LEAP YEAR IS CLOSING

Leap year is drawing to a close, but few months remain for the girl who wishes to do the proposing, and for such the following rules have been penned-and by a man:

1-Don't propose to a man who has thin lips. He will scorn you. 2-Don't propose to a man who has just a thin upper lip. He'll scorn you. 3-Don't propose to a man whose head runs straight up from the back

4-Don't propose to a man with a so that was given up for the time being. A later attempt to land a small boat at the rock island proved the truth of his words, for the carsmen could not get within 100 yards of their objective point. A number of interesting scenes were made, however, and a later trip to the same location it is hoped will result in the making of the scenes impossible on the first trip. It is probably quite as well that the aptain's words received the attention hey did, for it was later learned that afternoon to consider the appointment it was in just such seas that five of the passengers of the Bear lost their lives on the night that vessel went
