

PORTLAND WOMEN IN PATRIOTISM'S FRONT RANK IN WAR RELIEF

Dr. A. R. Leads Movement for Helping Families of Militiamen Now at Border.

HONOR GUARD IS FORMED

Benefit Reception to Be Held Tuesday Night at Chapin Home, in Irvington, to Encourage Fund.

In no other city in the United States have the women shown a finer spirit of patriotism and cooperation incident to the demands made by the Mexican troubles in Portland.

Recently had the call for mobilization been sent out than the Daughters of the American Revolution called a meeting and formulated a plan for assisting the families of enlisted men.

Other members of the organization not actively engaged in this phase of the work formed sewing circles for making comfort kits for the soldiers.

One hundred girls have joined the department under Miss Mackenzie to work with the visiting nurse association in cutting and rolling bandages, preparing towels and sponges, sterilizing of instruments, disinfecting, diet cooking, caring for correct usage of medicine, hypodermic, etc.

Miss Jean Morrison is in charge of the division devoted to the study of Red Cross nursing. Forty members have joined this section, and will study under the direction of nurses at St. Vincent's and Good Samaritan hospitals.

Miss Isabella Gaudin is in charge of Corps 2. This branch will be aided in their research for instruction by the Associated Charities at the Free Dispensary, and will learn the care of children, first aid, and the importance of nursing, letterwriting and reading.

Corps 3 will be in charge of Miss Lucile Danforth, and this department will include the work of learning the wireless code, driving and understanding automobiles, riding, shooting, swimming and agriculture. Geography will be studied, and stenography and clerical work will also be learned.

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Chapin will open their beautiful and spacious residence, 628 Wasco street, in Irvington, on Tuesday night, from 8 to 11 o'clock, the occasion being a benefit reception, the proceeds of which will be donated to the Daughters of the American Revolution's patriotic fund, which is devoted to the assistance of the families of soldiers and men at the front.

Mr. and Mrs. Chapin have not only a patriotic interest in this work, but a heart interest, as their eldest son, Stan, Chapin, is at the border with Troop I, first cavalry, New York National Guard.

Mrs. J. B. Montgomery, first state representative of the D. A. R. in Oregon; Mrs. Isaac Lee Patterson, present state representative.

gent; Mrs. Edgar Alden Beals, regent of Willamette chapter; Mrs. James N. Davis, regent of Multnomah chapter, and Mrs. John J. Reed, president of the local society of Children of the American Revolution, will assist the hostess in receiving.

Throughout the evening musical selections will be rendered by an orchestra, and well known soloists will sing. Mrs. E. K. Scott, of Willamette chapter, who is an accomplished dramatic reader, will give a group of dramatic interpretations.

Mrs. Cleland McLoughlin, wife of Colonel McLoughlin; Mrs. George A. White, wife of the adjutant-general; Mrs. F. B. Tebbets, whose husband is captain of the machine gun company, and Mrs. D. E. Bowman, wife of Captain Bowman, of Company E, Third Infantry; Mrs. J. G. Frankel, Mrs. Percy W. Lewis and Mrs. Alva Lee Stephens will preside in the dining room, assisted by a bevy of young women of Irvington and members of Children of the American Revolution.

A thorough investigation of all families needing assistance has been completed by the Daughters, and it is found that at least 70 families will need regular aid. To meet the needs $4000 is necessary each month, and as yet but $641.75 a month has been subscribed, the number of subscribers being 178.

All checks must be made payable to the National organization, raised from one dollar per member of the society to two dollars. Dr. Hartzell of Minneapolis, who is a trustee of the National organization, explained the lack of finances for research work. The national society ran into debt during the past year, according to Dr. Hartzell. Many employees had to be discharged and experts in research work were compelled to pay their own expenses.

The delegates authorized the executive committee to cooperate in all possible ways, with the Washington Dental association. Men will be sent to the meeting of the latter society, and the Washingtonians will be asked to the next convention of the Oregon dentists. The purpose is to formulate a closer union for the benefit of the dentists and the public.

More publicity urged. More publicity was also decided upon. Articles, written by dentists, will be published in all papers of the state in order to educate the people in the care of the teeth and the importance of mouth cleanliness. Pamphlets will be distributed, and talks will be given whenever possible by members of the profession.

The dentists refused to care for the teeth of soldiers unless paid for the work. They held that the government should look out for the fitness of their recruits and should have a larger dental corps. It was said that the profession always does a large amount of charity work, and that it is unjust for the government to ask the dentists to do work without compensation.

Many illuminating addresses were delivered during the assembly both by local and outside dentists. The clinics were conducted by able men and were both interesting and educative. The convention was fortunate in having with it such widely recognized authorities as Drs. Hartzell and Cummer.

DENTAL ASSOCIATION CLOSED INTERESTING SESSION YESTERDAY

Convention Votes to Give Money for National Research Work for Profession

A business meeting and election of officers yesterday morning, and a trip and dinner on the Columbia river highway in the afternoon, closed the twenty-third annual meeting of the Oregon State Dental association which had been in session at the North Pacific Dental college for the past four days.

Dentistry was discussed from all angles and plans were made for the ensuing year. Four important steps were taken by the convention. Money was contributed to the National Dental association and to research work, effort was made to cooperate with Washington dentists, more publicity was decided upon, and refusal was made to repairing the teeth of recruits for the army without compensation.

Each to Give a Dollar. The contribution to the National Dental association was raised from one dollar per member of the society to two dollars. Dr. Hartzell of Minneapolis, who is a trustee of the National organization, explained the lack of finances for research work.

SUFFRAGE WORKERS REACH PORTLAND ON EXTENDED AUTO TRIP

Mrs. Alice Burke and Miss Nellie Richardson of National Association Are Here

Disparaging the condition of Oregon roads as well as others they have traversed, Mrs. Alice S. Burke and Miss Nellie Richardson, representing the National American Woman's Suffrage association, arrived in Portland yesterday noon. They are making an automobile trip around the United States in the interests of equal suffrage.

The young ladies left New York April 6, and will touch the four corners of the United States. They went down the Atlantic coast to Atlanta, from there to Los Angeles, and will leave Portland Monday for Seattle. From the latter city they will return to New York, expecting to reach the metropolis early in September.

Mrs. Burke and Miss Richardson work for suffrage in each state, from one to five speeches being made daily. Three weeks were spent in Texas and five in California. The non-suffrage states receive the bulk of the ladies' time.

Each Good Claimed. "Our trip is a great thing for suffrage," said Mrs. Burke at the Mallory hotel last evening. "Suffrage is afforded much advertising and we are greeted all along the road by shouts from the grove, the machine sets caught in a rut and must be dug out. 'We have stayed in a few cities for a week, but most of our stops have been for a day only. We have stayed in over 70 towns for one night. And we never know how many addresses we must make in a city until we reach it. Our program has been made out in advance and we must conform with it.'"

Accompanying the ladies is a black kitten. It was given them on their departure from New York and has remained since. "Yes the kitten is an important member of the party," explained Mrs. Burke. "At first it was a little difficult for him to be at home in the machine, but he has become accustomed now. We have a hard time smuggling him into the hotels, although we have succeeded so far. He
