LUMBER PRODUCED ON THE LOWER COLUMBIA SEEKS A LOWER RATE

Lumbermen operating on the lower Columbia river are asking the interstate commerce commission to wipe out the differential of 2 1/2 to 5 cents imposed against them by the railroads and establish a freight rate into the territory east of Huntington in Idaho and Utah, which shall be the same as is now enjoyed by Puget sound and the Willamette valley.

Donaldson First Witness

F. G. Donaldson, secretary of the Willamette Valley Lumbermen's association, formerly traffic manager of the West Coast Lumbermen's association, was the first witness for the complainants—the mills at Astoria, Prescott, Rainier, Wauna and Westport.

Difference Is Explained

H. E. Lounsbury, general freight agent of the O. W. R. & N., testified that the difference Mr. McDonald complained of is due to the two-line haul necessary from Astoria into Union Pacific system territory, inasmuch as the shipments, originating on the S. P. & S., have to move through Portland to O. W. R. & N. rails, while Southern Pacific shipments move largely over a single line through Roseville.

Aid for Highway Promised

The Coos bay people asked their guests to aid in the movement to construct a highway from North Bend to Eugene to Coos bay. This was promised by the Portland delegation, and today a telegram was sent to W. E. D. Dodson, executive secretary of the Chamber of Commerce at Portland, asking that body to go on record with the highway commission, favoring the effort to secure federal aid, at a meeting of the commission at Salem this afternoon.

Word 'Draft' in Army Act Causes Benson to Condemn Wilson

A clause in the Hay-Chamberlain military bill, approved by President Wilson on June 3, which provides that the president may in time of war "draft" men into the army, the word being changed from "call" in conference, was the principal theme of Allan L. Benson, Socialist candidate for president, who spoke to a crowd of 3000 at the ice palace last night.

Much Territory to Be Covered

The itinerary is laid out so that no time will be wasted in a large amount of territory will be covered. The special train arrived from Eugene at Reedsport at 8 o'clock Tuesday morning. The party was taken immediately on a steamer across and down the river to Gardiner, where over an hour was spent visiting the business houses and looking over the place.

SLANG AND PUBLICITY WIN FAVOR OF HUGHES ON PRESENT JOURNEY

West Virginia Audiences Hear Indictment of Democratic Policies by Candidate.

By Perry Arnold

Clarksville, W. Va., Oct. 11.—(U. P.)—Republican Nominee Hughes swung westward through West Virginia today with his indictment of Democratic policies. He was scheduled for four speeches, at Clarksville, Parkersburg, Huntington and Charleston. In each of these he planned to direct the fire of his indignation against the Democratic failure to live up to the pledges of the 1912 platform, promising protection of American lives above all else.

Denies Haggood Charges

He made curt denial of charges made by Norman Haggood that there is an understanding between Hughes and the German propagandists. He did not mention the charges specifically, nor refer to Haggood by name.

Voice Is Strong and Clear

Hughes' voice was strong and clear—probably in the best shape it has been since he started to "come back" in August. Today, for the first time since he assumed the responsibilities of a presidential candidate, he began to develop real orator's gestures and to pull some tricks of speaking of which Theodore Roosevelt would be proud. He hailed out to view today a first-class uppercut swing in driving home his pungent criticism of the Adamson eight-hour bill. He missed in a little slang about "coming back" and "What do you know about that?" in his speeches, all of which struck his audience here favorably.

Mrs. Hughes Also Husband

What was more to the point, the G. O. P. candidate has developed a very keen sense of publicity now. Until the present trip, no one on his train could make the nominee see the necessity of preparing his speeches in advance. But since he left New York, Monday, he has found time to dictate the time the main points in his principal addresses, enabling the correspondents to get his "punchy stuff" into print earlier.

Warships Bombard Coast

Sofia, Oct. 11.—(I. N. S.)—Five Russian warships bombarded the Black sea coast of Bulgaria yesterday. The warships were sunk off Nantuxet as is reported. It is now believed generally that only five ships were sunk, and that in the confusion the Christian Knudsen was reported as the Kingston.

Buy Into a Good Business

It isn't always the man who works up from the bottom round of the ladder who achieves success. There are many men enjoying wealth today who bought their opportunities ready made. Such kind of opportunities are of particular interest to the "Business Chances" columns of The Journal.

BAYONNE, N. J., HELD IN GRIP OF TERROR BY BIG MOB OF STRIKERS

Entire Section Under Their Control and Many Acts of Violence Committed.

Bayonne, N. J., Oct. 11.—(I. N. S.)—Striking employees of the Tidewater oil company today held Bayonne in a grip of terror.

A mob, estimated at 1000 strikers, attacked J. J. O'Connor, lieutenant of the Lehigh Valley railroad police, and Herbert Richards, a traveling salesman, did not move fast enough when ordered to leave and was badly beaten. The police apparently are powerless in the face of the mob's defiance, and the authorities have granted the Standard Oil company, owners of the Tidewater company, permission to use machine guns.

Another mob held up a freight train on the Jersey Central line in the belief that it was hauling gunpowder to the front. The mob, which spelled the strikers who were climbing on the engine to attack the crew, and the engineer drove the train through the main body of the strikers. Six cars, however, were derailed. The mob then attacked the telegraph office at the Jersey Central station, Ann Boody, operator, when ordered to disconnect the line. The mob threatened to wreck the police station unless two of their number who had been arrested were immediately released.

Submarines Shell White Sea Station

Berlin, via wireless to Sayville, Oct. 11.—(U. P.)—Three German submarines shelled and heavily damaged the Russian radio station at Yenovoikok on the Murman coast, along the Arctic sea, said Copenhagen reports today. One mast was shot down and several men killed.

A Christian newspaper reported yesterday that a Russian destroyer sank two German submarines and captured a third off Yenovoikok.
