

Club Activities BY VELLA WINNER

MEN as well as women are joining the delegation which leaves tonight and tomorrow morning for the state convention of the Oregon Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teacher associations which convenes at The Dalles tomorrow. Leading educators from Oregon and Washington will address the assembly, including Professor Ralph D. Hetzel of Oregon Agricultural college, Mrs. Dora E. Snook of Seattle, La. Grande, principal of Franklin high school; O. M. Plummer, H. W. Stone, Portland Y. M. C. A.; Miss Cornelia Marvin, state librarian; J. B. Warner, superintendent of schools at The Dalles; Mayor Anderson, The Dalles; Mrs. Josephine Corliss Preston, superintendent of public instruction for Washington, and Mrs. Dora E. Schille, La. Grande. Thursday morning and afternoon will be occupied with registration and reports of delegates and an address by Professor Hetzel. Thursday evening will be "Welcome to Washington" and the state convention associations will be more especially taken up. Saturday there will be luncheon and an auto ride for the delegates.

Holiday Silver Tea.—The first of a series of silver teas to be given during the winter by the Holiday Parent-Teacher association took place yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. E. G. Lehigh, 245 East Eighth street, north. There was a large attendance. Delightful vocal solos were given by Miss Nina Dressel and Miss Hazel Bradford with Dr. Shaw at the piano. Judge W. N. Gaten gave an address on "Domestic Relations as Related to the Juvenile Court." Refreshments were served, the ladies serving being Mrs. W. I. Swank, Mrs. P. E. Kingsley, Mrs. T. G. Rowe and Mrs. F. C. Macdonald. The primary purpose of these teas which will be given the second Tuesday of the month during the school year, is to promote acquaintance among the members of the Holiday and the money received will be used in beautifying the school. Mrs. Charles F. Machen is president of the association.

Glenhaven Association Has Riley Day.—The members of the Parent-Teacher association and pupils of the Glenhaven school yesterday paid tribute to the memory of James Whitcomb Riley. One of the pupils gave a sketch of the life of the Hoosier poet, and another read "Little Orphan Annie." Piano and vocal numbers were also given by pupils, after which Judge Gaten gave an interesting talk. At the business session delegates to the state convention at The Dalles were appointed. The junior exhibit of this school will be held Friday afternoon and evening. This exhibit will be an interesting program in the evening, and all people of the Glenhaven district are urged to be present to encourage the children in their work.

Present Day Club Meets.—The Present Day club held its first meeting of the season yesterday afternoon at the home of the president, Mrs. F. D. Stephenson, with a large attendance. Mrs. W. H. Sanford gave an excellent paper on "The Home of the Future." Mrs. R. H. Ricard of Boise gave several delightful piano solos. Mrs. D. T. Van Tina, who is at present in the east, sent an interesting paper on Yale university and the number of post cards of this well known university. A social hour closed the afternoon. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Sanford in two weeks.

Research Club Plans.—The Portland Women's Research club has decided to maintain open forum at each luncheon which they will hold prior to the November election, commencing with the luncheon at the Hotel Portland tomorrow. All women desiring to inform themselves on political issues are cordially invited to be the club's guests. For reservations telephone Mrs. E. P. Main, Main 324, or Mrs. D. M. Watson, Main 3576, not later than 8 p. m. Wednesday.

Portland Woman Is Honored.—Mrs. Mary B. Talbot of Buffalo, N. Y., president of the National Association of Colored Women's club, succeeding Mrs. Booker T. Washington, has appointed Mrs. E. D. Cannady of this city, head of the department of "Next Year Posters and Prints" for the next two years. Mrs. Cannady is the associate editor of the Advocate and president of the "Women's Civic club." She is also the secretary of the Portland branch of the National association for the advancement of colored people.

