CONTINUED SHORTAGE IN FREIGHT CARS IS PREDICTED BY CALVIN

10 President of Union Pacific Sees No Immediate Hope of Permanent Relief.

BUSINESS IS INCREASING

Shipbuilding Can't Catch Up for Long Time, He Says-Local Benefits From Car Building.

E. E. Calvin, president of the Union Pacific railroad and of the Oregon 750 Short Line, is in Portland for a day or so of conferences with President J. D. Farrell, General Manager J. P. O'Brien and other high officials of the O-W. R. & N. Mr. Calvin had not been here since his accession to the presidency following the resignation of A. L. Mohler. Discussing the present stringency in available freight cars, Mr. Calvin sald today that he doubted if much relief could be gained by the establishment of car manufacturing shops on the Pacific coast. Admitting the local benefits from the new payrolls in whatever city the shops might be located, he said otherwise there would be little effect, as the shops now in existence are nearer the source of iron and steel supply and can place their lumber orders in time to fill car orders siding officer. as the necessary steel is at hand. He looks for a continued period of car shortage, varying in severity, which may be relieved only by the end of the war, or as new bottoms are found for the exportation of freight inasmuch as practically all the grain from the northwest is being shipped by rail to Atlantic ports, and since these ports are now so congested with other freight that the available space on outgoing ships cannot provide for

What should prove encouraging t the west, in Mr. Calvin's opinion, is the high price of metals and the probability that silver, copper, lead and zinc will hold their prices after the war is over.

Mr. Calvin expects to start east again tomorrow, stopping at the Salt Lake city offices of the Short Line and thence to his home in Omaha,
