

NEW YORK DEMOCRATS EXPECT SEABURY TO WIN GOVERNORSHIP

Strong Support Will Be Given by Progressives and Independents of State.

RECORD IS REMARKABLE

Advanced Stand Taken in Notable Cases While on New York Supreme Bench Backed Up Later.

Washington, Aug. 21.—(WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE JOURNAL)—The country is likely to hear much in the next few years of Samuel Seabury. He is the man selected by the Democratic leaders of New York to make the race for governor against Charles S. Whitman, the Republican incumbent.

New York is all important in the presidential campaign this year, and Seabury, having strong progressive and independent support, will add strength to the national ticket. Students of New York affairs say that Whitman, on the other hand, adds a burden for Hughes to carry.

Presidential Possibility

Democrats here familiar with the situation are confident that Seabury will be elected governor of New York. They also predict victory for Wilson in that state, but Seabury they regard as almost a sure winner. If these expectations are fulfilled, and Seabury is elected by a sweeping vote, he will become one of the most interesting figures of the day. He will at once begin to look like a presidential possibility for 1920.

Seabury is 43 years old, and from the beginning of his professional career as a lawyer, took a keen interest in political economy, sociology and labor problems. He battled the extending use of the injunction. He became a champion of municipal ownership and his study of monopolies led him to espouse the doctrines of Henry George.

Elected City Judge

In politics he became a Democrat, but not of the Tammany kind. At 26 years of age he was nominated for a city judgeship on a fusion ticket of Independent Democrats and Republicans, and was defeated. Two years later he ran again and was elected, this time as an Independent Democrat. He ran 6000 votes ahead of Low. Low, Heran 5000 votes ahead of Low. In 1907 he was elected a member of the supreme court of the state, and two years ago resigned this office to become a candidate for associate judge of the state court of appeals. He made a surprising run, receiving 225,000 more votes than Martin H. Glynn, who was defeated by Whitman.

Presided at Becker Trial

One of the historic trials over which Judge Seabury presided was that of Charles Becker, the police lieutenant convicted of murder in the New York gang trials. Governor Whitman was the prosecuting attorney in that case, and will now face in the campaign the man he faced as judge.

When Seabury was a judge of the supreme court, which in New York is inferior to the court of appeals, he made a ruling in the case of Mrs. Peixotti, a school teacher, who was discharged for absenting from duty because of motherhood. The court of appeals by a divided vote reversed him, but he has since had the satisfaction of seeing his position vindicated by a direct statute.

Liability of Directors

In another case he ruled that directors of foreign corporations were liable for damages in an action by stockholders, applying the same rule to domestic corporations. This judgment was reversed by a divided court of appeals, but since Seabury became a member of the latter court a case presenting the same issues was

BAR VIEW NOW HAS REGULAR STATION

New Southern Pacific Passenger and Freight Depot at Bar View, Or.

Bar View, Or., Aug. 21.—Bar View celebrated in first class style the opening and formal dedication of the new Southern Pacific railroad station at this popular summer resort. Ten bushels of clams were baked and served to the populace as one feature of the celebration, and the next day 200 pounds of salmon was consumed. A lifeline for the benefit of the ocean bathers was also placed as a marker of the occasion, and the crew of the coast guard station put on a thrilling boat drill.

Obstacle and sack race and other minor sports and contests rounded out the program. Bar View has already expressed its appreciation of the new station, which is probably the most-up-to-date between Hillsboro and Tillamook city.

decided unanimously as Seabury declined it in the lower court. These cases illustrate the claim made by his friends that Seabury has brought to the bench a liberal interpretation, a little in advance of his judicial brethren. No one disputes his ability and his high sense of justice.

Tammany was not pleased with the idea of Seabury for governor. But his strength with independent voters was manifested in many ways, and numerous progressive organizations pledged their support. The administration leaders at Washington wanted him because of his progressive views and the assured strength he would bring to the ticket. Next to Tammany, and those who watch for rising stars will do well to keep an eye on the young New Yorker, who is judge, scholar and fighter in one.

SHIPPING BILL DOES NOT PLEASE BLAGEN, HOQUIAM LUMBERMAN

Washington, Aug. 21.—Senator Jones of Washington, in the course of a speech opposing the shipping bill, interjected as part of his remarks a letter from N. J. Blagen, president and manager of the Gray's Harbor Lumber company at Hoquiam, Wash., in which Blagen at great length assails the bill, and also stabs interestingly at the regulation of the railroads.

The same Mr. Blagen recently wrote letters to members of the senate from the northwest protesting against the child labor bill because it interfered with the "God-given right of the child to labor." On the subject of the railroads he remarks: "My company is one of the largest shippers on the Pacific coast, shipping between four and five thousand carloads of lumber annually, and I will say without any fear of successful contradiction that if the railroads had been left absolutely free to make rates as they saw fit we would have a lower rate on lumber to the east than we have today."

