AMERICAN PEDIGREED CATTLE IN ARGENTINE

Removal of Governmental Restrictions on U. S. Cattle Opens Field.

By W. Henry Robertson.

American Consul at Buenos Aires.
According to the Argentine Year
Book for 1915-1916 the grading up of cattle in this country has been brought about by the importation, chiefly from Great Britain, of the best strains of that money could purchase. From 1901 to 1914 pedigree animals entering the republic were as follows: Shorthorn, 10,722; Polled Angus, 440; Hereford, 714; red polled, 121: Jersey, 115; various, 649; total, 12,761. Experts have placed an average valuation on these pedigree ani-mals of $637 United States currency, giving a total valuation of about $8,000,000.

Show sales of pedigree cattle are held each year at Palermo, in the city of Buenos Aires, and form the annual feature of pastoral life in this republic. In 1912, the world's was made at Palermo, where the champion Shorthorn bull, Americus, brought $80,000 Argentine paper 1915, the champion bull, Shorthorn, sold at auction for $60,-Argentine is now the Durham Shorthorn, of which 200 bulls were sold at auction in 1915 for a total of $1. 140,000 Argentine paper ($84,040 Unit ed States currency), or an average of $5700 Argentine paper per head, o about $2420 United States currency all exclusive of a six per cent commission which is paid by the purchasers in this country. The Hereford appears to have declined in favor, the champion bull of that breed having been sold in 1915 for $12,000 Argenrency), or about a fifth of the price of 152 eggs each in that time, paid for the champion Durham.

Standing of the Polled Angus Breed The polled Angus was considered 9 few years ago to be the coming breed, but seemed in little favor at Palermo in 1915, when the champion bull of this class was sold for only $4500 Argentine paper ($1910 United States currency). On the other hand, the polled Angus steer is in great demand mong the establishments that pack frozen beef, and in 1915 prices in the ordinary cattle markets went as high as $400 Argentine paper ($170 United States currency) for this type of steer, which is probably a world's record. In the fall of 1915, F. W. Harding of Chicago, secretary of the American Shorthorn Breeders' association, came being the primary cause of having this important market thrown open for the future to American shorthorn pedigree Under government decree dated October 6, 1915, the regulations for the importation of livestock into this coun-

to Argentina, and can be credited with try were amended as follows: par f to re is prohibited into the territory of the republic, at any point, of livestock of the bovine, ovine, caprine and porcine apacies, coming from countries where foot-and-mouth disease exists or has existed in an epizootic or general form; or from departments, provinces, countries or states where the disease exists * or has existed within three months previous to shipment, the three months reckoning from the date of the official declaration of the extinction of the disease, providing that such declaration has not been made until 15 days have elapsed from the date of the last case of the disease. case of the disease.

Time Reduced to Three Months. Article 48, paragraphs a, b and c, are modified in the sense of reducing the six months to three, which are required to be declared in the sanitary certificate of origin as the period which has elapsed from the date of the extinction of foot-and-mouth disease; and, as set forth in the previously modified article, that the disease does not exist in an appropriate form in does not exist in an epizootic form in the country of origin, and also that * there is no case of it in the state, *
province or department from which the animals have come.

The removal through these amend* ments of the prohibition upon the importation of American cattle into Argentina should open to American great battle between Russo-Roumanian breeders of pedigree cattle a most forces and Mackensen's troops in the promising market that heretofore has been monopolized by British breeders.

At the time of Mr. Harding's arrival Dobrudia for possession of the bridge that crossed the Danube at Cernavoda American cattle were forbidden entry continues. Advices today from Buchainto Argentina so long as foot-andmouth disease existed anywhere in the United States. In other words, cattle of Maine, for instance, if foot-andnot be sent here from the state conflict, as the most important of the mouth disease chanced to exist in California, although there might not be a case of it in any other state.

Relatives Reunited Through Journal

Through the columns of The Journal information has been gained which will result in the reunion of relatives whose whereabouts had been unknown to either. They are T. T. Belknap of Pasadena, Cal., and Adelbert Belknap, his brother. The former had been living in Seat-the for three years after leaving Portland, and had then removed to Pasadena, where he supposed his brother and niece were residing. He was informed that they had removed to Port-

An article in The Journal stating his plight brought a response from E. Fink, 1571 E. Burnside. He says he was a neighbor of the missing people when living near Goble. Adel-Bert Belknap and his daughter, Mrs. Gertrude Sweet, five about seven miles from the town on the wood road toward the logging camp, Fink says, having removed there from Portland.
