Invasion of Galicia Begins With Capture of Brody, While Entire German Defense Is Now Imperiled.

THREE GREAT BLOWS TOLD OF BY PETROGRAD

Russians Have Captured 20,000 Men in Five Days in Armenian Fighting.

Petrograd, July 29.—(U. P.)—Three crushing blows, delivered simultaneously by General Sidoroff and Lechitzky against the Teuton forces in northeastern Galicia, Volhynia and the region south of the Danube, have hurled back the Teuton front for many miles, placed the Russians in possession of Brody, key point to Lemberg, and gravely imperiled the Teuton's entire system of defense in the east.

Today's official statement from the Russian war office was brief but highly descriptive of the Russians' brilliant victories. It said:

"General Brusiloff has thrown back the enemy's whole front, from the Kovel-Rovno railway to Brody, which was captured."

Take 20,000 in Five Days.

"General Lechitzky drove the enemy back to the direction of Stanislaw, south of the Dniester."

"Erzerum has been taken by the Russians, who have made prisoners of 400 officers and 20,000 men in the past few days of fighting. Fifty-five guns also were captured."

"On the Caucasian front, our troops are going forward in the direction of Rivas and Kharkoff. The Turks attacked fiercely at Moscow, but were driven back by counter attacks and fled in disorder."

Kovel Being Enveloped.

Kovel is rapidly being enveloped from the south as the Russian armies increasingly hammer the Austrians in Galicia. Capture of Brody, military experts point out here today, gives the Russians an opportunity to improve their thrust northward toward the Danube.

FIRMS BLACKLISTED WERE SENDING MONEY TO GERMANY, CHARGE

British Deliver Note to United States Explaining Reasons for Issuing Blacklist.

Washington, July 29.—(U. P.)—The British embassy today officially announced that assurances given the state department by Ambassador Spring-Rice regarding the scope of the blacklist against certain American firms had not been considered a satisfactory reply to this government's note called to London Thursday night.

The text of the assurances given the state department follows:

"The government is blacklisting a neutral firm merely because it continues to do business with a firm that is blacklisted, but if a neutral firm habitually and systematically acted as a cover for a blacklisted firm, and so caused indirect trading between British firms and blacklisted firms, the case would be different."

Payment to Neutrals Not Affected.

"Regarding payment to blacklisted firms, our action does not affect payment to a neutral, and we habitually grant licenses to British firms to pay current debts to blacklisted firms, unless it is clear beyond doubt that such payment would be passed on to or create a credit for enemies in enemy territory."

The embassy has definite knowledge that large sums of money or the equivalent in credit have been obtained for the German government by blacklisted firms, it was said today. No statement to the state department was obtainable, as it was said such action would result in the disclosure of the secrets of neutrals and firms not under suspicion.

No Secondary Blacklist.

The memorandum which was from the foreign office, guarantees that the blacklist will apply only to those firms, actually named and there will be no secondary blacklist. It also says that a firm is not subject to the list unless it is proved to be an agent of the German government or is sending money to Germany.

Sir Francis G. delivered the communication to Assistant Secretary of State Phillips, who is acting as secretary in the absence of Mr. Polk. While at the department he had a short talk with American Ambassador to Mexico Fletcher, and also visited Secretary of War Baker.

By secondary blacklist, it was explained, was meant that American firms trading with blacklisted concerns would not themselves be blacklisted.

ROSEBURG WOMAN IS INJURED ON HER WAY TO CHURCH BY TRUCK

Mrs. William Kelleher Is Victim; Auto Truck Driver Is Held by Police.

While on her way to church, Mrs. William Kelleher of Roseburg, who is visiting her sister, Mrs. James Griffin, 93 East Eighth street north, was struck by an automobile truck this morning as she was crossing East Riverside street between Eighth and Ninth, and received injuries which may prove fatal. It is believed she has a fracture at the base of the skull.

The auto truck was driven by W. H. Wilson, a truck gardener, who lives at East Eighth street and Schuyler streets and has a booth at the public market. Wilson has been placed under arrest to await for investigation by the district attorney.

Wilson said he was going only about six or seven miles an hour when he struck the woman. He said the body of the machine passed over her and she was picked up about six feet in the rear of the truck. He said he thought his brakes were not working properly or he could have stopped sooner.

WILSON'S MOVE ON CHILD LABOR BILL ASTOUNDS

Some Southern Senators Are Much Perturbed Over Turn Taken Regarding Measure Passed by the House.

SUPPOSED BILL WAS SAFELY SIDETRACKED

Speaker Clark's Action Avoided One Pitfall in the Lower House.

Washington, July 29.—(WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE JOURNAL)—President Wilson's call to congress to provide child labor legislation has stirred up a commotion at the senate end of the capitol. Some of the southern champions of "state sovereignty" prevailed over the making of an issue of this question, which they supposed had been conveniently sidetracked until the short session came on.

