Railroad Chief Leaves for the which will long be remembered. East but Says He Will Not Go to Work Yet.

BUSINESS IS LIKE STREAM

"It Would Be Bad to Have Things Always at Torrent Stage," Says Pormer Head of Union Pacific.

A. L. Mohler is not yet ready to go back to work. When he quit the presidency of the Union Pacific and Oreon Short Line railroads he determined to rest absolutely for at least six months. The six months had not expired last night when he pulled out of Portland for the east, and so he de-clared that he was still resting.

It was with extreme reluctance that the railroad chief left Portland for Denver last night. He had been spending several weeks in shooting and fishing along his favorite haunts of the lower Columbia river.

"Portland Is Best City." "I'm coming back," he said enthu-astically. "For everything that makes life worth living, Portland is the best city in the United States. When I was here with the O. R. & N. company the city had only 90,000 people. It has made of itself a real city now and it is only beginning. If had a los of extra money. I'd come here and buy property.

"Disaster comes quickly, but the good takes long to achieve. When the depression came, it hit hard and fast. Portland has long since passed the low point and is on the upturn and with the building of ships and the operation of ships out of the Columbia river, a new and more solid basis is established which will make of the prosperity coming a more stable prosperity."

Mr. Mohler compared the fluctuations of business to a stream, "Sometimes the stream runs low, dwindling down to a mere rill. Then the rains from above come and the snows melt and the stream becomes a torrent. It would not be well for the stream always to be a torrent, but it is just as sure that Portland's stream will become a big river again as that the snows on the mountain peaks will melt and fill the Co-

> Rest Lengthens Life. Mohler said he probably would get back into harness some time— but he doesn't have to. By taking the six months' rest he feels that he will be good for eight or ten years more of the same active life that has characterized the last 45. If he hadn't taken the rest, however, it might be otherwise, he said.

He would not say what plans he has in mind after the six months' period is over. "I could go to work any time I wanted to, though," he added.

The railroader had excellent luck with his gun and rod, he said, which he declared not remarkable, because he has made the outdoors his hobby just as others have made a hobby of

"I couldn't play golf—a man can't really forget his work while he is at that. The only object in having sport is to forget. That's why I hunt and fish."

Mr. Mohler is going from Denver to Texas and will wind up in North Carolina

Canal Board Wants Big Lot of Lumber

Bids for 5.000,000 feet of lumber are being asked for by the Panama canal commission, the specifications calling for either southern yellow pine, or Douglas fir. The Chamber of Commerce today received copies of the specifications inasmuch as the new government specifications always allow northwest lumber to enter the com-

These specifications call for 700,000 feet of ceiling, 600,000 feet of flooring, 800,000 feet of siding and all sorts and sizes of timbers bringing up the total to the 5,000.000 mark. Grading must be in accordance with the rules of the West Coast Lumbermen's association. The bids will be opened at Washington, on November 17. Major Earl I. Brown, corps of engineers, U. S. A., purchasing agent, has issued the call for bids. Delivery is to be made at Balboa, Pacific port of the canal. This is the second large inquiry for lumber issued by the canal commission within the last few weeks.

Stabbing Uncovers Alleged Bootleggers

Through the stabbing of Harold Kuzmesky, proprietor of a soft drink establishment and pool room at 241 Couch street yesterday afternoon, the police received their first intimation that not all were soft drinks that passed over his bar.

Kuzmesky was stabbed in an altercation with James R. Raker, a laborer, and it was Raker, following his arrest on a charge of assault, that let the cat out of the bag.

Investigation of the premises by Patrolmen Miller and Wellbrook resulted in finding a half-gallon of whiskey behind the bar and a quart of bonded whiskey in an open handbag.

William Blair, Kuzmesky's partner. was arrested on a charge of violating the prohibition law, and both Blair and Kusmesky are held at the city jail on $400 bonds each. Raker is also held at the jail, the charge against him being preferred by Rusmesky. He was arrested by Pa-trolman Portwood shortly after the affray.

Wilson Ridiculed With Slang and Sarcasm and Hughes crats by public sentiment created by Lauded as Wonderful Man.

Advertised as the "female edition of Billy Sunday," a reputation which her command of slang and biting sarcasm enables her to live up to, Mrs. E. B. Hanley of Medford drew a crowd which far overtaxed the capacity of the Eleventh street theatre last night. The crowd alternately laughed and applauded a talk in which Mrs. Hanley "panned" the Wilson administration mercilessly and lauded Charles E. Hughes to the sky as a "man whom it would take a psalm from the Bible to fittingly describe."

"I am just crazy about this man Hughes; he is so grand, so noble, so much of a man." she declared in the course of a eulogy which followed hard A new schedule of prices for milk to on the heels of a denunciation of consumers went into effect in Portland Woodrow Wilson as a "wishy-washy yesterday.
