BY NONA LAWLER

MISS CHARLOTTE BANFIELD and Miss Elsie Arax were hostesses this afternoon at a delightful card party and tea in compliment to three charming and popular prospective brides, Miss Dagmar Korrell, Miss Carol McCollom, whose marriage will take place about the middle of October, and Miss Winifred Wilson, whose marriage will be solemnized early in October. Five tables were arranged for the time of five hundred and pretty prizes were awarded. The guest prizes were silver thimbles. Following the game a dainty collation was served and next came the made fragrant and attractive by the use of Caroline Testout roses and vines. The guests included: Mrs. Leon Payne Jr., Mrs. Warren Smith, Mrs. Raymond, Mrs. Louise Recken, Mrs. A. T. Bonney, Mrs. M. C. Banfield, Misses Korrell, Wilson, McCollom, Gertrude Wilson, Laura Korrell, Isabel Korrell, Myrtle Swarbrick, Esther Masley, Ibyl Brown, Beth Ludlum, Louise Cecil, Stella Jones, Charlotte Patterson, Jean Brownlie, Marjorie McCollom, Nellie Banfield and Josephine Slater.

Manners-Stuart Nuptials Celebrated

The First Presbyterian church was last night the scene of a large, though simply appointed, wedding. The contracting parties, Miss Della Delberta Stuart, daughter of Mrs. Dell Stuart, and Charles Haddon Manners of Montclair, N. J. Four hundred and fifty cards were issued for the church and next came the assembled Edgar E. Courson played "The Answer" (Wolstenholme), "Love Song" (Coverley), "Andantino" (Lemaire). Just before the ceremony Miss Genevieve Coffey sang with great sweetness: "At Dawning" (Cadmian) and "Because" (D'Hardelot). To the strains of the bridal chorus from "Lohengrin," the bride party passed up the aisle to the altar. The officiating minister, Jay Russell Coffey, Henry Love of Underwood, Wash., and Frank Kerr leading the way. Then came the pastor of honor, Mrs. Jay Russell Coffey, who read the little ring-bearer, Frances Kerr, and last of all the bride accompanied by her brother, Wayne H. Stuart, who gave her in marriage. The party was met at the altar by the bridegroom, his best man, Nathan Mears of Underwood, Wash., and the officiating clergyman, Dr. John H. Boyd. At the conclusion of the impressive service the party left the church to the strains of the wedding march from Mendelssohn's "Midsummer Night's Dream."

Engagement Announced

News from the east makes known the engagement of A. G. Long Jr. of Portland, to Miss Madeline Pratt of Elmira, N. Y. Miss Pratt also is known in Portland, having visited her grandparents, Judge Woodward, of this city. The wedding will be an event of early spring, at which time the young people will probably visit Portland.

Dance for Bridal Couple

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Mattern entertained delightfully last evening at their home in Laurelhurst in compliment to Miss Gracia Butterfield and Dr. Allen Pendleton Noyes, whose wedding is soon to be celebrated. The affair was in the nature of an informal dance, with about 60 of the younger set present. The rooms were made fresh and fragrant by the use of fresh flowers, and also "thick" dahlias and golden glow. Late in the evening a supper was served.

Return From Southern Oregon

John Stone and Miss Lucie Stone have returned to their country home, "Hollywood Farm," at Oswego, from an extended visit with their uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Brown of Grants Pass. While there they motored to Crater Lake, hunting and fishing on the way, and also "thick" to the Oregon caves. Mr. Stone and his cousin went on a week's hunting trip and were successful in getting three large bucks.

New Zealand Girl Honored

A far-away visitor was entertained this afternoon when Miss Katherine Sealy gave an informal tea in honor of Miss Gracia Wolcott Wood of Christchurch, N. Z., who is visiting in Portland with her parents. The hostess was assisted by Miss Marcia Parker, Miss Constance Piper and Miss Margaret Raeder. Lavender and pink sweet peas and asters adorned the rooms.

Luncheon for Visitors

A charming event of Tuesday was the luncheon at which Miss Clara Teal was hostess for Mrs. George Teal, a Seattle visitor in Portland. The affair took place at the University club and guests were laid for 10.

To Give Opening Dance Tonight

The opening party of the Rose City Dancing club will be given at Christensen's hall this evening. The entire membership has been subscribed and the roll has been closed.

