

FIRST BATTALION IS PLEASANTLY CAMPED NEAR SAN DIEGO, CAL.

Greatest Things Boys Miss, However, Are Bull Run Water and Pretty Girls.

EXPOSITION IS VISITED

Oregon Militiamen are Getting Used to Climate and Health of Men Is Reported as Excellent.

By Sergt. Wm. Earl O'Brien, C Company, Third Oregon Inf. San Diego, Cal. July 7.—(By Mail) The boys of the First battalion are highly pleased with the location of the camp. It is situated on a high plateau, just outside of San Diego, and has a commanding view of the Pacific ocean.

The two greatest things that our boys miss are Bull Run water and pretty girls. Regarding the latter, every man is firmly convinced that the little rosebud north here has no equal, and our fond sweethearts of the Heaver state need have no fear of some fair southern beauty captivating her hero.

Boys Visit Exposition. All the men of the First and Second battalions have taken in the San Diego fair, which is a very remarkable exhibition.

The First battalion has had no serious illness as yet. This is considered a splendid showing when it is noted that almost all the boys are unused to the climate or conditions.

"Mistaken" for Spy.

The boys in C company are rapidly becoming acclimated and many of them bear a close resemblance to the Native Sons. First Sergeant Charles Renard, who has been burned to a beautiful brown, created quite a commotion with the crowd the other evening. He had been paying a visit to the San Diego fair and was just returning, when one of the sentinels accused him of being a Mexican spy.

Company is a proud organization today. Major L. A. Baker informed them that they had the cleanest rifles in the battalion. The company was put to a complete rout yesterday during a bayonet charge. They were charging gallantly across the field when a big rattlesnake loomed up in the center. Some of the men are just getting back to their tents after a hundred yards in nothing at all this morning, when he awoke and found a big healthy tarantula staring him in the face.

Cook Makes Good.

Private Harry M. White has been appointed company cook and judging from the broad satisfied smiles after mess, he knows how to 'dish em up.

Outside of Captain Mitchell, the busiest man in the company is the barber. It has been decreed by a committee of privates that every man have the topknot removed and this decision has kept the barber hopping. Mike, the St. Bernard pup, who wears the shoulder straps of "company mascot" is enjoying the climate immensely. The only time he moves is when he hears mess call.

First Sergeant Schwartz has relieved "Futch" the company B mascot, from duty, and appointed Oscar, a horned toad, in his stead.

Long letters from home are at a premium in B company as is the case throughout the regiment.

Shortage of Houses Problem at Donald

Donald, Or., July 10.—Donald is experiencing a house shortage at the present time, every house in the town being occupied and there is an insistent demand for more. There will be some building in the near future. Good rentals may be secured and an endeavor is being made to get people to put up houses as an investment.

The town has been growing quite rapidly for several months, with every prospect that it will be continued for some time to come. Among the new industries started here are a cheese factory, bank, hardware store, newspaper and an electrical store. There are openings for few other lines, including a drug store, doctor, dentist and commission house and efforts are being made to fill them.

Loganberry Picking On.

Donald, Or., July 10.—Loganberry picking is on in full blast in the various yards in the vicinity of Donald. Most of the berries here are being delivered to the juice factory at Woodburn, some to the factory holding five-year contracts with the factory there.

NEW YORK WOMEN AID WAR FAMILIES

MISS GERTRUDE ROBINSON-SMITH

New York, July 10.—That a very real effort is being made by the women of New York to centralize relief work for the families of soldiers ordered to Mexico, and to meet the emergency cases that are already presenting themselves is shown by the forming of the National Patriotic Relief committee.

Miss Maude Wetmore has been selected national chairman and Miss Gertrude Robinson-Smith, chairman of the New York state committee.

Seen at her office, Miss Smith told of the contemplated work of the new organization. The object of the National Patriotic Relief committee," said Miss Smith, "is to aid the dependent families of soldiers and non-combatants. The work will be carried on along modern scientific and constructive lines by a professional and volunteer staff. Every effort will be made to place families on a self-supporting basis by securing employment when needed. In emergency cases temporary work will be provided in work rooms. The committee will not aid the combatants except in cooperation with the Red Cross, which is so efficiently equipped to handle it."

