DEMOCRATS TO MEET TO ADJUST DETAILS OF REVENUE MEASURE

Senator Underwood Fighting Proposed Dyestuff Tariff Urged by President Wilson.

INHERITANCE TAX FIXED

New Method of Taking Real Estate Speculation Devised; Super Taxes on the Big Incomes Approved.

Washington, Aug. 12.—(U. P.)—With Senator Underwood on the warpath against the proposed dyestuffs tariff and the tariff commission urged by President Wilson, Democrats will meet Sunday afternoon to thresh out final details of the general revenue measure.

Income and inheritance tax rates were finally fixed tonight, the caucus approving the following new high classifications:

On the amount of estate exceeding $1,000,000 and not exceeding $2,000,000, 6 per cent; from two to three million, 7 per cent; three to four million, 8 per cent, four to five million, 10 per cent.

New super taxes on income by which incomes exceeding two millions must pay 13 per cent finally were approved.

No exception allowances were created. Hereafter the owner of a mine, gas or oil well may have deducted from his total taxable valuation, each year as much of his products as is actually taken from the earth.

Hitherto an artificial maximum of 5 per cent has been set.

A new method of taxing real estate speculation also was devised. The amount to be taxed will be arrived at by subtracting what the land was worth in March, 1913—when the income tax law first was passed—from its present value.

the country and has been informed the request will be granted.

As a result Monday will probably find the nation's executive path pating unless some sort of an agreement is reached tomorrow morning in New York. It was not disclosed whether he would invite both sides to come to Washington to see him or would himself go to New York. Both plans were under consideration.

During the day a large petition, bearing the signatures of 6000 employes of the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis railroad, the first of many similar petitions, from the railroad employes, not in the four brotherhoods, was left at the White House. They urge arbitration.

Southern Pacific Is Prepared.

San Francisco, Aug. 12.—(I. N. S.)—Southern Pacific company officials stated today if the railroad strike is called they anticipate no congestion in handling trains. Since the strike cloud began to appear the employment bureau has been compiling a reserve list of employes, who will be called upon to take the place of strikers. This list, according to statements today, is sufficient to provide men for all branches of the service likely to be affected by the strike.

T. Ahern, superintendent of the coast division, when asked regarding the activity of the company in building fences in the San Francisco and South San Francisco yards, said:

"These fences are merely for the protection of the company in the ordinary conduct of its business and were not inspired by the threatening strike difficulties. They do not enclose any of our property. They fence it off from public streets and highways."

The fences are similar to those erected in 1911.

Army Leaders Confer.

San Antonio, Texas, Aug. 12.—(I. N. S.)—Generals Funston and Bliss today conferred concerning steps to be taken regarding movements of troops along the border. An event of a general railroad strike being called. Both were agreed that the strike would play havoc with army operations and that the only feasible plan now apparent would be some arrangement whereby the military authorities could take over and operate its own trains.

Unorganized Labor Appeals.

Washington, Aug. 12.—(I. N. S.)—Six thousand unorganized railroad employes, acting through Robert T. Frazier of the Nashville, Chattanooga & St. Louis railroad, today appealed to President Wilson for protection from the "destructive interruption of interstate commerce" which they declared would be brought about if the threatened railroad employes' strike is called.

A. F. L. Backs Railroad Employes.

Washington, Aug. 12.—(I. N. S.)—"The American Federation of Labor stands squarely behind the railway employes," declared Secretary Morrison of that organization in a statement today discussing the threatened railroad strike, "and will support them to the end in their fight against the roads."

Secrecy Maintained By the Mexicans

No Hint Given When the Commission Will Leave to Attend the Mexican-American Conferences.

Mexico City, Aug. 12.—(U. P.)—Both Foreign Secretary Aguilar and the Mexican commissioners declined today to say when the commission would leave to attend the Mexican-American conferences.

Correspondents of local newspapers assigned to accompany the delegates have been instructed to hold themselves in readiness to leave at a moment's notice.

San Diego Exhibit Draws Big Crowds

Attendance So Far This Year in Excess of That During Corresponding Period Last Year, Officials Say.

San Diego, Cal., Aug. 12.—(U. P.)—The habit of "seeing America first" has been definitely established by the San Francisco and San Diego expositions last year and the San Diego exposition this year, according to the opinion expressed by officials of the San Diego fair tonight.

The attendance at the local exposition so far this year has exceeded that of last year, in spite of the fact that the San Francisco exposition of 1915 swelled the tide of westward travel more than it had ever been swelled before.

The last official attendance figures given out here covered the year up to July 4. They showed that 648,707 persons had seen the exposition this year during that period as compared to 620,191 for the same period last year.

