

OREGON WINS HONOR PLACES IN LAND SHOW STAGED AT SEATTLE

Polk County Prize Winning Display Is Center of Attraction Among Exhibits.

EASTERN COUNTIES THERE

Loyal Citizens on Hand to Boost Their Respective Sections and to Distribute Personal Messages.

Seattle, Wash., Oct. 7.—Oregon has captured the Seattle land show, now in progress, as a result of the splendid showing of the state's agricultural and horticultural greatness made by six counties.

More than 2000 square feet was set aside for Oregon by the exposition management and this has been filled to overflowing with fruits, grains, grasses and vegetables.

The Polk, Wasco, Union, Baker and Linn displays are stretched along the walls and inclines displaying the products to great advantage. Morrow county is directly across the aisle with a magnificent exhibit.

Prize Exhibit There.
Polk county is in charge of Mrs. Winnie Braden of Dallas with the exhibit that scored highest at the state fair in the division in which nine counties competed and the highest in the state. J. W. Brewer, of The Dalles has presented a beautiful display of Wasco county with products that helped him capture the highest score in the eastern Oregon division at the state fair.

W. E. Meacham of Baker installed the Baker county display and it is one of the best arranged exhibits in the show. E. B. Currey of La Grande is here with the Union county exhibit and has made a fine showing of grains and grasses.

Leonard Gilkey of Albany represents Linn county with an individual farm exhibit from his Banner farm and it is one of the most complete in the big exposition.

W. Smead of Heppner has presented the agricultural wealth of Morrow county in a well arranged booth and features grains and grasses. The exhibit is attracting great attention and all members of the Oregon delegation are on hand morning afternoon and night reaching all visitors with literature and personal messages of Oregon's many opportunities.

Open Until October 14.
The exposition will be open until Saturday, October 14. The show fills the Arena, Seattle's largest assembly hall and spreads out over more than two blocks of city streets. It is the biggest show since the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific exposition of 1909.

The Milwaukee railway has a fine exhibit of Montana and Washington soil products. More than three carloads were brought to Seattle from the Montana state fair and Washington counties. The first prize winners at Helena last week are features of the Milwaukee display, the largest single exhibit in the show.

The Great Northern has a display showing the scenic features of Glacier National Park and the Lake Chelan region.

Engineer Reports On Bridge Collapse

C. B. McCullough, After Inspection of Independence Span, Says Work Illustrates Folly of So-Called "Economy."

Dallas, Or., Oct. 7.—The report of C. B. McCullough, of the engineering department of O. A. C., who was engaged by the county court of Polk county to make an inspection of the new concrete bridge at Independence, which collapsed when the superstructure was removed, has been filed with the court.

In the preamble of his report the engineer says: "The incident serves a valuable purpose in illustrating the folly and shortsightedness of any policy that economizes on engineering and inspection services at the risk of failures such as this."

Summarized, the report is as follows: The design was in no way responsible for the failure of the structure. It is not probable that the cement had anything to do with the failure. Some of the sand used was very fine. This undoubtedly caused the formation of weak spots in the concrete, but probably would not alone have caused failure. Careless and incorrect methods of construction were probably chiefly responsible for the failure. For this careless construction the contractor is in large measure responsible, but the county is in a minor degree responsible (morally at least).

Prune Packers Busy.
Dallas, Or., Oct. 7.—The J. K. Arms-

by company started operation of its packing plant in this city for the season's pack of prunes this week. The output of this concern will be the output in the history of the local plant this year. Forty men and women and girls are employed. Already three carloads of prunes have been sent out, one to New Jersey, one to Chicago and one to London, England.

Law Violators Indicted.
Dallas, Or., Oct. 7.—The grand jury which has been in session this week returned several indictments for violation of the prohibition laws. Carl Manock, a Dallas druggist, was indicted for selling six quarts of alcohol to one man; Charles Skinner and wife, who conduct a small store in North Dallas, were indicted for selling liquor; H. P. Shriver, an old soldier and a resident of Dallas for 28 years, was indicted for receiving more than two quarts of whiskey during the month of June. Another similar indictment was returned against an Independence man, but he cannot be found by the sheriff. Claude Johnson of Salem, who served with company M on the border, was indicted for driving an automobile on the public highway while in an intoxicated condition. The trial of all these cases, including that of Weldon Black, charged with manslaughter, have been set for October 18.

