GOLDEN SPECIAL STARTS ON TOUR OF 'EDUCATION'

Wealthy Women of East Are Now on the Way to West to Tell Women How to Vote in Presidential Election.

PROFESSIONAL SPEAKERS WILL DO THE TALKING

Hughes, Candidate of Plutocracy, Is Idol of Heiresses on Luxurious Train.

New York, Oct. 2.—Wall street is too busy harvesting Democratic property to go campaigning, but is setting its women folk. The greatest aggregation of wealth and social distinction ever presented in a political campaign leaves New York today by special train to tell the women of the west how they should vote.

Stopping at Albany, Utica and Syracuse on their first day, the hierarchy takes the women's campaign train through the principal cities of the north route across the continent and brings them back through Colorado, Nebraska, Missouri and Kentucky, a tour lasting until November 4. The expenses are paid by and the tour is conducted under the auspices of the women's committee of the Hughes National Alliance.

"Women's Hughes Alliance" sounds innocent and harmless enough until one examines the personnel of the organization and discovers that it represents the feminine side of the organized and Morgantized wealth of Wall street.

Wealthy Heiress Is Treasurer.

The treasurer of the women's committee is Mrs. Mary Harriman Rumsey, heiress to the millions of the late Edward H. Harriman, railroad magnate and "greatest man" of the days when Theodore Roosevelt received campaign funds from the business which political.

ON THE GOLDEN SPECIAL—Top (left), Mrs. Daniel Guggenheim, whose kinfolk control the smelter trust; Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont, inheritor of great wealth, who has undertaken to raise $500,000 to defeat President Wilson. Center, Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt, who represents inherited millions in railroad properties. Bottom, Mrs. Alice Roosevelt Longworth, daughter of Colonel Roosevelt, whose husband inherited a large fortune; Mrs. Gifford Pinchot, wealthy in her own right and wife of wealthy man who followed Roosevelt back to the Republican party.

PORTLAND PROPOSED AS TERMINUS OF BIG SHIPPING ENTERPRISE

Liners Would Meet in City for Transshipment of Oriental Freight Cargoes.

Washington, Oct. 2.—(U. S. S.)—The Chinese-American Produce Exchange company will be launched here within the next few days to meet the projected commercial exploitation of China by Japan and her allies.

The company proposes to construct two fleets. One will operate between Norfolk and Portland, Or., by way of the Panama canal, taking in on the outward voyage such stops as Houston, New Orleans, San Pedro, San Diego, San Francisco and possibly Seattle. At Portland, the goods will be transhipped to another line, likewise owned and operated by the company but of much heavier tonnage and of greater speed.

The Chinese-American Produce Exchange company has been negotiating for some time with the Portland Chamber of Commerce relative to the establishment of steamship service to the orient.

The executive secretary W. D. R. Johnson said this morning that until a definite proposition is put up to this city for the establishment of terminals and general facilities he cannot say of a certainty whether or not the service is to be started. The executive committee is in a highly favorable state of mind, however, and expects to commence operations to the fullest degree as soon as it is known here just what Portland is expected to do.

The Produce Exchange company was organized by the Southern Commercial congress, including many of the big cotton growers. It is backed by the T. F. Southgate Terminal Co., of Norfolk, Va., owners of the warehouses and water terminals and said to have ample capital to put over almost any deal. At the same time "associate memberships" in the produce company are being solicited among Portland business interests, as part of the financial arrangements.

The opinion of chamber of Commerce officials is that if the Produce Exchange company carries through this deal, it will mean great things for Portland, probably including the transportation of the great cargoes of cotton from the south.

The chamber of Commerce is waiting for a definite proposition from the promoters of the company before making any formal announcement of starting any campaign. The plan is one of a number of steamship propositions on which the chamber has been working for many months.

'GOOD ANGEL' OF THE STOCKYARDS TO GIVE SUPPORT TO WILSON

Mary McDowell Announces Stand After Thorough Consideration of Both Men.

Chicago, Oct. 2.—Miss Mary McDowell, "good angel" of the Chicago stock yards district and worker with Jane Addams for social betterment, has announced through the Chicago Journal, in a letter written from Lake Geneva, that she is for President Wilson. The letter is addressed to George Sikes of the Woodrow Wilson independent league.

Miss McDowell declared that the president's stand on Mexico, his advocacy of the child labor and eight-hour laws and his fight for efficiency in government, have decided her to cast her first presidential vote for Mr. Wilson.