Dallas Woman's Club.—The Woman's club held its regular meeting for October Tuesday afternoon in the library room, with a good attendance of members, presided over by the president, Mrs. Taylor. The program committee briefly outlined their plans for the year's work and the club is looking forward with much enthusiasm to a winter of profit and pleasure. The club has undertaken in cooperation with the high school, to arrange for a concert to be given on the evening of October 26 in the high school auditorium by the well known Portland baritone, Hartbridge Whip and his accompanist, Mrs. Leonore Fisher Whip. Popular prices will be asked, and the same concert will be given the following morning to school children free of charge. If this plan works out successfully, other concerts of a similar nature will be given during the year. Plans for the Annual Woman's club bazaar were discussed, and the date postponed from Friday, December 1 to one week later, December 8. The president and three other delegates to be selected from the club membership, Yale university, and the number of post cards of this well known university. A social hour closed the afternoon. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Sanford in two weeks.

Troutdale Association Meets.—The Troutdale Parent-Teacher association met Friday with a good attendance. Delegates elected to the convention at The Dalles this week were: Mrs. L. A. Harlow and Mrs. Fred Zimmerman. A committee was appointed to confer with the city council regarding erecting a comfort station on the highway at Troutdale. To encourage school attendance it was decided to give a reward to the student who has the best attendance record at the end of the school year. A committee consisting of Mesdames A. D. Kindall and the Misses Inglis was appointed to arrange for a Halloween party to be given this month. A paper was read by Mrs. J. A. Larsson on the founder of the Parent-Teacher association. Mrs. Cannady is the associate editor of the Advocate and president of the "Women's Civic club." She is also the secretary of the Portland branch of the National association for the advancement of colored people.

Marshall Club Meets.—Mrs. W. T. Stoll was hostess to the Progress club of Marshallfield at her home when it met Monday afternoon. Dahlias and holly berry greens were used throughout the rooms in effective decoration. During the afternoon A. K. Peck spoke to the ladies on rural credits and single tax which are some of the amendments to be voted upon at the coming election. The topic of the afternoon was "Belgium, Past and Present," which was discussed by Mrs. Fred Payne, who spoke upon the history, effect of the war, industries, social customs, art and music of same. Mrs. A. C. Vestal was the reader of the Mexican question. At the end of the afternoon, the hostess served refreshments and two weeks, Mrs. Fred Payne will be hostess to the club and the topics of the day will be Italy and the Wilson policy.

Thompson Association to Meet.—The Parent-Teacher association of the Thompson school extends a cordial invitation to every parent in the district, and to every friend or interested one in the city to attend the meeting and view the exhibition, showing the work done by the school children during their leisure hours. This meeting will be held in the assembly hall, Thompson school, Thursday afternoon at 2:30, also at 8 p. m., at which time a speaker from Reed college will devote some time to a pro and con discussion of the different measures on the ballot. Music will also be furnished by Reed college in the evening as a part of the interpretative work of the children and a feature of the exhibit. Beautiful pictures have been selected to be awarded to the rooms showing the largest number of exhibits, quality considered. A splendid attendance is desired.

Corriente Club Meets.—The Corriente club met yesterday for luncheon with Mrs. L. C. Bodina, 228 Fargo street. A short business session was followed by the program. The roll call was answered with interesting anecdotes from the lives of famous women, after which Mrs. C. F. Clark gave a paper on "The Women of Tomorrow," and Mrs. Anna Chambers spoke on "Women in Municipal Affairs." Mrs. M. L. T. Hildebrand was the speaker on the election measures. In addition to a large attendance of members several guests were present, including Mrs. L. C. Phillips, Mrs. Jennie Bodina, Mrs. Rogers, Mrs. McIntyre and Mrs. Ira Bodina. The club will hold its next meeting with Mrs. Dora Killingsworth.

FLOWER DAY TO BE HELD FOR SALVATION ARMY RESCUE HOME

Rose Buttonieres to Be Sold; Sum Needed to Aid Charitable Work Coming Year.

Friday, October 21, has been settled upon as flower day for the Salvation Army Rescue home. A committee headed by Mrs. Edward Ames and Mrs. W. D. Wheelwright, assisted by Miss Mazie MacMaster, Miss Ruth Savan, Mrs. Hazel Blumstein, Miss L. A. Van Schuyver, is handling the arrangements. The Benson hotel has donated headquarters for the work of the day. Buttonieres of roses and carnations are to be sold on every prominent street corner and through the office buildings. The Salvation Army Rescue home is open to give you need help no matter what their residence, character, financial or other qualifications may be. "We have an open door for the young woman always," declared Miss Nora Hudspeh, matron of the home. "We need $3000 to assist us in running the home during the coming year and are trusting the people of Portland will assist us in raising that amount."

