

ASSESSING OF O. & C. LANDS WOULD APPEAR TO DENY TITLE OF U. S.

Contention of Eugene Commercial Club, if Correct, Would Uphold Railroad.

LAND TO BE OPENED SOON

State Expected to Receive $24,000,000 to Be Divided Evenly Between Schools and Grant County Roads.

When Oregon receives its full share, as expected, from the O. & C. land grant fund, it will have approximately $12,000,000 to add to its irreducible common school fund and an equal amount for use by the land grant counties for road purposes.

But if the movement launched by the Eugene Commercial club should prevail to have the grant lands kept on the tax rolls this year by being assessed as the property of the O. & C. railroad company, it will appear that the government has no title in the lands and cannot dispose of them for the benefit of the public, and Oregon schools and roads in particular.

Under the provisions of the act recently passed by congress, the railroad company is to be paid $2.50 an acre for the 2,300,000 acres remaining in the grant, the title to the land reverts to the government, the lands are being classified and will be opened to settlement and development as soon as possible. It is expected that a part of the agricultural lands will be opened to entry the coming fall and all of them will be opened to settlement before the close of next year.

State Share About $24,000,000.

Fifty per cent of the proceeds from the timber and the lands, estimated to be approximately $24,000,000, will be divided between the Oregon school fund and the land grant counties for road purposes.

There is now somewhat more than $5,000,000 in the common school fund. This is loaned to Oregon farmers at 6 per cent interest. If the expectations from the grant lands are realized about $12,000,000 will be added to that, making a total of more than $18,000,000 to be kept in an irreducible fund for the benefit of the public schools of the state. It will also be a practical operation, make a great rural credit fund.

The income from the $12,000,000 to be added to the school fund will approximate $720,000 a year, to be distributed to the public schools in the various counties. That sum will mean a great deal to the schools in many a district, where taxation is burdensome. Another $12,000,000 will be a big lift in highway improvement in the land grant counties.

Contention Opposes Benefits.

But neither of these sums can be realized if the contention of the Eugene Commercial club is correct, that the lands can be kept on the assessment rolls in the name of the O. & C. railroad company and taxes thereon be collected from the company. If the lands are to be opened for settlement and disposed of as public lands the title is vested in the government and the lands cannot be assessed against the railroad company. If they can be assessed against the railroad company the government does not own them and cannot dispose of them.

If the lands are disposed of and the common school fund is augmented $12,000,000, the additional appropriation from the income from this sum, over and above the present appropriation, which will go to the schools in the various counties each year would be as follows:

Family Loses All of Belongings in Fire

Emil Gehring Is Awakened by Smoke of Fire That Started in Grocery Store Over Which He Lives.

Emil Gehring and his family, who live over Mr. Gehring's grocery store at 549 Felling street, were awakened at 2 o'clock Sunday morning by smoke which filled their rooms. While they were hastily dressing, R. G. Ireland of 831 East Thirtieth street north turned in a fire alarm, which brought apparatus to the house. After a stubborn fight the firemen got the blaze under control, but not until the Gehring had suffered the loss of practically all their belongings.

The fire started behind a stove in the grocery store, and spread rapidly to some cans of kerosene on a nearby shelf. There was $1000 insurance on the building, $200 on the fixtures, $200 on the stock and $400 on the furniture in the upper part of the house.

Military Recruiting Campaign Is Active

No Chance Overlooked to Obtain Suitable Men to Fill Up the Ranks of the Third Oregon.

A recruiting campaign is under way in Portland by Captain John B. Hubbard and his staff, Sergeant James Q. Adams, Corporal Leland S. Bevelidge and Private Fred M. Andrus. Corporal Bevelidge, who left a position as high school professor to serve the flag, is well informed and an earnest worker. Meetings will be held in different parts of the city, and addresses made wherever invited. The new recruiting office at Third and Main streets is decorated with flags loaned by the Chamber of Commerce, and on display are all the accoutrements of a soldier. One or more of the recruiting detail is always present during the day to explain any inquiries made and to sign up the man who is so sincerely convinced of the need of preparedness as to help fill up the gaps of 750 men wanted in the Third Oregon now on the border.

LOUISVILLE WANTED FUNDS FOR FACTORIES AND UNCOVERED THEM

Kentucky Metropolis, Smaller Than Portland, Talked But Also Acted.

See what Louisville has done. The Kentucky metropolis, which is not so large as Portland, wanted a million dollar factory fund, just as Portland does.

Did they talk about it? They did. Louisville's business men admitted frankly that without factories the city would retrograde.

But they also acted. A big campaign committee was appointed. Each committee member pledged a certain definite amount of time and effort.

At the appointed time they canvassed the town. They went over it with a fine toothed comb, so to speak. They discovered money and civic pride in quarters where it had not been suspected. They found, alas, the lack of it where the talk about what others should do had been loud.

But the point of it all is that Louisville raised the million dollar factory fund. The subscriptions, in fact, went beyond the million dollar mark. When the general committee and 15 special committees totaled up their pledges they found that they had $1,020,000.

The money is to be used in financing industries. The subscribers to the fund become stockholders of a corporation regularly organized and conducted, which will investigate the merits of industries needing finance and provide loans to these industries when merit is proven.

Desirable industries will be attracted. The million dollars will be handled by "able men with clean hands for the good of the city."

For Portland a similar campaign and corporation have been talked of, but only talked of to date.

State Plants Fish In Coast Streams

T. J. Craig, L. H. Brown and D. A. Clanton Also Visit Bar View in the Rainbow; Place Steelheads in Lake.

Bar View, Or., Aug. 21.—T. J. Craig from the Oregon fish hatchery at Bonville, superintendent of the planting of fish in the streams and lakes of the state, arrived in Bar View today in his special car Rainbow, for the purpose of planting fish in Smith's lake near by.

The fish planted on this trip are Rainbow trout, about two months old, and are transported in cans, each containing 500 fish. The fish were deposited at four different places, as follows: Forty cans in the stream at West Timber; 60 cans at Enright; 38 cans in Lake Lytle, and 88 cans in Smith's lake, in all $8,000 of the little shining beauties.

The trout deposited in the two lakes are steelheads, and will make their way to the ocean if there is a possible opportunity. Mr. Craig was accompanied by L. H. Brown and D. A. Clanton from the Bonneville hatchery. The fish were brought to Bar View at the request of R. E. Jackson, a leading resident.

Woman's Ankles Are Smashed in Accident

Mrs. L. A. Jacobsen Is Jammed Between Two Automobiles When Third Car Passes at High Speed.

Mrs. L. A. Jacobsen, 403 East Thirtieth street north, was the victim of an automobile accident on the Columbia highway just beyond Troutdale at 6 o'clock last night, when two passing cars collided and threw her against her own car, badly smashing her ankles. She was taken to a hospital for an X-ray examination.

The Jacobsen car was standing by the roadside and Mrs. Jacobsen was about to enter. Charles Zehner, 294 Skidmore street, was passing at low speed. A car carrying a license said to be 26,432 passed on the outside of Zehner at high speed, jamming his car against the Jacobsen machine. Mrs. Jacobsen was caught between the fenders of her own car and the Zehner car.