Visitors Entertained

Colorado visitors were the inspiration for a charming bridge tea this afternoon, when Mrs. John M. Dunn entertained in honor of Mrs. Frederick Greyden-Smith and Mrs. Vincent Smith, prominent society and clubwomen of Denver and Canyon City.

honors from the Normal Art department of the Art Institute, Chicago. Her unusually high recommendations secured for her this position in one of the old established private schools of Chicago. She will leave for that city about September 15 and may be accompanied by one or two young ladies of the Pacific coast who will enter that school as students.

Society Personals

Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Weister returned on Tuesday from the Club house at Mantanita Beach, where Mrs. Weister spent the summer. With them is Miss Eleanor Carr, who made several studies in water color of that part of the Oregon coast which she will exhibit at the State fair.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Frank Sinnott and their children returned Monday from their summer home at Seaview, "Honori," where they have spent the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cronin have returned home after a short visit with Mr. Cronin's mother, Mrs. M. J. Cronin of Pendleton.

Miss Edith Duke, formerly superintendent of St. Luke's hospital, is visiting Dr. and Mrs. F. B. Witter of Spokane.

Mr. and Mrs. I. A. Rigg spent Tuesday night in Medford and left Wednesday morning in their car for Crater Lake.

Miss Ella O'Connell was a guest over the week end of Miss Alvie Johnson of Vancouver, Wash.

Little Miss Eunice Force is visiting for several days at the home of her uncle, Roy N. Force of Vancouver, Wash.

Miss Paula Linn is the house guest of Miss Carolyn Dick of Salem.

Miss Agnes McLoughlin, who was the house guest of Mrs. John Minto of Seaside, returned to Portland yesterday.

Miss Nellie Kyle, who has been spending several weeks in The Dalles at the Richard W. French home, returned Monday.

Mrs. O. M. Holt and daughter, Miss Marian Holt, who has been visiting Mrs. D. C. Forrest, 987 Hawthorne avenue for two weeks, returned to their home in Seattle yesterday.

Miss Edith Wood of Seaside is the guest of Miss Marvella Young for a week.

Byron Hoopes of Seaside is visiting friends in Portland en route to Corvallis where he will attend the Oregon Agricultural college with June Carlie.

Mr. and Mrs. William Ferguson, Joseph Merrill and Harry J. Collins have returned from a week's motor trip to Vancouver, B. C., and Rainier National Park in the Ferguson car.

Mrs. and Mrs. George Schalk and Mrs. W. H. Grindstaff returned last week from an enjoyable motor trip to Vancouver Island.

Mexico border troubles made further deprecations at the Vancouver post this afternoon when Mrs. Charles Calvert Benedict and her little son, Fritz, left to join Lieutenant Benedict at San Diego. Lieutenant Benedict was formerly with the Twenty-first regiment at Vancouver barracks, but is now attached to the army aviation corps at the southern station.

Mrs. Kenneth Beebe is a Gearhart visitor at the home of Mrs. Arthur M. Sherwood. Mr. Beebe will join her to Portland Sunday.

Mrs. George E. York and children, Kilburn and Phoen, will leave this week for an extended visit in Montana.

Henry Walthall in Ibsen Film. Karsten Bernick... CAST: Henry Walthall, Louise Latham, Marjorie Matlin, Arthur J. Behre, her half brother, George Berger, her half sister, Josephine Brown, Madame Doerflinger, Olga Gray.

THOROUGHLY compelling is Henry Walthall's portrayal of Karsten Bernick in the screen version of Henrik Ibsen's "Pillars of Society," which opened at the Columbia theatre this afternoon.

Mr. Walthall is one of the greatest actors in the films and his Karsten Bernick affords ample room for his talents. Aply supplied in this powerful Fine Arts picture, he gives one of the most important characterizations of his time.

"Pillars of Society" is one of the great Scandinavian dramatists' best works, and it loses nothing as a photodrama. In theme it is an indictment of modern society. Karsten Bernick, the principal character, gains his place in society on a foundation of a pillar of lies.

This is a complex character. Apparently a man of worth in that he is a leading citizen, a man of polish and charm, and a large giver to charity, in reality he is a hypocrite, a money baron, a murderer at heart and unscrupulous morally.

