Miller. ***** That Woodrow Wilson will carry Oregon on November 7, is the prediction coming into the headquarters of the Woodrow Wilson league from all parts of the state. One of the noticeable features of the campaign in the last several days is the decided changing of sentiment among the German voters of the state, according to these reports. When the campaign began they were in large majority opposed to the president, but since Colonel Roosevelt has been ranging over the country telling what he would have done if he had been in Wilson's place as various crises arose in this nation's foreign affairs, thousands of Germans have been coming to the conclusion that President Wilson must be credited with having kept a pretty level head and a steady hand. Hughes' Speeches Factor. Utterances of Hughes also add to this belief on the part of the voters of German extraction. A substantial citizen of Beaverton dropped into Wilson league headquarters yesterday and reported a remarkable change in sentiment in favor of Wilson among the Germans in that vicinity. A similar report came in yesterday from among the many Germans who live in and near Sherwood, and likewise from Hillsboro and Cottage Grove. A woman well known in Portland and Grants Pass, and who takes an active interest in public questions, returned yesterday from southern Oregon and commented on the noticeable increase in Wilson sentiment in that part of the state in the last few weeks. Many Woodrow Wilson leagues are being organized throughout the state these last few weeks before election.

New Leagues Formed. Among those recently organized are the following: University of Oregon, Eugene—Stanley D. Eaton, president; Miss Lillie Miller, vice president; Cleve S. Simkins, secretary; Miss Ethel M. Waite, treasurer. Halsey, W. A. Green, president. North Powder—Enoch Hess, president; G. E. McDonald, secretary; W. A. Hudson, vice president; Miss R. B. Mercer, treasurer. Florence—J. H. Bergman, president; H. L. McKee, secretary. Marshfield—R. A. Copple, president; Ed Noonan, secretary; Mrs. James Bennett, treasurer. Halfway—Almon Motley, president. Cornucopia—Ed Mills, president. Willamette—J. E. Downey, president. Heppner—Mrs. A. E. L. Blins, president. O. A. C., Corvallis—P. T. Von Schooley, president, 311 N. Twenty-third street; S. B. Kiddle, secretary, 119 Ninth street.

Portland—Portland—S. Anna Miller, president, 675 Roselawn street; Ida M. Gillett, vice president, 1200 Jarrett street; Alma J. Smith, secretary, 1175 East Nineteenth street north; S. I. Darley, treasurer, 1905 East Thirteenth street north.

ect, $3000 for the Balch creek project; $600 for traffic surveys and $500 for street encroachment investigations. Considering the estimates of the garbage incineration bureau under Commissioner Daly yesterday afternoon, the council eliminated a total of $2845 from his estimates. Of this amount $1900 was for fire brick which Commissioner Daly is purchasing out of this year's appropriations. The remainder was for small improvements at the plant. The council agreed with Commissioner Daly that the furnaces of the plant should be retained and allowed an appropriation to defray the expense.

"Pisgah Mother" Asks Money to Continue Work. Should the city council continue its appropriation of $1900 a year toward maintaining the Pisgah home colony for men near Seaside, Or.?

Mrs. Hattie B. Lawrence, head of the institution, Mrs. Lawrence, formerly municipal judge, and others interested in the work of the institution are asking that the council continue the appropriation during 1917. They say that the cause is a worthy one and that the institution is putting "down and outers" on their feet instead of in the poor house. The council is not to take definite action until an investigation is made of the work done by the institution and the report of the men who have been put on their feet.

Positions Attract.

Positions of stenographers and typists in the city's services are sought after because of the salaries paid. Such is evident by the number of applicants taking a municipal civil service examination for stenographers and typists being held in the city hall today. Fifteen girls are taking the examination for stenographers and five for the positions of typists.

Double Damage Suit

Tried in the Court

In Judge Kavanaugh's court is being tried a damage suit brought by J. W. Fournier against the Blake-McFall company for $15,000 as a result of an automobile collision that occurred two years ago at the intersection of East Burnside and Twenty-fourth streets in which Mrs. Franz Eiling was killed. Mr. Eiling suffered ribs broken and a shoulder dislocated, Miss Eiling, their daughter, was injured and J. W. Fournier, the driver, sustained a broken leg. Four damage suits have resulted, this being the fifth. Mr. Eiling for his wife's estate, sued the Blake-McFall company for $7500 damages on the ground that the company's car, driven by Charles C. Emory, repair man for the company, violated the traffic law in driving the car to the wrong side of the street at the point where the collision occurred. In the first suit, before a jury in Judge Kavanaugh's court, the plaintiff lost. Eiling sued for himself and the jury hung. The case was re-tried before Judge Gantenbein and Eiling was awarded $3200. Miss Eiling then sued for personal injuries and won $700. The case brought by Fournier for $15,000 is the largest amount claimed by any of the injured. W. M. Davis represents the plaintiff and Ralph W. Wilbur is defending the Blake-McFall company.

Divorces Are Granted.

Judge Gatenbein granted a divorce to Marguerite Nelson from John A. Nelson, awarding to the mother custody of the minor children, Lester, Herbert.

Suit Is Transferred. A suit of the Peninsula Lumber company against the Royal Indemnity company of Wisconsin for $7656.99 was today transferred on order of Judge Gantenbein from the circuit court to the district court of the United States for Oregon.
