HOW TO PREVENT LOSS IN HANDLING OF EGGS

A Few Simple Rules to Observe in Increasing the Selling Price. There are a few simple rules which, if carefully observed, will increase the selling price of market eggs to the extent of several million dollars a year

1. Gather eggs twice daily during warm weather and daily during other seasons. Handle eggs just as little as possible. Every time they are handled they deteriorate.

2. Gather eggs twice daily during warm weather and daily during other seasons. Handle eggs just as little as possible. Every time they are handled they deteriorate.

3. Market eggs of the correct size, 2 1/2 to 2 3/4 ounces per dozen. Produce infertile eggs. They stand shipment better than fertile eggs. They do not develop germs, withstand the heat, cost less to produce, and seldom decay from any trouble in the interior of the egg. Kill, sell or confine the mature male birds as soon as the hatching season is over.

4. Keep the eggs in a cool place. A dry, cool room, or a dry, cool basement or cellar, will prevent shrinkage, mold and chick development.

5. Don't let eggs come in contact with bad odors such as paints, kerosene, cabbage or decaying vegetables or meat.

6. Hold eggs deteriorate. They shrink in weight, evaporation takes place and they lose their flavor and freshness. Market the eggs twice a week in hot weather.

7. Keep one variety of poultry and produce eggs of one color. Market your eggs in clean, 30 dozen cases, or in cartons holding one dozen eggs depending upon the demand.

8. Don't expose eggs to flies and dust and dirt and thus spoil their appearance. Confine broody hens or remove them at once to the hatching department.

9. Never expose market eggs to the direct rays of the sun, to extreme heat or to rain.
