

GOOD ATTENDANCE AT THE EXTENSION CLASS AT HOME IS EXPECTED

Mrs. Jane Burns Albert Will Be One of Vocal Attractions at Affair Saturday.

The big north gallery in the Central library will scarcely hold the crowd if all the 1916 correspondence study and extension class students in Portland of the University of Oregon accept their invitations to the university at-home, which begins at 8:15 o'clock next Saturday evening.

Mrs. Jane Burns Albert has been secured as one of the musical attractions. She will sing the lyrics written by Mrs. Mabel Holmes Parsons, professor of English at the university, who has been between 400 and 500 students in Portland classes this fall. The music for the lyrics was written by A. W. Denison of Boston. Two faculty members from the university school of music will also play—Thomas Annett, instructor in piano, and Miss Winifred Forbes, professor of violin.

In Portland classes in architecture the university has about 150 students, and an exhibit of some of their work and of the work of their instructors will be made Saturday night, the first exhibit of the work of this school in Portland. In the display, Roswell Douch, instructor in modeling and drawing, will have a number of studies; A. H. Schreff, professor of normal training in drawing, who came to the faculty this year from Boston, will have numerous art specimens, and L. C. Rosenberg, instructor in architectural design, will have a list of 12 sketches and a set of illustrations for "The Book of Materials."

River Entrance No Bar to Naval Base

Columbia Deepened Sufficiently to Admit Ships, Says Lieutenant Blackburn; Rotary Club Holds Meeting.

The Columbia river is exceptionally well qualified as the site of a naval base and the bar that might once have been an argument against the entrance at the mouth of the river has been deepened so that it offers no difficulties, said Lieutenant J. H. Blackburn of the United States navy in an address before the Rotary club at noon yesterday.

There are four suitable places for a naval base on the Pacific coast and the Columbia river is one of them, averred the naval officer.

The club's Christmas fund has reached a total of $200, reported C. B. Waters. Thomas J. Swivel has accepted nomination as candidate for king representing the Rotary club at the "Festive" Festival of the Progressive Business Men's club, next Monday evening at the Armory, announced Owen Summers.

"Rotarian" Morrow of Dublin, Ireland, said, "We have seven Rotary clubs in as many of our principal cities and they are strong factors in our commercial life."

Mrs. Sadie Orr Dunbar, secretary of the Oregon Association for the Prevention of Tuberculosis, asked cooperation for the seal sale of the organization with is representing Oregon in the fight against tuberculosis, in carrying on a tuberculosis survey of the entire state, furnishes class room material on the subject to the schools of Oregon and pays for the full time of a visiting nurse.

A. R. Gephart, secretary of Public Welfare bureau, told of the plans for service which have been formulated by the successor to Associated Charities.

Vancouver Barracks' Enlargement Sought

Vancouver and Portland chambers of commerce will join in effort to secure the enlargement of the Vancouver military barracks to a brigade post, according to the decision reached by committees representing the two organizations in joint session here yesterday.

A special committee of three each from the Vancouver and Portland chambers of commerce to act together in formulating argument in favor of the brigade post, to secure assistance of both the Washington and Oregon delegations to congress and to secure the approval by resolution of as many organizations in as wide an area as possible.

It was argued that Vancouver should be made a brigade post because it is a focal point for transcontinental railroads and hence valuable for mobilization of troops and for prompt defense of adjacent points, because it would furnish support to coast defense both on Puget sound and at the mouth of the Columbia river, and because the occupation of the 250,000 square-mile Columbia basin would give an enemy first rate opportunity to invest Puget sound and San Francisco. Coming from Vancouver yesterday were J. I. Sutherland, J. J. Kinney, J. W. Shaw, J. Ickuhart and Captain Shaw.

Coal Oil Lamp Cause Of Deaths of Three

Explosion Traps Woman and Two Young Boys While Parents Were Attending Dance at Nearby Town.

Santa Rosa, Cal., Nov. 22.—(U. P.)—Two children, 2 and 1 years old, the sons of Clyde Lebaron, wealthy dairyman, and a Mrs. Nash of Saxon, Idaho, 65 years old, who was caring for them, were burned to death during the night at Valley Ford, 18 miles west of here, when the Lebaron homestead was partially destroyed by fire.

Lebaron, his wife, Mrs. Hurlay, who is Mrs. Nash's daughter, and Mrs. Albert McGowan, who had been staying at the Lebaron home, went to a dance and charivari which welcomed home Walter Moody, the Valley Ford station agent, and his bride. Mrs. Nash put the children to bed. At midnight a coal oil lamp standing near her bed exploded and set the bed clothing afire. Mrs. Nash seized the younger child and attempted to flee down the staircase, but the fire spread too rapidly and she fell exhausted at the head of the stairs. She and the child were both burned to death. The elder child was burned to death in bed.
