ASSOCIATION met Tuesday afternoon. There was a good attendance and much interest taken in different activities of the association, Dr. W. R. Shinn spoke on contagious diseases and preventative measures that parents may use to make the children less susceptible to infec-tion. Mrs. J. F. Chapman, president of the Franklin High Parent-Teacher association, gave a comprehensive view of the new Franklin high school, its present activities and plans for the future, which show that the foundations for a superior educational institution have been carefully laid. Districts tributary to this school certainly may he proud of it, and should show their appreciation by sending their children to it instead of to the other high schools which are at present so much over crowded. Miss Dempey and Miss Faunders of Reed college spoke on the educational value of play and demonstrated by pupils of the school. The prize, a cyclamen, was awarded to Mrs. Ausmus' room for having the largest
