and, by the Way, of Whole Season's With Angels, We've Taken Just Half.

Los Angeles, Oct. 23 .- (P. N. S.)-Without their leader, Frank Chance, the Angels breezed through two battles yesterday and came out with a win and a tie. The morning battle was a 1 to 0 affair of much class, while the afternoon game went 11 innings into darkness with the two clubs hooked up in a 4 to 4 tle. This left the series between the two clubs for the year an even break, each club taking 18 and losing 18. George Zabel heaved a sterling game in the morning at Vernon. Ted Easterly made his first appearance be hind the plate since he joined the Angels and caught a great game. In the afternoon Hogg mixed with Noyes and for a time Noyes had all the better of it. A few errors, two hits and some gummy work in the third gave the Beavers four runs. They never came close to scoring thereafter. Hogg pitched until the end of the ninth, when Crandall went in and finished strong.

The Angels scored one in the sixth bases in the last of the ninth, with and Wolter popped out. It looked for passes. a minute as though it was all over, but Houck, who was now pitching for score was tied. It stuck that way. The scores: First game:

YALE FEARS NOT W. AND J. ELEVEN WITH NEW SQUAD

Sheldon Is Out for Season With an Attack of Rheumatism.

New Haven, Conn., Oct, 23 .- (I. N S.)—Yale holds the Washington and Jefferson eleven, its next playing opponent, more lightly than for several wo in the seventh and packed the seasons. Last year it trimmed Yale cases in the last of the ninth, with decisively 16 to 7, completely fooling no outs. Elis lifted a short fly the Eli team by its effective forward

This year Yale coaches believe that but Houck, who was now pitching for the Legore-Jacques-Bingham backfield the Ducks, walked Galloway and the enough to pierce the Washington-Jefferson rush line and will result in outscoring the visitors.

Hope of "Chub" Sheldon returning to the game this season is lost. He is suffering from inflammatory rheumatism which followed an attack of ton-silitis. The operation performed for an abscess on Captain Black's ankle was successful, but he will not begin scrimmage work till late this week. Callahan's ankle is still tender and his leading understudy, Jack Vorys, will be out of the game for several days longer.

Rex Hutchinson, the former full-back, will continue at center. He weighs nearly 200 pounds and as a roving center displayed dash and power in the game against Virginia Polytechnic Institute last Friday. Travers Smith will return to quarterback either today or tomorrow.

TWO AGGIE MEN OUT BECAUSE OF GAME SATURDAY

son and Captain Bissett Out Until Nov. 4.

As an aftermath to Saturday's in-tersectional football clash with the Nebraska Cornhuskers, Coach Pipal of he Oregon Aggles will have to re-Ozbun Walker, who was injured in the first quarter of the game, will be out for the remainder of the season, while Captain Bissett will probably be able to play in the Whit-man game, November 4. The "Gray Fox" has two weeks to prepare his team for the game with Vincent Borleske's Missionaries who loom up very strong this season on the offensive. On the defensive, Whitman is not exceedingly strong, according to reports, but in two weeks' time the former Lincoln high coach can probably remedy that fault.

Coach Hugo Bezdek of the Univer sity of Oregon team will have to strengthen his defense if he has hopes of lowering the colors of the Uni versity of Washington team in their annual clash in Eugene, November 4 This is the opinion of several of the Multnomah Amateur Athletic club players, who played against Oregon two weeks ago. The fact that Berkeley scored two touchdowns on the Lemon-Yellow team caused the hopes of several Oregon supporters to take a big drop.

The official paid attendance at the Nebraska-Oregon Aggle game Saturday was compiled yesterday morning. totaled 5831. The receipts were $6533.50. Each team will receive about $2500, according to an estimate made! by Everett May, graduate manager of Strengthened by Dean Crowell, former Oregon halfback, and Dorman, the University of Washington varsity player, the Multnomah Amateur Athetic club football team fell before "Dad" Convile's Scrubs during yesterday morning's practice on the club points in the second quarter.

The Multnomah team is sorely in need of condition, and if the players hope to triumph over Willamette and hold their own with the Whitman team, they must be in better shape han they were yesterday. Mike Bloch, the all-star Interscholastic league tackle, will try out for a position on the club team and he may be used at center. Eddie Duffy, who played end last season, will turn out after the first of November. F. J. Bohler, athletic director of Washington State college, is of the opinion that the Oregon-W. S. C. game in Portland November 11, will be one of the best ever played between the two elevens. Since the defeat at tho hands of the Aggies, the Pullmanites of 25 targets with the small bore gun. Baby Beavers was the leading pitcher have been showing up in great form Henry R. of the college conference claim that

Parsons is eligible to represent Oregon on the gridiron this season. Parsons entered Oregon in 1911, but was kept off the football squad, because of an attack of typhoid fever. He played in 1912, 1913 and 1914. Last season, he was a member of the Mult-nomah Amateur Athletic club eleven. Graduate Manager Everett May of the Oregon Aggles is of the opinion that Parsons is eligible to represent Oregon this season, as the three year rule is not retroactive in respect to players that were in competition at the time of its adoption. This would make

Parsons eligible to play. The University of Oregon faculty has passed approval on Parsons' playing and inasmuch as a unanimous vote must be taken in the conference to decide a protest, it is hardly likely that Washington will enter an official protest. It will, be recalled that several colleges protested the playing by Washington of Mel Mucklestone and Max Eakins several years ago, but they were accepted by the Washington faculty and that was final. They were allowed to play their first year, after having come directly from a middle western agricultural college. Among Portland fans it is believed that Coach Dobie is just pulling one of his psychological strings to throw the Oregon team up in the air for the forthcoming game,
