If President Wilson had done nothing during his administration than secure the enactment of the federal reserve banking law and the rural credits law he would deserve the support of every farmer in the country, according to J. W. Dowty, a Clackamas county farmer who was in Portland today. Mr. Dowty owns a farm near Barton. Before President Wilson took from the money barons the power to bring about financial panics, the farmers were the first to be hard pressed and compelled to pay exorbitant interest rates when the money lords began to call in their money. Mr. Dowty pointed out. At best, he said, the farmers have been required to pay higher interest rates than almost any other borrower. "The panics have been made impossible by the federal reserve banking law," said Mr. Dowty, "and as soon as the farm land banks are put into operation the farmers will be able to borrow money as cheaply as anyone else. No one but a farmer can fully appreciate what it will mean to be able to get money at 4 1/2 to 5 per cent. "I remember in 1899 I was farming at Smith's Center, Kan., and needed some money with which to handle my crops. I went to the bank and was told I could borrow some money at 12 per cent a month interest. The bulk of the money that was loaned to farmers came from London, England, and the farmers were paying 9 per cent interest for it. Conditions have improved there since then, but they will be better still when the new rural credits law is put into operation. "Farmers in Oregon are now paying 8 to 10 per cent for short time loans, and for long time loans we have to pay 8 per cent. "Frank E. Manning, who came to the farmers from President Wilson's administration are enough to convince him that he ought to be kept in the 'White House.'"

CITY COUNCIL ADOPTS TANNER CREEK SEWER RECONSTRUCTION PLAN

Baker's Is Only Dissenting Voice When Vote Is Taken By Commission Today.

TOTAL COST IS $287,000

Amount Will Include Sum Necessary to Fill Old Conduit and to Make Connections.

The city council over the dissenting voice of Commissioner Baker this morning adopted plans and specifications for the reconstruction of Tanner creek sewer from Seventeenth and Taylor streets to the Willamette river. The total cost, including 5 per cent for engineering services, is approximately $287,000. The plans were adopted after City Attorney La Roche had informed the council that the city had to build the sewer large enough to carry for the drainage area outside of the city limits. The council had been under the impression that the cost of construction of the additional size sewer would have to be paid out of the general fund and this cost had been estimated at $45,000. According to La Roche's ruling, however, this charge can be properly assessed to the district within the city assessed for the cost of reconstruction. It is included in the $287,000 estimate. The city will have to pay for refilling the old sewer and changing plumbing connections to residents affected by the reconstruction. This will be covered by the $287,000. LOGAN IS NAMED CHAIRMAN Civil Service Board Chooses Presiding Officer for Itself. John F. Logan has been elected chairman of the municipal civil service board. He was selected by R. H. Thomas and George C. Mason, the other two members of the board. The board meeting yesterday afternoon postponed action in the case of Charles F. The board will determine at its next regular meeting whether or not to accept the recommendations of the committee appointed to hear the evidence against Hunter. R. H. Craddock and John A. DEMOCRATIC LAWS HELP

Measures Passed During Wilson Administration Will Do More than All Legislation of Past 20 Years.

By the votes of Commissioners Holman and Holbrook, the board of county commissioners decided today to increase the advisory budget committee from seven to nine members. Commissioner Lightner dissented on the ground that it would make the committee more unwieldy. As constituted now, the committee will be composed of the following: Frank Kiernan, E. B. MacNaughton, County Assessor Reed, County Auditor Martin, A. S. Benson, Abe Tichenor, P. C. Riggs, Will F. Lipman and C. C. Chapman. The committee will begin the consideration of next year's budget November 1. OLD CASE BOBS UP AGAIN Heirs Charge Maladministration by Executor in Winters Case. Agnes Blitts Hecker, administratrix of the $100,000 estate of the late H. D. Winters, is charged with gross maladministration in a petition which has been filed in the county court by a number of heirs who ask for an accounting and surrender of real property. The Winters died June 20, 1911, and on the following day Mrs. Hecker, then Agnes Butts, was appointed administratrix. Though more than five years have elapsed since her appointment, it is alleged that she has not yet filed her final report and accounting, refusing to close the estate, the petitioners charge, because of the loss of revenue to herself. The heirs signing the petition are Thomas J. Winters, Polly Forbes, Pauline A. Jennings, Anna M. Dillon and A. C. Winters. They protest against the allowance to the administratrix of $100 per month extra compensation for her services and an attorney's fee of $15,000. In asking for the surrender of real property the heirs allege that possession of this property by Mrs. Hecker was never really necessary for the administration of the estate or payment of the debts of the deceased which totaled $247,255. It is claimed that the personal property of Winters exceeded $25,000. It will be recalled that the Winters estate was the one to which W. A. Purdy claimed ownership through a deed which was declared by Circuit Judge McGinn to be a forgery. The case was thrown out of court.