Forest Fires Seen Near Cascade Locks

Columbia River Highway Motorists Witness Grand Spectacle When Brush and Shrubbery Burns. The Dalles, Or., Oct. 11.—Forest fires in the Cascade Locks region alarmed Columbia river highway motorists Sunday. Shrubbery and brush burned along the highway. Forest fires are reported on the Washington side of the Columbia opposite Cascade Locks. Motorists on the highway were not only frightened, but also for her own mental health, but also for her family and for her home. She does her work all the more thoroughly for having forgotten it entirely on an hour or two. Housewives will find how much more smoothly things will go if they learn to take them much more lightly. Go out to a club, or to the library, or to a picture show for an hour or two in the afternoon, and be sure to forget your house for that period. Then your interest will be kept alive and you will get your tasks finished twice as quickly and easily as if you were never there continually and incessantly.

FRATERNAL NOTES

Multnomah Camp, W. O. W., to Visit McMinnville Saturday.

W. O. W. to Visit McMinnville.—Multnomah camp, Woodmen of the World, was the first camp in Portland to secure its own headquarters. It is the largest local organization of the W. O. W. in the entire Pacific coast outside of San Francisco, and in proportion to population the largest of any city or town in the United States. McMinnville Woodmen of the World have recently completed the building started last spring costing $10,000, and are going to dedicate it next Saturday night, with Head Consul I. I. Boak of Denver, Chief Deputy Consul E. P. Martin and many prominent members from Portland and other sections of the Multnomah camp present. Captain H. R. Cooley commanding, and the officers of Multnomah, headed by C. S. Stove, consul commander, will make for McMinnville a class of 50 or more, and will go there with other members of the order by special train over the Southern Pacific, leaving Saturday night at Fourth and Yamhill at 8 o'clock. The program of the occasion in the city of McMinnville, dedication ceremonies and initiation, closing with a banquet. Already word has come from McMinnville that 50 Yamhill chickens have been sacrificed to make this banquet a success, and $0 more are ready if necessary. Members of the order from Corvallis, Astoria, Cannon Beach, Astoria and Dallas, Independence, Sheridan and other sections will send visiting delegations. James Rudiman, M. D. George and L. V. Orrin constitute the committee in charge of the special excursion train.

Scottish Rite Degree Tonight.—Work in the fourth, fifth and sixth degrees is announced to be given in the cathedral at Lewisdale and Morrison streets tonight by Oregon Lodge of Perfection, Ancient and Accepted Scottish Rite, Masons, of which Robert A. Miller is venerable master and Brydon H. Nicoll secretary. These degrees are known as the highest degrees in the order. The ceremony will be held at 8 o'clock. The committee in charge of the special excursion train.

Moody Camp Welcomes.—Tomorrow night Rose City camp will hold open house to all members and their relatives and friends, and all members of the Woodmen of the World, in honor of Head Consul I. I. Boak, who is visiting in this city.

Knights of Columbus Install.—The following officers of Portland council, Knights of Columbus, were installed last Monday night by Frank J. Loneragan, district commander: T. E. Murphy, grand knight; P. Bacon, deputy grand knight; Edward Kenefick, chancellor; J. J. Higgins, recorder; Frank J. Whelan, Oregon secretary; T. E. Dooley, treasurer; Joseph Kehring, advocate; A. L. Gianelli, warden; J. W. Hughes, inside guard; L. W. McKenna, outside guard; F. A. Smith, trustee.

Back From San Francisco.—J. O. Wilson, clerk of Multnomah camp, W. O. W., returned from San Francisco on Monday night, and is at his desk in the office of that organization during business hours. He was one of a committee to select a new ritual for the order.

No More "Comebacks."—San Francisco, Oct. 11.—It is now illegal for women to return goods after they have been sent home on "approval" by stores here. The city supervisors have just passed an ordinance forbidding such practices.