TWO ARE DROWNED IN TRYING TO SWIM THE DESCHUTES NEAR BEND

William Watson Jr., of Portland, and Jack Maller Succumb to Cold and Current.

Bend, Or., July 10.—William Watson Jr., of 131 East Thirty-second street, Portland, and Jack Maller, whose home is near Scranton, Pa., were drowned in the Deschutes river yesterday afternoon about 2:30 o'clock. Watson's body has not been recovered. Maller's body had not been found late yesterday. Both men were in the employ of the Shelvinton Lumber company.

The drownings were the result of a dare. One challenged the other to swim the river and the two jumped in. When about half way across Watson cried for help. Men on the bank sprang into the water fully clothed, but were forced back by the extreme cold and stiffness of the water.

One succeeded in getting a hold on Watson, however, and towed him to the bank, but he could not be revived. Maller did not come to the surface a second time.

Watson came to Bend about a month ago. He had been playing baseball with the team. He played in the game with Bend yesterday against Prineville. His home has been in Portland for the past six years. His father, William Watson, is a railroad man in the employ of the O-W. R. & N. Young States consul general at Shanghai and ex-secretary of the provisional government of Tien Tsin under appointment from the allied powers. Denby had just returned from an extensive business trip in the orient.

"China sees in every cent invested in that country a hold on the United States which she will guarantee her against Japanese aggression," Denby said.

American Help Is Urged to Save China

Detroit, Mich., July 10.—(U. P.)—Investment of United States capital in China to prevent further Japanese aggression was advocated here yesterday by Charles Denby, former United States consul general at Shanghai and ex-secretary of the provisional government of Tien Tsin under appointment from the allied powers.

Grant County Poor Sent to New Home

Because of Age and Difficulty in Securing Help Mrs. Julia Neece Decides to Relocate.

John Day, Or., July 10.—After caring for Grant county's poor for more than 20 years on her farm 11 miles above Canyon City, Mrs. Julia Neece has decided to accept the contract for another year. Owing to her advanced age and the difficulty in securing competent hired help Mrs. Neece found herself unable longer to carry the responsibilities of the work.

Mrs. George Guiden, mother of the county treasurer, has now secured the contract for maintaining the county poor. The county charges have been transferred to her Mountain Rest ranch, 12 miles north of John Day. Mrs. Guiden's bid was $4 a week for each inmate.

MEXICAN AMBASSADOR TO GIVE HIS CHIEF'S VIEWS OF SITUATION

He and Acting Secretary Polk May Begin Talking Over Border Troubles Tuesday.

Washington July 10.—(I. N. S.)—Eusebio Arredondo, Mexican ambassador designate is expected to furnish Acting Secretary Polk Tuesday with Carranza's suggestions for protection of the border and the settlement of outstanding questions between the United States and Mexico. Unless present plans are changed and negotiations taken up direct between Washington and Mexico City, Acting Secretary Polk and Mr. Arredondo will take up the proposals and counter proposals of both governments and attempt to compose the differences at informal conferences.

The completed agreement reached will be submitted to President Wilson and General Carranza for ratification. The detail of pressing importance is that relating to the effective patrol of the border. State department officials say this will be insisted on first, as on it depends the fate of the withdrawal of General Pershing's troops and the return of the national guardsmen to their homes.

Records today show that there are 45,000 national guardsmen on the border and an equal number in state mobilization points preparing for departure. State department officials seem to be assured that Carranza will suggest that a strong force of Mexicans take care of the Mexican side of the border after the withdrawal of Pershing's force, while an equally strong force of United States troops guard the American side.

Carranza's idea, as understood here, is that United States troops be stationed in the border towns on this side of the line and in camps where there are no towns and that the Mexicans be disposed of on the other side of the line in towns and camps, the location of which is to be determined by a joint American-Mexican military board.