Martins Hurt in Runaway.
Dallas, Or., Oct. 7.—Mr. and Mrs. John Martin, well known farmers, residing north of Dallas, are both confined to their homes from injuries sustained in a runaway accident a few days ago, while driving home from Salem. Mr. Martin has a broken leg; Mrs. Martin sustained severe bruises and general shock.

Blue Ledge Mine Being Developed

Owners of Other Properties in Medford District Announce That They Will Make Arrangements for Work Soon.
Medford, Or., Oct. 7.—Manager D. C. Brown of the Blue Ledge mine made arrangements before his departure for New York to begin operations at that big property. Superintendent F. W. Carnahan has gone to the mine today with a force of men. Additions will be made to the fiscal as required. Mrs. Carnahan has been here and she has inducted the mine today to convey its ores in motor trucks from the mine to Medford, a distance of 35 miles, until the Blue Ledge railroad is constructed.

Operations at this mine have stimulated other mine owners in the large district to prepare for vigorous development of the field at once. The St. Albans, the Bluefield, the Copper King and other promises of the future will be in the forefront of this revival of business in that district.

Castle Rock Man Loses One Leg

Castle Rock, Wash., Oct. 7.—While working at the county rock quarry late Thursday afternoon, John Brown, aged 63 years, had his leg badly crushed. He was brought to this city, and Dr. O. K. Wolf took him to the Tacoma hospital, where it was found necessary to amputate his leg just below the knee. Mr. Brown is an esteemed resident of this city.

Chamberlain Going "Home."

Albany, Or., Oct. 7.—United States Senator George B. Chamberlain will speak in Albany, his former hometown, Saturday morning, October 14. He will be the main attraction for the morning of the closing day of the Harvest Festival and Round-Up. Senator Chamberlain began life as a young man in Albany, coming here with his bride and beginning the practice of law. Later he was cashier of the First National bank and also served as captain of the local militia company. He is always a popular visitor here.

Mrs. Fesenfeld Dies.

Chehalis, Wash., Oct. 7.—Mrs. Sarah Fesenfeld died Friday at the age of 78 years at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Frank Everett. Services will be held at the house today, Rev. T. F. Allison, of the Episcopal church, officiating. The remains were sent to South Tacoma for interment. Mrs. Fesenfeld was formerly a resident of Hoquiam, and two daughters, Mrs. Frank Everett and Mrs. Wm. Williams, live in Chehalis. Mrs. Captain Reed, another daughter, lives in South Bend.

White Slavery Charged.

Klamath Falls, Or., Oct. 7.—Gust Kuttupes, a Greek laborer, employed at the Klamath Manufacturing company, was arrested yesterday, charged with white slavery by Sheriff O. C. Low. He is accused of transporting Mrs. Mary Shaw from Weed to Klamath Falls, and of living in the same house with her in company with several other men. Kuttupes was taken to Wood this morning by Deputy Sheriff McKinney, of Siskiyou county, where he will be prosecuted as violating the Mann White Slave act.

Logger Loses Legs and Life.

Castlerock, Wash., Oct. 7.—Gustav Scankey, logger, aged 27, died this afternoon on the way to Centralia hospital as result of having fallen under a logging train this morning at 7 o'clock, when both legs were cut off. Scankey was employed by Silver Lake Railway & Logging company and made his home at Silver Lake.

ALBANY IS READY FOR ROUND-UP AND HUGE HARVEST TIME SHOW

Grounds Are in Good Shape; Fast and Fancy Riders and Horses Engaged.

THURSDAY IS OPENING DAY

Indications Are That Celebration Will Be One of Most Interesting Ones in the Valley.

Albany, Or., Oct. 7.—Albany is ready for its first roundup, which will begin Thursday in connection with the Central Willamette Exposition and Livestock Show. The combined attractions of the harvest festival will last three days.

