MOVIES ARE CONSIDERED

Margaret Illington Trying Out Her New Play at Atlantic City Present Week.

By Dixie Hines.

New York, July 8. - Of the plays which pleased, only the memories remain. As a sort of eleventh hour con-"The Cohan Revue" and "Hitthe-Trail Holliday" brought their seasons to a close Saturday evening, thus depriving the public of two entertain-ments which might be as enjoyable in hot as in cold weather, And "Katinka, the musical show, also came to a sud-den stop, while Marie Tempest, who has added somewhat to her reputation as a comedienne in "A Lady's Name, has followed suit.
"Justice," which cannot be considered in the light of a summer show by even the vivid imagination of the press agent has also terminated what has been in many respects the most brilliant and surprising success of the season. It will reopen early net year, and John Barrymore will remain in the role of Falder, which has added great distinction to his name as a dramatic actor. As Ruth Honeywell, however, there is to be a new actress in Bertha Mann, who is one of the most reliable, versatile and talented of our young leading women. She will thus be associated in one scason with two of the artistic successes of the season, "The Weavers," under the stage direction of Emanuel Reicher, and "Justice," under the stage direction of B. Iden Payne.

They now lineup thus wise: Belasco -- "The Boomerang," which seems destined to finish its full year. Remarkably interesting east, able and adaptable to the demand of the comedy. Casino-"Very Good Eddie," and a very good show, with music interspersed. Made over from "Over Night," a popular comedy of the other days. Hudson-"The Cinderella Man," excellently acted and, a comedy of much charm. Nothing to tax the ingenuity or patience but a play of the older fairy brand

New Amsterdam - "The Follies of This coterie of damsels, comedians, burlesquers and musical exponents is, as usual one of the summer sights. One always goes to the Follies and the ocean in the Shubert-Lew Fields, excellent comedian in "Step This Way." It is a somewhat devious walk he takes you on, but it is enjoyable, and makes good summer amusement.

Winter Garden-"The Passing Show of 1916." Like the previous passing shows, this entertainment is individual and all alone in its class. Also it is better than those which preceded it and that is a high compliment in

Added to this list, representing only the stage of the spoken drama, proper consideration must be given to the silent drama, which now occupies an appreciable number of stage in our regular playhouses. The bills for the week include:

Candler-"Queen of the Roses," based on Leon Cavello's opera, Criterion-"Civilization." Globe-"Gloria's Romance."

Liberty-"The Fall of a Nation. Rialto-"The Captive God with William S. Hart.

Katherine Grey will return to th stage within a fortnight playing the title role in a new English drama, Jane Clegg." by St. John Ervine. The play has gone into rehearsal under William H. Gilmore, with Wallis Clark playing the leading masculine role. The first run of the presidential "movies" will be given next week. To present the form and features of the Republican candidate the national committee engaged Charles Compton an actor, to make a series of pictures and these are to be exhibited on all programs available now and during Whitford Kane, with Hellen Evily both familiar to playgoers, and both talented players, are making a vaudeville venture this week at the Colonial theatre, presenting Harold Brighouse delightful comedy, "Lonesome Luke." The Shubert's announce two touring companies for next season to present "Hobson's Choice." Margaret Nybloc who created the role of the masterful Maggie, will return from London to play this part in the company over the important circuit.

Margaret Illington is "trying out" her new play at Atlantic City this week. It is called "Just for Tonight" and is under the management of the Florence Reed denies that she has arranged to play next season. She is still open. The confusion arose over the fact that in San Francisco she tried out with success a drama by Ethel Clifton called "For Value Received." She and her husband, Malcolm Williams, were said to have scored a pronounced success, but she declares the part is not suited to her personality although a strong and pleasing one.

Ernest Rowan, a popular New York actor, has been called back to Milwaukee, his home, to join his regiment which has been mustered in. He has been playing in the "Civilization" film

Harold de Becker, who enjoys distinction in the art as well as dramtic fraternity, is to be an exhibitor as a sculptor this season. He is a successful student at the Beaux Arts this summer. Last year he argued the case in "Hobson's Choice,"

Hellen Evily has broken into vaudeville. She was with the production of "Justice" at the Candler theatre dur ing its long run, and to show her versatility has cast herself for a light comedy character role. She plays a Lancashire lass who doesn't care what happens so long as it doesn't happen