With the theoretical policing of the border agreed upon, Secretary Polk and Mr. Arredondo will take up the next question of national and municipal elections which Carranza has promised and never carried through.

These questions and various others related to Mexico's economic conditions will be disposed of before serious consideration is given to steps for rehabilitating Mexican finances, officials say.

JOY RIDERS LOSE IN RACE FOR CROSSING; 4 KILLED BY TRAIN

Gay Party Laugh and Wave Hands as They Dash to Destruction. PILOT CATCHES AUTO

Arthur W. Stern, Driver, Known as a Fast Driver, Had Escaped Death Only a Short Time Ago.

San Francisco, July 10.—(P. N. S.)—Four automobile joy riders rode stinging into the jaws of death yesterday afternoon.

They laughed and waved as they tried to beat Southern Pacific train No. 23, over the San Bruno highway crossing at 3:30 o'clock. Now their bodies are at the South San Francisco morgue, torn and mangled.

Three of the four, two men and a woman, were killed outright, when the pilot of the locomotive caught the automobile squarely in the middle and carried it along the track for 1000 yards.

Four Are Dead. The fourth man, the driver, died a short time afterwards. The dead are B. C. Fricke, Mrs. Gertrude Fricke, Arthur W. Stern and Miss Jessie Crank.

There was a fifth in this wild party, a beautiful dog, who was carried to death with his master. The dog's body was found 500 feet from the track.

All reports agree that the accident was the result of reckless driving on the part of Stern. He was known as a fast driver. Two weeks ago he and Miss Crank, his companion of today, had an accident in which they were badly bruised.

Passengers Wave at Fireman. Stern and his party were going south from San Francisco. As they approached the San Bruno crossing, which is in plain view over open country, they saw the train coming.

According to Fireman N. J. Nichols, the occupants of the machine waved and the driver put on more speed in the effort to reach the crossing first. The "wig wag" bell at the crossing was ringing. There are no gates at the crossing, which is made at right angles. Nichols leaped out of his cab

19 DEATHS ADDED YESTERDAY TO LIST OF PARALYSIS VICTIMS

Eighty-eight New Cases Are Also Reported by Health Authorities During Day.

224 HAVE SUCCUMBED

Scourge Spreading to All Boroughs Around New York; New Element of Danger Enters Epidemic.

New York, July 9.—(I. N. S.)—Nineteen deaths from infantile paralysis and 81 new cases of the disease were reported by the city health authorities today. These are smaller totals than have been given out on some previous days. Totals for the epidemic are 224 deaths and 980 cases.

While health department officials expressed encouragement at today's figures, it was subsequently admitted that the dreadful scourge has been spreading into all the boroughs, striking down the brightest and seemingly the strongest little children, in by no means under control.

A new element of danger is made known. It is estimated that perhaps 2000 "abortives" or lost typical cases of infantile paralysis have not even been reported.

These may be as contagious as the more serious cases—even more so, considering that children who have the disease in severe form are isolated. Recognizing this peril as serious, the health department is installing electrical apparatus in the infested districts with nerve specialists and expert diagnosticians to detect the abortive cases.

Surgeon C. H. Lavender of the United States public health service announced tonight that no federal investigation is deemed necessary at this time.

Will Start Survey For Tri-County Road

Route for State Highway Through Wheeler, Grant and Malheur to Be Marked Out by Surveying Party.

John Day, Or., July 10.—The survey of the proposed state highway through Wheeler, Grant and Malheur counties will be started within the next few days. J. H. Scott of the state engineer's office will be in charge of the work. The surveying party will probably commence work at Prairie City, Ore., crew working down the John Day river and another across the summit of the Blue mountains into Malheur county.

The proposed survey runs across a corner of Baker county, and the cost of the work over this portion of the road will probably have to be met by public subscription, as Baker county refused to appropriate money for the survey. No serious difficulty is anticipated in raising this money, however, as the other three counties concerned are strongly in favor of the road.