Most of the prizewinners at the Pendleton show will be here and there will be others. There will be four relay teams—Del Blancett of Pendleton; Dr. J. L. Helms of Medford, with a string of fast ones; Joe Cantrill of Pendleton, and Barney Sherry, who toured the United States with his string winning prizes all over the country.

Among the riders of prominence are Fred and John Spain, Smiley Corbett, Ben Dobbin, the all-around cowboy from Los Angeles; George Fletcher, the colored cowboy; Tracey Lane, the daring buck and bucking rider; Lee Colwell, twice world's champion; Bob Hall, who won third in the bucking contest at Pendleton; Ben Corbett, fancy, relay and bucking rider; Jimmie Taylor, Louis Ewing, Herman Reddick and Shorty Hall, relay riders; James and Frank Roach, winners of Pendleton events and at other shows; Charles and George Vier, Buck Foster and Herb Adelman, and Bakers; the youngest bucking horse vider in the world, Archie is but 11 years old and rides the worst of bronchos.

Among the Ropers.
Among the ropers and bulldoggers are John Muir, Buffalo Vernon, Dan Clark, P. McClelland, Del Blancett, Frank Smith, George and Charles Wier, Fred Spain, Ben Dobbin and others of prominence.

Thrills will be put into the crowds by Sid Scates of Arlington and Tracey Lane, the cowboy poet, with their drunken rides; by Ben Corbett and Seales in the Roman races, and by Bertha Blancett with her standing ride. Bertha Blancett is the only girl riding without hobbled stirrups.

There will be plenty of daring features by cowgirls, with Josephine Sherry, lady trick rider, Olie Gehring, bucking horse rider; Iris Smith, bucking horse rider; Bertha Blancett, trick and bucking horse rider; Lois and Lula O'Neil of Alsea, with others yet to enter. There is no lack of talent for every event on the program.

There will also be a band of Indians with the best costumes from the Umatilla reservation and the best of the crowd. There is no lack of talent for their dances and riding. They will bring a string of ponies.

The seating accommodations are ample. The grounds have been built around the quarter-mile track, with the grandstand in front of over a 200-foot straightaway. It is estimated that from 15,000 to 20,000 people can be seated. The arena is well made and the arena is level and well packed. Ample corrals have been built to care for the stock and assure a speedy carrying out of the program.

The severest cattle are here, and more on the way to arrive early in the week. Among the cattle coming from southern Oregon is the famous spotted bull Nero, said to be the hardest bringing bull in the world. Dr. Helms is bringing a carload of stock from the Klamath country, including the hardest bucking horses shown at the Ashland roundup.

Business Men Are Interested.
The roundup is being managed by a board of public-spirited business and professional men. Roy Newport is president; Dr. B. E. Wallace is vice-president; Ed P. Falley secretary, and Charles G. Rawlings treasurer. The board of directors includes Roy Newport, Dr. B. E. Wallace, C. G. Rawlings, Al Stenberg, R. Westbrook and Dr. J. L. Hill. The whole show is backed by the united support of the business and professional men of the city.

The program contains 25 events, for which $2500 in purses will be given. A $250 silver-mounted saddle will be given to the winner of the bucking contest, in addition to the cash prize money. For the best all-around cowboy a $10 silver-mounted bridle will be given.

The officials for the roundup are: Judges, Dan Clark, Portland; Hugh Cummings, Corvallis, and William Dougherty, Uniontown; Track, Dr. J. L. Helms, of Medford, will act as starter; Wayne Stewart, Albany, timer, and George E. Rolfe, Albany, announcer. The programs will start at 10 o'clock each day.

However, as good as the roundup promises to be, it will only be one feature of the combined attractions of the Harvest Festival.

The fair is being managed by the Central Willamette Valley Exposition association, of which A. L. Fisher, Albany, is president; W. L. Jackson, Shedd, vice-president; A. C. Schmitt, Albany, treasurer, and W. A. Eastburn, Albany, secretary. The executive board contains: R. L. Burkhardt, Albany; W. L. Jackson, Albany; Charles

CORNELIUS BAND WINS COUNTY FAIR PRIZE

Cornelius, Or., Oct. 7.—Cornelius is justly proud of its military band, and this pride was materially strengthened last week at the Washington county fair, Forest Grove, when the band won all honors in the band contest held in connection with the fair. The band is composed entirely of local talent.