MONTGOMERY IS BACK, BUT TWO YEARS ARE WIPED FROM MEMORY

Man Who Looks on October, 1914, as Yesterday Can Not Explain Happenings.

With the happenings of the last two years completely erased from his memory, Bernard J. Montgomery returned home last night and was surprised to see his baby changed from a tiny tot 2 1/2 months old to a sturdy little lad of 2 1/2 years, who runs and plays and talks to his daddy.

He was brought home from San Francisco by Mrs. Montgomery, who was at a loss to account for his disappearance last March, until she was notified a few weeks ago that he was in a hospital at San Francisco. Where he was during all the time he was gone and what he was doing, neither himself nor anyone else knows.

After living for nearly two years in Portland, he left last March for Salem to look for employment on a farm. He wrote a letter to his wife.

GOOD SAMARITAN TO WAR-RIDDEN POLAND IS PORTLAND GUEST

Isidor Hershfield, Man Who Opened Way to Relief for Suffering Millions, in City.

Isidor Hershfield of New York, "the master bridge-builder," reached Portland this morning.

He is the man who built a "bridge" from Poland to America.

His bridge contained neither steel nor stone nor wood; but, nevertheless, it spanned continents and seas just as the mightiest cantilever or suspension bridge does a void. It made communication possible between the people of war-ridden Poland and other parts of Russian territory, now under German and Austrian control, and their friends and relatives in the United States.

The title, "master bridge-builder,"

DR. W. W. YOUNGSON SUPERINTENDENT OF PORTLAND DISTRICT

Appointment of Pastor of Rose City M. E. Church Is Announced Today.

Lebanon, Or., Oct. 2.—Dr. William Wallace Youngson, pastor of Rose City Methodist Episcopal church, presiding elder in the Willamette valley conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, just closed at Lebanon, was this morning appointed superintendent of the Portland district to succeed J. J. McDougall.

The appointment was announced by Bishop Hughes.

The appointment did not come as a surprise for Dr. Youngson has been prominently mentioned for the position along with Dr. T. W. Lane of Centenary.

Dr. Youngson is one of the most prominent ministers of Portland.

Here Only Few Years.

Going to the Oregon metropolis only a few years ago, he took charge of the infant Rose City Park Methodist church, and has built it up until its membership is numbered by the hundreds.

One of the features of yesterday's program was the love feast presided over by Dr. H. J. Talbot. This was held at 6:30 o'clock and was well attended. It showed the interest of the ministers in the old-fashioned revival.

Dr. James Moore, pastor of the Albany church, was appointed superintendent of the Eugene district. His pulpit will be occupied by Charles E. Gibson.

Joshua Stanfield of Indianapolis and W. L. Airheart were appointed ministers of the First church, Portland.

Bishop Hughes was unable to preach at the morning service as had been planned, and he delegated Dr. Youngson.

Marshall Hooper Is New Bank Examiner

Grants Pass Man Appointed by State Bank Superintendent Sargent to Succeed George H. Tracy, Promoted.

Salem, Or., Oct. 2.—Marshall Hooper, cashier of the Grants Pass Banking company, of Grants Pass, was appointed state bank examiner to succeed George H. Tracy Jr., by State Bank Superintendent Sargent, Monday morning at a session of the State Banking board from which reporters were barred. The appointment was unanimously confirmed by the board. The place pays $2,000 a year.

Tracy was given the title of assistant superintendent so that he could act in the absence of Sargent, and Charles H. Stewart, who has been bank examiner for some time, was appointed assistant superintendent.

Tracy resigned to take a place as vice-president of an Oregon City bank.

Union Stockyards At Cleveland Afire

Pheasant Season to Close October 15

Cleveland, Oct. 2.—(U. P.)—Firemen this afternoon gave up hope of saving the Union Stockyards here from a fire that started shortly before noon.

It is believed that the fire was started by incendiaries. More than 1,400 hogs in cars nearby were hauled away safely, but several carloads of cattle were burned loose from the pens and ran wild about the yards.

HUGHES TO BE 'SMOKED OUT' BY PRESIDENT

Wilson Will Force Opponent to Show What Changes He Would Make in Foreign and Business Policies.

PERSONALITIES NOT TO ENTER IN DISCUSSION

Trip to Omaha Will Begin Tomorrow; Will Speak on Thursday.