Railroad officials here and in other Pacific coast cities declare that westward passenger traffic has not been quite as heavy as last year, but that it has been much heavier than any previous year excepting 1915.

Tourist travel to the coast so far this year, they say, has been from 25 to 35 per cent heavier than it was in 1914 and the indications are that it will increase as the summer advances.

Eskimo Murderers Booked for Capture

Captain French and Three Officers of Northwest Mounted Police Leave Winnipeg on Long Trip in Far North.

Winnipeg, Man., Aug. 12.—(U. P.)—A long chase after the Eskimo murderers of the New York explorers, Radford and Street, killed somewhere between here and the North Pole, was begun when Captain French and three officers of the Northwest Mounted Police left tonight for the Hudson bay vicinity.

Democratic Rule of Next Senate Seen

Republicans Have No Chance, Declares Senator Saulsbury of Delaware, on Senatorial Fight Committee.

Chicago, Aug. 12.—(U. P.)—"The Republicans have no chance of controlling the next senate. The Democrats will not only maintain their majority but will increase it considerably this fall," declared Senator William Saulsbury of Delaware, on the national committee handling the senatorial fight, in a statement here tonight.

"Anyone familiar with the condition of politics must know how hopeless the Republicans are of controlling the next senate," he said. "The Democrats now have a 16 majority in the senate and Republicans must gain Democrats' seats and lose none to have a majority in the next senate."

Thirty-four senators are to be elected, and 18 vacancies occur in Democratic seats and 16 in Republican seats.

Serving with Saulsbury on the committee are Senator Thomas Walsh of Montana and Senator William J. Stone of Missouri, chairman of the senate committee on foreign relations.

Bandits Rob Pay Car, Posse Is in Pursuit

Men Escape With Loot in Sum of $1,500; Train Is Halted at Crossing Near Joliet, Ill.

Joliet, Ill., Aug. 12.—(U. P.)—A sheriff's posse searched woods here tonight for two masked bandits who today held up and robbed a pay car on the Elgin, Joliet and Eastern railroad, near here, and escaped with $1,500 in loot.

The bandits halted the train at a crossing, and while one covered the train crew and paymaster, the other collected the money.

Sun Hatches Chicks.

Altoona, Pa., Aug. 12.—Waiting the prescribed length of time for an old hen to hatch out a setting of eggs, Mrs. John Carey, wife of a locomotive engineer, carried the eggs to the ash pile in the rear of her yard, thinking they were no good. The sun beat down on them all day, and before evening five little chickens were hopping about the yard, piping for something to eat.

The first balloon ascent was made in 1798.

AMERICANS SAID TO BE BACKING PLOT TO START NEW REVOLT

United States Secret Service Men and Carranza Agents Watch Suspects.

PRECAUTIONS ARE TAKEN

Military Men on Border Fear New Complications May Arise Because of Unrest in Northern Mexico.

By Webb C. Miller.

El Paso, Texas, Aug. 12.—(U. P.)—The Carranza government is taking steps to nip a new revolution in the bud. Generals Salazar, Arroyo and Caraveo are among the 150 suspects arrested in Chihuahua City, according to today's advices.

They are held for investigation of a reported plot by a new party, "the Legalistas," who are said to be backed by Mexican exiles and American interests desiring intervention.

An official in close touch with Mexican affairs stated that United States secret service men are watching revolutionary agents here.

Americans who crossed the river at Juarez today were carefully scrutinized and questioned by Carranza officials, who declared Americans are active in the alleged revolutionary plot.

Precautions Are Taken.

Precautions were taken at Juarez and Chihuahua City to guard against a mutiny in the Carranzista garrisons. According to official authority, the recent defection of Colonel Mariano Tames in Juarez was an outcropping of the projected revolt.

The "Legalistas" are a party of wealthy Mexican exiles, many residing in Los Angeles, San Antonio and other American cities, whose legal claims to great areas and mineral riches in Mexico are endangered by Carranzista reforms.

Information received by El Paso military men indicated that the desultory Carranzista pursuit of Villa has been abandoned entirely, although his hiding place was said to be known to the commanders of the de facto government troops.

New Complication Feared.

An undercurrent of restlessness and impending revolt among the natives in northern Mexico is alarming military men on the border who fear new complications may result. Carranzista authorities are making every effort to prevent a threatened rebellion brought on by an enforced fiat currency and famine.

Meantime, Pancho Villa, according to information given by a high authority here, is gaining in strength and planning the issuance of a manifesto soon, calling on all Mexicans to rebel against the present government.

Militia Ordered to Border.

