Portland had a real Fourth of July celebration yesterday.

From the early morning whistles to the firing of the last rocket late at night, the eagle screamed and patriotic music filled the air.

Portland people, one and all, entered enthusiastically into the spirit of the day, immense crowds turning out for each of the big program events.

It was conclusively shown that Portland has not by any means forgotten the meaning of Independence day. Thousands witnessed the parane in the morning, attended the patrio ic exercises and the sports and games and lined the river bank in the evening for the Sormont farm, situated on the left the fireworks and river spectacle. Many Thousands Attend. Many thousands more attended the various community celebrations in and about Portland. The weather was perfect and the accident on the Boston yesterday morning was the only thing to mar the day. Because of this accident, the naval night. They captured the eastern part
