

What Society is Doing

BY NONA LAWLER

THE long chain of winter philanthropic affairs is being formed and there are already two big affairs on the social calendar. The Visiting Nurse association will be the beneficiary at the horse show at the Ice Palace next week on Friday and Saturday nights and on Saturday, October 21, will also be the date of the Salvation Army Rescue Home Tag day. This latter event, though arranged by the members of the organization, will have the cooperation of a host of society maids and matrons. Mrs. Wheelwright has assumed the chairmanship of a committee of workers and others who are assisting her are Mrs. William O. VanSchoyker, Mrs. Everett Ames, Mrs. Walter Burrell, Mrs. John K. Kollock, Mrs. Morris Whitehouse, Mrs. Chester Murphy, Mrs. J. Wesley Ladd and a number of others. There will also be several groups of girls of the younger set who will assist in selling, dividing the city into sections and taking charge of the various districts.

Costume Recital Planned.
The many friends of Mrs. J. Curtis Simmons are interested in her initial costume recital which she will give at the Little theatre, October 25, before starting on a concert tour. Mrs. Simmons has arranged an interesting program of American Indian songs and a setting of suitable scenery. She will present the numbers in costumes. Among the musical people the event is being much anticipated.

Pan Hellenic Entertained.
Miss Ruth Beach will receive the members of the Pan Hellenic association at her home, 530 Chapman street, Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Gamma Phi Beta sorority being hostesses. All sorority are invited to attend. The business of the meeting will be relative to the bazaar, which will be given for the University of Oregon women's building fund.

Leah Cohen to Study in New York.
At a morning musical, Miss Leah Cohen is to give a recital next Monday morning at 11 o'clock in the ballroom of the Hotel Multnomah. Miss Cohen is to leave soon for further study in New York, under Byford Ryan. The recital will be a notable occasion socially as well as musically, and these prominent Portlanders will be in attendance: Mrs. Solomon Hirsch, Mrs. C. S. Jackson, Mrs. Isom White, Mrs. Andrew C. Smith, Mrs. Gustav Simon, Mrs. Edgar P. Piper, Mrs. Harry Meyer, Mrs. Dan J. Malarky, Mrs. Clarence Jacobson, Mrs. Warren E. Thomas, Mrs. S. W. Ehrman, Mrs. Thomas Carrick Burke, Mrs. I. N. Fieschner, Mrs. Walter C. Good, Mrs. Edward Ehrman, Mrs. Frederick Sells, Mrs. Walter F. Burrell, Mrs. I. N. Lipman, Mrs. I. Lang, Mrs. Leon Hirsch, Mrs. Frank Spencer, Mrs. Aaron Meler, Mrs. Joseph N. Teal, Mrs. Sigmund Frank, Mrs. Max Fieschner, Mrs. John F. Logan, Miss Getta Wasserman, Mrs. Julius Louison.

For Mrs. Smith.
For Mrs. Lynn Kenneth Smith of San Francisco many delightful affairs have been given this week. Mrs. Smith, who was Miss Eleanor Cannon, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Cannon, will leave Saturday for her home in the south. Yesterday afternoon Mrs. Wm. Yelton gave a luncheon in her honor, asking a number of old-time newspaper friends of the honor guest.

For Mrs. Lynn.
Among the events of the week was a party given by Mrs. J. A. Stutt at her residence, 481 East Forty-seventh street north, in honor of Miss Edith Lynn, who is spending a few weeks as a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Stutt, before leaving for New Amsterdam, her home. A most enjoyable evening was spent in games and dancing, music being furnished by the Kike-Ross-Peggy orchestra. Several vocal solos were rendered during the evening, also numbers from the "Punch" quartet and the Punch trio. At midnight a bountiful repast was served. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Richardson, Mr. and Mrs. G. Bissell, Mr. and Mrs. J. O'Donnell, Mrs. E. Rice, Mr. and Mrs. H. Hissell, Wren Sanford, Mr. and Mrs. P. Bennett, Miss Ruth Bissell, Mrs. O'Donnell, Mr. and Mrs. L. Penne, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Stutt, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Anderson and Miss Edith Lynn.

Pythian Sisters' Card Party.
Orphic temple, No. 18, Pythian Sisters, will give a "600" card party Friday afternoon, October 13, in Pythian castle, Eleventh and Alder streets. Prizes will be given and light refreshments served.

Minnesotans to Meet.
The Minnesota state society will hold its regular monthly meeting next Friday evening in the Oregon building, Fifth and Oak streets. A splendid program will be held. All former residents of Minnesota and their friends are cordially invited.

party and social, to be given in Alumni hall, Grand avenue and Clackamas street, Friday evening, October 20. Darby's orchestra will furnish the music.

The athletic fund is to be benefited from the proceeds. Efforts are also being made to get sufficient funds to build a tennis court on the college grounds. The following are in charge of the affair: John Layman, William

On Friday evening, October 20, a big time is expected at the Rose City Park clubhouse, at Fifty-seventh and Sandy boulevard, the occasion being a dancing party, which will be under the direction of Mrs. Carl Canfield. Although it will be 10 days in advance of Halloween, many of the features of that gala day will be represented, especially in the decoration of the clubhouse. The ladies are taking a special interest in this number of the winter's series, and a regular "Rose City Park club" time is anticipated.

The Magic Circle.
If you make a wish and it don't come true, what is the world you think you'll do?

FATHER BEAVER looked around the magic circle; he even poked a bit among the bushes to see if perchance the raft might be there. There wasn't a thing but grass—nice, smooth, green grass; just the same grass that had been there before he had made his wish.

"Funny," said he, and he scratched his head. "Maybe the wish-people didn't hear me. I'll wish again." So he turned to the left, he turned to the right, he shook his front paw and said, "Snookens, snookens, bookens." "A raft!" he said again and he looked around—and nothing was there! "That's a great how 'o do!" he exclaimed, and he was getting pretty cross by now. "Father Beaver heard the creature's hopes all up and then nothing happens! I wish that Redhead would turn up now. I'd talk to him!"

And just then, Father Beaver heard the "rap, rap, rap-rap-rap" of Redhead's bill on the tree overhead. "Say, Redhead!" called Father Beaver (though I must say his voice wasn't nearly as fierce as he had thought he would make it), "something's the matter with your wishing circle. It won't work!"

"Won't work?" asked Redhead in surprise. "Why yes it will, I tried it only a little while ago."
"Well, it won't work for me, I know that," replied Father Beaver. "I tried it twice."
"You don't say so?" exclaimed Redhead. "What did you wish for?"
"A raft," replied Redhead. "Why you can make a raft yourself."
"Of course I could," answered Father Beaver, "but that takes too long. I'm going to wish for one!"

"Then you'll have to find some place else to wish," said Redhead.

place else to wish," said Redhead. "This magic circle only works when you wish for something you couldn't possibly get by your own labor."
"But Mother Beaver got her set of dishes here," objected Father Beaver. "Of course she did," answered Redhead. "Could she make dishes? She couldn't, so she wished for them and got them. But you want a raft. Go and make one," and with that Redhead flew away as though he was disgusted with Father Beaver.
And Father Beaver flounced himself out of that magic circle as though he too was disgusted. He was too cross to even notice where he was going!

Tomorrow—Father Beaver Learns Something.
