Paralysis Patient's Condition the Same

The condition of the 16-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John-Batallio, 448 East Nineteenth street, affiloted with infantile paralysis, was unchanged last night, according to Dr. David N. Roberg, state health officer. While quarantine regulations are not being enforced owing to the nature of the case, all children in the neighborhood are being watched. The Batallios returned from the hop yards near Salem Friday. The child's left leg is par-

Fall Dresses

-We want to tell you about a group of new Fall dresses designed particularly for afternoon or street wear. Fashioned of crepe meteor or charmeuse in navy blue or black, with skirts decidedly full and youthful. Over-draperies and tunics abound, but the favorite is the full-gathered sectional circular skirt, which hangs in deep folds about the figure. The bodices in most instances outline the figure, in a sort of basquelike effect.

-Navy blue serge dresses (everybody is wearing serge this season) are the ideal early Fall frock. A great variety of models, trimmed with beads, embroidery or stitchery

Fall Coats

-Luxuriousness and a charming all-embracing bigness characterize the Fall coats, which means that mostly they're built on loose-fitting, comfortable lines. Next noticeable are the collars - mostly they're extremely deep and round in shape-and in nearly all cases they're of fur - chinchilla, squirrel, gray wolf, imitation ermine, real ermine, etc. All of these collars may be worn high or low. -Exquisite high shades of scarlet, turquoise, emerald, new ruby, plum, gold, navy, black and novelty checks, plaids and mixtures.
