swimming that I like to recommend the sport to women who are in search of beneficial recreation.

Many women feel that they do not have an opportunity to enjoy swimming. But their real trouble is that they have failed to look for their opportunity. Pools and running streams make excellent places for swimming, and women who live near an ocean or lake are fortunate. But in nearly all communities there are indoor tanks. These create a desire for swimming in outdoor pools and streams. Officers of country clubs that are far from bodies of water are wise when they construct outdoor tanks. I have found such tanks and pools very popular and their cost is not prohibitive.

You lose an opportunity to acquire health and beauty if you fail to swim. If you have not been exercising or have acquired a great deal of weight, you will be wise to go slow and not attempt too much the first time you step into the refreshing water. But if you are young and in good physical trim you will progress rapidly and in a short time can swim and dive like a mermaid.

Girls who swim become trim and graceful. They are lithe and animated and have good health and plenty of strength and they take an interest in sports that is absorbing. The advantages of a tub bath are numerous and those of a shower are without number—but a plunge in cooling running water and the long graceful strokes that carry the body with the buoyancy of the universal medium stimulate and mold the body—promoting beauty, grace and charm.