Then, when the short session arrived, with appropriation bills pending and numerous other measures demanding a hearing, it would be comparatively easy by the display of determined opposition to shove the bill over to another congress. Meanwhile the existing abuses and the profits gained from them would go on, in the changing scenes of parliamentary maneuvering, the ineffectual government gets in its best work.

Experience in House.

It is not generally known that the child labor bill had a close call in the house. It was passed by an overwhelming vote last February, but before it reached the senate it had two dangerous points to pass. Only the vigilance of its friends saved the day.

The first danger point was the question of reference. The speaker could have sent it either to the committee on labor, which was favorable, or to the committee on interstate and foreign commerce, of which Adamson of Georgia has progressed to the point of the latter committee. It would either be there yet or would have come out (Continued on Page Seven, Column Six.)

BERNSTORFF WILL TRY TO LOCATE MERCHANT SUBMARINE BREMEN

Baltimore, Md., July 29.—(U. P.)—Barred by the American censorship from communicating with their government by cable or wireless, agents here of the German merchant submarine Deutschland today decided to request the German ambassador, Count von Bernstorff, to locate through diplomatic channels the vessel, and bring her here.

It was learned from authoritative sources that the Deutschland will remain until the Bremen has reported.

Baltimore, Md., July 29.—(U. P.)—Fear of spies had grown to an obsession with certain members of the German freighter submarine Deutschland's crew today. With two additional British ships in the harbor for cargo today and the Britisher Ardgeric making no move to leave, the Deutschland watchers developed an unusual nervousness.

Even trivial things worried them. An expedition from the Timmins made a hurried trip to the long private pier to which press tugs are tied after discovering that a private telephone line had been installed there. The pressmen saw it that no step was made to remove the wires, but that the German intelligence had been operating along the waterfront for several days to clear away newspapers and prevent them obtaining boats.

The time for the Deutschland to depart still is an unsolved, apparently an unsolvable mystery. The talk is that she is going out within a few days, but the truth is not in the rumormongers that swarm the waterfront.

Indications with the Deutschland promoters are that they are not unduly alarmed about the fate of the Deutschland's sister ship, the Bremen, though they will be if she does not appear in the next few days.

German Official News Bureau Says Sir Edward Grey's Answer to American Appeal Is Splendid Example of It.

"British hypocrisy in this case is especially transparent."

Even trivial things worried them. An expedition from the Timmins made a hurried trip to the long private pier to which press tugs are tied after discovering that a private telephone line had been installed there. The pressmen saw it that no step was made to remove the wires, but that the German intelligence had been operating along the waterfront for several days to clear away newspapers and prevent them obtaining boats.

The time for the Deutschland to depart still is an unsolved, apparently an unsolvable mystery. The talk is that she is going out within a few days, but the truth is not in the rumormongers that swarm the waterfront.

Indications with the Deutschland promoters are that they are not unduly alarmed about the fate of the Deutschland's sister ship, the Bremen, though they will be if she does not appear in the next few days.

German Official News Bureau Says Sir Edward Grey's Answer to American Appeal Is Splendid Example of It.

Berlin (Via Sayville, L. I.), July 29.—(U. P.)—British hypocrisy in the negotiations for relief work in Poland was bitterly attacked in a statement made public today by the official news bureau.

Sir Edward Grey answered the American president's appeal to all belligerent nations to establish an understanding about relief work in Poland, and issued a declaration which is no more than an attempt to include the territories occupied by Germany and Austria-Hungary into the system of Germany's starvation, proclaimed by the British government, an ant international law, the statement asserted.

"British hypocrisy in this case is especially transparent."

Speaker Clark's Action Avoided One Pitfall in the Lower House.

Washington, July 29.—(WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE JOURNAL)—President Wilson's call to congress to provide child labor legislation has stirred up a commotion at the senate end of the capitol. Some of the southern champions of "state sovereignty" prevailed over the making of an issue of this question, which they supposed had been conveniently sidetracked until the short session came on.

Then, when the short session arrived, with appropriation bills pending and numerous other measures demanding a hearing, it would be comparatively easy by the display of determined opposition to shove the bill over to another congress. Meanwhile the existing abuses and the profits gained from them would go on, in the changing scenes of parliamentary maneuvering, the ineffectual government gets in its best work.

Experience in House.

It is not generally known that the child labor bill had a close call in the house. It was passed by an overwhelming vote last February, but before it reached the senate it had two dangerous points to pass. Only the vigilance of its friends saved the day.

The first danger point was the question of reference. The speaker could have sent it either to the committee on labor, which was favorable, or to the committee on interstate and foreign commerce, of which Adamson of Georgia has progressed to the point of the latter committee. It would either be there yet or would have come out (Continued on Page Seven, Column Six.)