WORRY OVER HOUSE-KEEPING. The woman who takes her housekeeping too seriously frets from morning to night as to whether she will get her work done. She worries from the beginning of the week to the end as to whether she can make her husband's salary stretch over all the expenses. She worries about the beginning of the month, and she worries if she has to leave the house alone for an hour.

PERHAPS. The amount of good looks which a woman has had the pleasure of looking at is the most important thing in the world. It is in proportion to that medium competence in money by which the wise believe that men gain peace of mind. There can be no amount of good looks which is as safe in giving happiness as just that fair amount, a bit above the average, which leaves its possessor unconscious of having had her share—free to enjoy all the beauty she sees even if it be the good looks of other women.

Bed Time Tales

BY CLARA INGRAM JUDSON

Father Beaver Makes His Wish. FATHER BEAVER had no trouble finding Sleepkins, the Bat. In fact, Sleepkins flew right into his face before he quite reached Looking Lake. That seemed to be a habit Sleepkins had, but Father Beaver didn't mind because it saved him the trouble of hunting the bat through the darkness. "If you please, Sleepkins," said Father Beaver, when he found who had hit him. "I want some help. I believe you told Mother Beaver where she could make a wish. Will you please tell her?"

"Gladly," said the bat, "only do let me hang myself up first." "I never can tell when I may hit someone, and I hate to seem rude." He flew to his hollow tree and hung himself there. "Listen! Go back the way you came till you come to a circle of bushes. Crawl inside and wait till you hear a woodpecker. Tell him what you want and do as you are told." Father Beaver thanked the bat and then started to find the magic circle. He found it very soon and crept inside, and in half a minute he heard a woodpecker. "Ever since was just as Mother Beaver didn't know that 'Are you Redhead, the Woodpecker?' he asked me." "That I am," said the bird kindly. "Anything I can do for you?" "Yes," replied Father Beaver (and he thought to himself, "this is a lot easier than making a raft with hard, hard work"). "Please tell me how to get my wish."

"I'll be glad to," said Redhead. "Only you must listen carefully for I can tell you but once. Turn around three times to the left; three times to the right; and then shake your front paw and say, 'Snookens, snookens, bookins, give me my wish!'" "As soon as the bird had flown away, Father Beaver turned around three times to the left, three times to the right, then he shook his front paw and said, "Snookens, snookens, bookins, give me my wish. I want a raft!" Then he looked around the circle of bushes and there came a circle of bushes where Mother Beaver had found her handsome set of dishes that magically appeared before her—he looked around, and around, and around—and there was not a single thing there! Tomorrow—The Magic Circle.

NATIONAL GUARD NOTES

Company B Has New Uniforms and Is Ready for Call. Yutub Inspected Company B—In California, company B has two mascots—Dinty Moore and Yutub. The first was a tabby cat, and the second a pup. During the weeks on the border the two mascots became the best of friends. On the day of departure, Dinty Moore became frightened as the demolition of camp progressed, and was nowhere to be found. Yutub still has hopes of every gray tabby proving to be his playmate, and has several scratches on his nose in consequence of his efforts to find his friend. At the Army last night he gravely inspected Company B before it broke ranks. The company has been notified that uniforms for the first regiment to receive them. They are substantial and warm and adapted to the winter climate of this latitude.

Coos Bay Suggested Name of North Bend

Townfolk Agitate Change, Believing More Advertised and Uncommon Name Would Be Better Than Old. North Bend, Or., Oct. 11.—The people of North Bend have started a movement to change the name of the city to Coos Bay. It will be put to a vote of the citizens. It is argued that Coos Bay is a name which has been widely advertised and that North Bend is a more common name which is forgotten in Florence homes. It is pointed out that should the two cities ever consolidate Coos Bay is the name which would be selected for the united cities, Marshfield and North Bend. The plan seems to meet with the approval of the people generally.

Presbyterians Meet At Florence Today

Florence, Or., Oct. 11.—Twenty members of the Willamette Presbytery have arrived at Florence for the district Presbytery to be held here today and tomorrow. The entire district will be represented and other members are expected today. I. G. Knotts arrived Monday to make advance arrangements. Visitors will be entertained in Florence homes. It will be the first Presbytery ever held here.
