PROMISED LINE FORESEEN

Attention to Pacific Trade-Fuglesang to Return.

Representative of the Norway-Pa cific line, Thorles S. Fuglesang, was in Portland momentarily this morning and will be back here to conduct nego- 6:11 tiations towards the establishment of that service to this coast.

The Norway-Pacific line is the name chosen by the Olson interests for its Pacific coast branch. The Olson interests own and operate a big fleet of steamers and motorphips under the Norwegian fing, several of which are to be placed on a run to this coast, Fritz Olson visited this section over a year ago and at that time stated that such a service would be installed. Lewiston There were delays, however, due to Umatilla war conditions but it seems probable that they will be active in this trade | Salem steamers have been sent to the coast for cargo, bringing coal from Norfolk to the navy yards on this coast. Sufficient cargo to fill each was cured at San Francisco and the vessels came no further north.

With the Johnson line also figuring on service in this direction and various Norwegian firms interesting themselves in this vicinity, it would appear that the Norwegian statement of going after the Pacific trade was, indeed, being fulfilled.