By Robert J. Bender.

Aubury Park, N. J., Oct. 2.—(U. P.)—President Wilson is determined to "smoke out" Charles Evans Hughes on what the Democrats have now defined as the real issues of the campaign.

When he starts west tomorrow night to speak in Omaha Thursday evening, the president will have completed his plans to force Hughes, if possible, into a thorough discussion of what changes will be made in the foreign and business policies of the government if there is a change of administration March 4.

Wilson will continue to challenge his Republican opponent to divulge how far the policy of peace of the present administration will be followed in case of a Republican victory.

New Optimism Apparent.

There may be no direct question, no indulgence in personalities—but the questions and challenges will be found in the president's speeches, even as they abounded in his address to young Democrats last Saturday, when he indicated what would be the Republican method of its foreign policy.

A new optimistic atmosphere was apparent in Democratic circles here.

HUGE ZEPPELIN SHOT DOWN IN RADON LONDON

Commander of Destroyed Airship Found in Field Near Wreck, Alive but Terribly Injured From Impact.

FRAGMENTS OF BODIES SCATTERED ON GROUND

Blazing Mass Plunges From Sky to Earth Like a Comet.

London, Oct. 2.—(U. P.)—The huge super-Zeppelin shot down in last night's attempted raid on London, crumpled up and broke into several pieces as it plunged earthward before the eyes of thousands of Londoners.

The commander of the destroyed Zeppelin was found in a field near a part of the wreck this morning, still alive but terribly injured. He was driven into the wreckage with such force that the imprint of his body was plainly visible when he was picked up. Thirteen bodies had been recovered at noon.

Fragments fell from 50 to 60 yards apart and with them mangled bits of bodies.

Seems Like Speck at First.

Unlike previous raids in the vicinity of London, last night's attack was signalled by no tremendous gun firing. A few shots from aircraft guns brought thousands to the rooftops or to the streets throughout London. They gazed toward the starlit heavens while searchlights converged their silver shafts on a Zeppelin, the whirr of whose engines could be heard very faintly.

The Zeppelin was lost to view for a moment. Then suddenly a small red

Santa Fe to Seek to Change 8 Hour Law

President Ely Sends Statement to Stockholders Suggesting Use of Their Influence for 'Remedial' Legislation.

Chicago, Oct. 2.—(U. P.)—Plans to enlist all stockholders in the Santa Fe railway in a fight on congress to enact measures changing provisions in the Adamson bill were revealed today in a statement sent to stockholders of the company by E. E. Ely, president, in part the statement read:

"The Brotherhoods made it clear at the session of congress just ended that they will resist with all their power any such remedial legislation, whether it seeks to prohibit strikes in advance of public investigation or to put and form of restraint upon labor combinations. It is therefore reasonable to assume that the public demand for a remedy will have to be forceful or else they will continue in its present defenseless position."

"Since the precedent of abandoning arbitration and hurriedly paying the demands of strikers has thus been established, does it not behoove you to exercise your influence in favor of appropriate remedial legislation?"

FORD IS SENTENCED TO THE PENITENTIARY BY CIRCUIT JUDGE DAVIS

Convicted Forger Given Term of From Two to 20 Years; Legal Quibble Fails.

Homer N. Ford, convicted of forgery as the result of having Elizabeth G. Pray sign a deed as his wife when his legal wife was Mrs. Caroline Ford, was today sentenced by Circuit Judge Davis to serve two to 20 years in the state penitentiary.

The verdict was pronounced, Judge Davis denied a motion for arrest of judgment, which was argued by Attorney W. A. Williams for Ford and Deputy District Attorney Collier for the state. Next Monday a motion for a new trial will be argued, and if that fails, the defendant will appeal to the supreme court.

Attorney Williams argued that Ford was illegally convicted on the grounds that no forgery was proven or charged in the indictment. "From the indictment," he argued, "the defendant could not tell for what he was being tried."

"The purpose of an indictment is to inform the defendant named therein of the crime charged against him," said Judge Davis, in making his ruling. "That this defendant was fully acquainted with the nature of the charge against him admits of no doubt. It is a moral certainty that at no time during his five day trial was Mr. Ford surprised or prejudiced by any lack or peculiarity of statement of fact in the indictment."

"In the absence of this to disturb a verdict because of a legal quibble is not in accord with the spirit of modern jurisprudence."