"After the construction of the Great Northern railroad, J. J. Hill issued a rate of 40 cents per hundred pounds on lumber from here to Minnesota, and stated if the time came when he could get all he wanted to carry at that rate the construction of the Great Northern would be an assured success. The time came when they could get more than they could carry, and with it came the Interstate Commerce commission to regulate tariff. Mr. Hill, together with others, applied for an increase of 20 per cent, whereas if there had been no regulation we feel positive that a reduction of at least 10 per cent would have been made in rates."

Blagen declares that the regulation of railroad rates has been a "colossal failure," and he predicts that the same

REPORTED SHORTAGE OF RAILWAY CARS IN WASHINGTON DENIED

Public Service Commission Writes Roads There Are Enough for Present Needs.

DEMAND MAY INCREASE

Movement of Grain May Produce Different Situation; Shippers Urged to Hasten Loading Operations.

Salem, Or., Aug. 21.—A letter from the Washington public service commission to the Oregon commission, dated August 18, does not coincide with published statements that a serious car shortage is being felt in that state. The Oregon commission is informed that the C. M. & St. P. railroad, the G. N. railway and the N. P. railway all have enough equipment on hand for present needs, and will have unless there should be an unusual demand for the movement of grain. The O-W. R. & N. reports no present shortage, but according to the Washington commission seems to be in poorer shape as regards cars than the other three lines.

All of the roads urge the commission to have shippers use every effort to hasten the loading and unloading of cars.

Drug Prices Increase.

Salem, Or., Aug. 21.—How drugs have increased in price is shown in a table compiled by Labor Commissioner Hoff. He gives the years 1914 and 1915 as follows:

enacted Sinnott bill, are seeking to obtain power of attorney from the claimants whereby warrants in payment of the sums appropriated will pass through their hands. The purpose, of course, is to enable the lawyers to collect 20 per cent of the amount of the claims in accordance with contracts made at some time in the past. Instead of the five per cent to which they are limited by the Sinnott bill.

Mr. Sinnott declares there is no necessity for any claimant to sign such power of attorney or any form of assignment. He suggests that if any future action should become necessary on the part of the settlers they should communicate with him or some other member of the Oregon delegation, who will look after it for them.

No Declaration on Baggage.

Washington, Aug. 21.—The so-called Cummins amendment to the interstate commerce law, passed in 1915, has been changed by an act just approved by President Wilson, whereby travelers will not be required to declare the value of goods shipped. The Cummins amendment denied the railroads the power of limiting their liability for loss. It was intended to apply to freight, but the amendment was not intended to apply to baggage, but the language was so broad that much annoyance has been caused and many trains miss by requiring passengers to sign up slips specifically declaring the value of their baggage.

Buffalo Postmaster Named.

Washington, Aug. 21.—Clemie Housman has been appointed postmaster at Buffalo, Lake county, Oregon, to succeed S. K. Kyle, resigned; Carrie L. Miller at Crater, Wasco county, in place of L. E. Canfield, resigned; and Anton Birkenfeld at Birkenfeld, Columbia county, a new office.

Charles E. Wicks has been appointed at Bay City, Grays Harbor county, Washington. Commissions as postmaster have been issued to Alva W. Cook at Glendon, Or., and to Mary T. Hivers at Rivers, Or.

Wanted—A Postmaster.

Washington, Aug. 21.—The post-office department is about to discontinue the postoffice at Harney, Or., because the acting postmaster is about to quit and asserts that no one can be found who "will have the office under any circumstances."

At Senator Chamberlain's request, order of discontinuance will be held up for three weeks to give a chance for someone to come forward and volunteer to act as postmaster.

Ralph A. Bain, postmaster at Harney, resigned some time ago and moved elsewhere. His mother, Mary Bain, has since been acting for him, but reports that she cannot arrange to look after it after August 23, and says there is no use to hold an examination because no one will take it.

Relief of Mike Womack.

Washington, Aug. 21.—The senate, on motion of Senator Chamberlain, has concurred in the house amendment to the bill granting relief to Mike G. Womack of Medford, Or., for injuries caused by an explosion of dynamite while Womack was employed as a laborer in Crater lake park.

The bill was introduced by Chamberlain and passed the senate with an appropriation of $1000. The house cut this to $687.30. The bill now goes to the president for signature.

Explosion Kills Eight.

Montreal, Aug. 21.—(L. N. S.)—Eight persons were killed and over 20 injured yesterday in a dynamite explosion when an explosion occurred in a munitions factory. The cause of the explosion is not known.

"Food Is Its Own Best Digestant"

"All too frequently, we prescribe medicines for patients who suffer from indigestion, when, as a matter of fact, what they actually need is a simple course of dietetic training, and the proper food-stuffs to train on.

"This is the famous 'reason' for the popularity of Grape-Nuts as an article of diet, viz., that it furnishes this very course of training for the digestion. It not only furnishes the natural diastase for the process of digestion, but it favors a return to normal digestive function because the firm, crisp kernels compel thorough mastication.

"One ought not to leave out of consideration the psychic element—the delicious treat to the palate afforded by a dish of Grape-Nuts and cream."