One subtler quality leads to another until Bernick is enmeshed in lies and deceits, notwithstanding that he continues to grow more and more eminent in his sphere.

He refuses the pleas of his first love (played by Mary Alden) to found his life on a pillar of truth instead of lies, but in the end is laid low by the one truthful sentiment in his being—his love for his small son.

Awakened to the truth of his position in society he publicly confesses to the falsity of his station in life. "Pillars of Society" is decidedly interesting and "different."

As a fun producer "The Mummy and the Skeleton Dance" part of the bill and there is a scene of "Picturesque Havana." As a special attraction tonight there will be a fashion display on living models.

Oaks Will Remain Open. The Oaks park will remain open until September 30 and no gate admissions will be charged except on special days when big feature attractions will be presented, he publicly confesses to the falsity of his station in life.

Great Circus to Be in City Tomorrow

First of Four Long Trains Will Arrive About Midnight; Parade to Start at 10 O'Clock From Grounds.

More superlative and dazzling than ever before the Barnum and Bailey circus comes to Portland tomorrow for afternoon and night performances to be given at 2 and 8 o'clock under the broad canvases to be erected at Twenty-fifth and Raleigh streets. The first of the four long trains conveying the organization is scheduled to arrive in Portland before midnight.

Twenty-two separate tents comprise the Barnum and Bailey encampment. The smallest is the circus barber shop; the colossal is a "big top," known in circus parlance as an "eight pole top," eight center poles, being required to hold the huge spread of canvas aloft. Seats are provided for 16,000 people, the largest ever erected.

Tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock the street parade will leave the grounds. It is promised to be a display exhibiting the resources of this circus as perhaps nothing else could, and is a two-mile long cavalcade of richness and bewildering splendor.

The European war has made it possible for the circus to secure the very cream of the foreign talent and for the greater part of the circus program will be presented by artists to be seen for the first time here. The trained animal acts are in great profusion and variety.

The menagerie will offer a big display of animals and a notable exhibit will be a herd of four giraffes, including a seven-months-old baby. All day tomorrow tickets may be bought at the Owl Drug company at no advance in price.

PERSONAL MENTION
Davidson is Named.
James E. Davidson, vice president and general manager of the Pacific Power & Light company, has been made a member of the Pacific coast representation committee of the National Electric Light association. He also is a member of the executive committee of this association and chairman of the executive committee of the Northwest Electric Light & Power association.

Passes Annapolis Examination. Notification has been received by Rev. August Krause from his son, Richard E. Krause, of his successfully passing examinations required for admission to the Annapolis naval college. The examination was taken in July, and, according to reports, he passed with a high grade.

Dr. and Mrs. Max Smith of Wallace, Idaho, are guests at the Portland Y. B. Johnson, a merchant of Corvallis is at the Cornelius Hotel. Mr. and Mrs. Will Madison of Astoria are registered at the Cornucopia. W. H. Dean of White Salmon, Wash., is registered at the Imperial. J. Hinkley of Hermiston is at the Imperial.

W. J. Locke Novel Filmed. "Jaffery," a film version of W. J. Locke's novel of the same name, has just been released as the first of the Golden Eagle features of the International Film Service, Inc. Aubrey Smith, the well known English actor, has the title role, and playing opposite him is Eleanor Woodruff, who will be seen this season as Otis Skinner's leading woman.

"Zack" Is Latest Bennett Play. The new play in which Richard Bennett is to appear under the direction of John D. Williams is entitled "Zack." It is a comedy by the author of "Hobson's Choice." For this play Brown has been engaged for one of the principal roles. Eleanor Danton, who appeared in the play, "Change," will also act an important part. The piece will be presented in New York in November.

Vitagraph Undertakes Distribution. The Vitagraph Company of America is completing the arrangements to take over the distributing organization known as the V. L. S. E. corporation, through which it has been in the custom of releasing its pictures.

Don't Feed Your Baby Every Time He Cries

Many are the mothers who feed the baby to make him stop crying. Poor Baby! He stops for a while—and then it's all the worse. For the tiny stomach has had another load added to its already undigested burden.

The baby isn't always hungry. Perhaps he's getting too much or give him your breast milk as long as you can. It may be the saving of his life when he is sick. You'll be able to nurse him nine full months if from the beginning you use one feeding a day of