Washington, Aug. 12.—(I. N. S.)—Thirty thousand national guardsmen, all that remain in the mobilization camps of the country, have been ordered to the Mexican border as fast as they can be equipped and transportation for them can be obtained, the war department announced today.

The order, it was learned, was issued three days ago, but news of it was suppressed until today. Acting under it, the South Carolina guardsmen and probably militia from other states also are now en route to the concentration camps on the frontier.

Officials of the war department explained the mobilization was to carry out fully the objects of the national mobilization as ordered by President Wilson and further to give the guardsmen the experience under semi-war condition.

Reports to the state department, however, show that the border states of Mexico are in a pitiful economic condition, and that the situation for that reason and because of the increased numbers of lawless bands operating, threatens to result in a new revolution which would halt the negotiations between the United States and Carranza.

fice that the orderly made the statement.

Captain Lique Is Silent.

Captain Lique, on leaving the consul's office, was asked if the report was true.

"I do not care to make any statement regarding the matter," said the captain. "We are not here to give out statements."

"Did your ship get a wireless from a British cruiser in the Atlantic last Tuesday morning?" he was asked.

"I refuse to talk on the subject," said the captain as he walked away and angrily turned on the orderly who followed him.

"Were you 200 miles off the mouth of the Mississippi Tuesday morning?" was another question.

"Yes, we cruised by about that time," was the reply.

"If your ship got such a message why didn't other wireless stations hear it?"

"I won't talk," was the brusque reply as he stepped into a taxicab.

George W. Howe, French consular agent here, tonight also declared the story of the sinking of the Deutschland was entirely without foundation.

Washington Can't Confirm Report.

Washington, Aug. 12.—(I. N. S.)—No confirmation could be obtained at the French embassy tonight of the report that a French cruiser putting in at Pensacola had reported the capture of the German submarine Deutschland.

The navy department has heard nothing about it. The report was discredited there on the ground that the Deutschland is believed to have taken a northern course.

At the British embassy it was stated that no report of the capture of the Deutschland had been received there.

Husband Wife's Boss Year After Wedding

News of 13 Month Old Elopement of Freight Claim Clerk and His Stenographer Becomes Public.

Boston, Aug. 12.—News of a 13-month old elopement and marriage became known when it was learned that James D. Nary of Somerville and Miss Wilhelmina Mack of Melrose were married at Portsmouth, N. H., on June 26, 1915.

Ever since they were married, as well as for some months before, Mrs. Nary has worked as a stenographer under the direction of her husband, who was head of the freight claim office of the Boston & Maine railroad until a week ago, when he obtained a position in a Cambridge automobile factory.

Since their marriage they have been away on several trips, always living as if unmarried. They went to Portsmouth on June 17, 1915, applied for a license and returned a week later and were married. After a four days' honeymoon they returned to their positions at the freight claim office. Mr. Nary was graduated from the Somerville high school in 1912, and Mrs. Nary was graduated the same year from a Boston business college.

GIRLS' HONOR GUARD PROGRESSING WITH VERY RAPID STRIDES

About 5000 Are Now Interested in Movement Which Extends From Coast to Coast

OREGON IS NOW INCLUDED

Over 300 Are Taking Red Cross Course This Summer, Says Report of Miss Theodore Booth.

New York, Aug. 12. The Girls' National Honor Guard, an organization made up of the young women of the country who are anxious to serve the United States in every way possible, is making progress according to the report of the work of the organization since March 2 last, made by Miss Theodore Booth, secretary.

Since the charter for the incorporation has been granted eight local guards in New York, New Jersey, Louisiana, Oregon, Texas, Indiana and Massachusetts have been formed. The organization in each of these states is now well under way. Other members representing California, Wyoming, Washington, Pennsylvania, Connecticut, New Hampshire, West Virginia, Iowa, Kentucky, Michigan, Arizona and Florida expect to have local guards under way by the early fall.

In her report Miss Booth said: "Over 300 girls will be taking the American Red Cross course during the summer. We have approximately interested about 5000 girls. The Honor Guard girls of New Orleans number about 300. Seventy of them are taking 'first aid' work with the finest surgeons in that city.

"Classes in swimming, shooting, sewing, cooking, riding, care of children and social service nursing are being formed all over the United States by Honor Guard girls. The report says, 'eager to serve their country in every way possible.' The Honor Guard girls in Laredo, Tex., showed a splendid and generous spirit in the prompt action of sympathy and interest for the three American soldiers killed in battle with the bandits at San Ignacio during the last week in June.

"Above all," Miss Booth declares, "our girls are not conflicting with any other organization."