P. Ashton, Halsey; L. M. Curl, Albany; J. D. Irvine, Brownsville, and Frank Porter, Shedd. The board of directors consists of 28 prominent men from every section of Linn county, with Henry Hector, F. H. Hughson and T. B. Williamson, of Benton county. There are over $3,000 in premiums offered in this department of the fair, aside from the school exhibits.

O. A. C. Enrollment 15 Per Cent Better

Freshman Class Shows Greatest Gain—Multnomah County Sends More Students Than Any Other County.

Oregon Agricultural College, Corvallis, Or., Oct. 7.—President W. J. Kerr, of the Oregon Agricultural college, in a report to the board of regents who were in quarterly session here Friday and Saturday, announced the total enrollment of the college to date to be 1901 students, as compared with 1645 for the corresponding period last year, showing a 15 per cent increase. The freshman class took on the largest numbers, increasing by 31 per cent, while the increase in number of students of all classes was 25 per cent. With these figures a year's enrollment of more than 2000 students seems assured.

The freshman classes in the departments of logging, engineering, vocational, mechanical, engineering, highway engineering and commerce all show increases of more than 100 per cent, and the total in highway engineering shows an increase of 157 per cent. Electrical engineering freshmen have increased in numbers by 83 per cent; pharmacy freshmen by 41 per cent; graduate students by 22 per cent; industrial arts students, all classes, by 24 per cent. Home economics freshmen by 46 per cent, all classes by 14 per cent.

Multnomah now leads all the other counties of the state in number of representatives, sending 226 students, as against 220 in attendance from Benton county, Marion county sends 75; Polk, 37; Douglas, 36; Umatilla, 35; Lane, 24; Jackson and Yamhill, 32 each.

Sixty-nine per cent of the students pay all or a part of their expenses in college, by combining summer work with some form of work done at the college.

Charles H. Bogart Was War Veteran

Lebanon, Or., Oct. 7.—Charles H. Bogart, pioneer of '82 and Indian war veteran, died at his home in this city Thursday, after a lingering illness, at the age of 84 years. He was born October 20, 1832, in Cincinnati, Ohio. At the age of 20 crossed the plains with his parents, settling on a donation land claim near Eugene. In 1855 he enlisted in the United States service under Capt. Howard and fought in the Rogue River war and in 1858 was mustered out at Eugene.

He was married March 13, 1874, to Miss Amanda V. Liggett and they have five sons and two daughters were born, and who with the wife survive him. The children are A. R., G. E. and M. H. Bogart of Santa Ana, Cal.; W. L. Bogart, of Lebanon; E. L. Bogart of Morrow county, Or.; Mrs. Dayton Harris of Foster, Or., and Mrs. William Reeves. Funeral services were held at the Baptist church, interment in Masonic cemetery.

Lebanon Citizens Home.

Lebanon, Or., Oct. 7.—Captain and Mrs. C. H. Barrett returned to their home here Thursday morning, probably three months' visit in Michigan, Kansas, Nebraska, Iowa and Colorado. The Barretts are quite aged people and report a pleasant trip with several exceptions of extreme heat encountered in the eastern states.

Digging Coal for Portland.

Chehalis, Wash., Oct. 7.—Beginning Tuesday, the Shattuck company added a night force and is now working two shifts in the mines, in order to handle the orders received. Orders from Portland are plentiful, probably because last winter Portland was caught short when winter came. Besides the Portland orders, the company is supplying a fair local demand.

Mask and Dagger Elects.
Oregon Agricultural College, Corvallis, Or., Oct. 7.—Forty-two students of the Oregon Agricultural college tried out for admission into the Mask and Dagger society, one of the dramatic organizations of the campus, Thursday evening. It is the custom of the society to stage several dramatic productions during the year, the first one of which is scheduled for the middle of November. Eleven of those approved of by the judges in the contest were elected to membership by the organization. The successful ones were: Mieses Ruby-
