

Club Activities

The regular monthly meeting of the members of the Drama League of Medford was held Saturday evening at the public library. Stephen Phillips "Public Enemies" was the featured play. The play is a charming romantic tale of love and honor, told in most beautiful phrasing. Mr. Beckwith possesses a pleasing, sympathetic voice, and showed a keen appreciation of the dramatic feeling of the play. His splendid interpretation held the fascinated attention of the audience from the first word to the very last.

Laurelhurst Study Club.—Pink carnations and mauve chrysanthemums afforded a beautiful background for the dainty pink and white luncheon given by the study club members with Mable Holman Parsons and the new members as honor guests at the meeting of the year last week. The tables were arranged in a semi-circle, and the first course was served in the afternoon was spent. At the next meeting, January 8, Mrs. Parsons will discuss "The Lilies," by Henry Arthur Jones.

University Park W. C. T. U.—The University Park W. C. T. U. met at the home of Mrs. D. Powell, 1750 Pine street, last week. Mrs. M. L. T. Hadden gave an interesting talk on civics. A large number of ladies were present.

Llewellyn to Repeat Cantata.—Pupils of Llewellyn school will repeat the charming fairy cantata, "Land of Nod," tomorrow night at the schoolhouse. East Fourteenth and Henry streets. The school orchestra, which made its initial bow to the public at the Friday night performance, will appear with a changed program. Gustav Flechtner, director of the orchestra, accompanied by Miss Ruby Olsen, will give a violin number. All friends of the school are invited to be present.

Seaside Woman's Club.—At the last business meeting of the Seaside Woman's club, the following committees were appointed: Membership, Mrs. Olivia White, Mrs. Edith Smith, Mrs. Clara Wilman; constitution, amendment, Mrs. Yeo Ball, Dr. Lena Hodges, Mrs. Olivia White; relief, Mrs. W. E. Lewis, Miss Virginia Drake, Mrs. Johnson. Much interest is being shown in the membership contest and an increased attendance is already seen. In the contest a new member counts 50 per cent, reinstatement and attendance 25 per cent. The contest will close on Tuesday. All members are urged to attend when possible.

Various methods for selling Red Cross stamps were discussed, and all agreed that his changed program, Gustav Flechtner, director of the orchestra, accompanied by Miss Ruby Olsen, will give a violin number. All friends of the school are invited to be present.

The Journal Woman's Calendar

USEFUL CHRISTMAS GIFTS
These times of high living cost should do one good thing, at least, this holiday season. In the attempt to give truly practical presents we should become better acquainted. Nothing really frivolous, nothing useless should form any part of our giving and it should be our earnest study to learn what is wanted by the recipient. We should remember that we should confine our gifts to the strictly utilitarian, nor to articles without beauty. By no means. In many cases it is beauty which people wish and need. In the ample, the girl having but a slender income and many nice friends who constantly invite her out—how she will appreciate some of the little articles which go so far toward completing good attire. The more one set of dainty collar and cuffs, the beflowered camisole, the pair of gloves, the silk hose, the petticoat of silk, the suit of silken underwear, the ornament for the hair, the ribbon girde or one of beads to don with her new blouse, the "to-and-fro" cap—in short, any one of the hundred accessories which are not actual dress, but are so important a part of dress and which are sufficient to perfect the admittance of selection for Christmas giving. A very fine line is there between what one may and may not give. Possibility it is a sentimental line, but the line is there and care should be used in decyphering it. For example, while it is all right to give such articles of attire as I have named, here are those which would never do to send, and never, oh, never would the person of delicate feeling think of sending the money for the purchase of such gifts. And yet, and yet—behold the gift certificate! The glove order, the merchandise order; these are admissible, but even so there is still the hair line as to who shall be the recipients of such gifts. You would not give the "order" to the girl to whom you might send the dainty personal articles named. Nor would such an offer offend Aunt Margaret or Sister Ruth nor anyone of several feminine friends. So, after all, it comes down to a nice discrimination as to what to send to whom. Therein lies all the charm of Christmas giving.

LAMB, OX, BEEF BROTH
Three pounds of meat, cooked in plenty of water before it is to be used. After standing overnight remove fat from top, heat again. Strain and cook about a tablespoon of rice in it until well done. Salt and a little pepper.

CELERY AND CABBAGE SALAD
Toss together lightly 1 cup of broken pecan meats, 1 cup of chopped white cabbage, 1 cup of

AGAIN WE SAY
Kryptokids given in our shop are neither more nor less perfectly ground than those made in any other way. It would be silly on our part to sell you our product to you to your intelligence, to make claim to superiority of our product. The superiority of our product is shown in our method of sanitation.

AGAIN WE SAY
Kryptokids given in our shop are neither more nor less perfectly ground than those made in any other way. It would be silly on our part to sell you our product to you to your intelligence, to make claim to superiority of our product. The superiority of our product is shown in our method of sanitation.

AGAIN WE SAY
Kryptokids given in our shop are neither more nor less perfectly ground than those made in any other way. It would be silly on our part to sell you our product to you to your intelligence, to make claim to superiority of our product. The superiority of our product is shown in our method of sanitation.

AGAIN WE SAY
Kryptokids given in our shop are neither more nor less perfectly ground than those made in any other way. It would be silly on our part to sell you our product to you to your intelligence, to make claim to superiority of our product. The superiority of our product is shown in our method of sanitation.

AGAIN WE SAY
Kryptokids given in our shop are neither more nor less perfectly ground than those made in any other way. It would be silly on our part to sell you our product to you to your intelligence, to make claim to superiority of our product. The superiority of our product is shown in our method of sanitation.

AGAIN WE SAY
Kryptokids given in our shop are neither more nor less perfectly ground than those made in any other way. It would be silly on our part to sell you our product to you to your intelligence, to make claim to superiority of our product. The superiority of our product is shown in our method of sanitation.

Plan to Lift Interstate Span Today

All Is Now in Readiness for Test of Columbia River Bridge Draw; Last Span Ready for Place.

"Attempt will be made to operate the draw span of the interstate bridge during the day," announced Resident Engineer Cortelyou this morning. "The counter-weights of concrete have sufficiently hardened and nearly all the preliminary work has been done. We expect the test to be successful. The latter part of this week we hope to float into place the last span of the bridge. The span has been complete for some time, but we have been keeping its place open for the passage of steamers pending the operation of the lift span."

The draw span is operated by counter-weights suspended from steel towers. The span, when lifted, gives a clearance of about 260 feet above the water.

A formal opening of the bridge, February 10, in a ceremonial dedication next June were spoken of as possibilities by Rufus C. Holman, chairman of the interstate bridge commission. Mr. Holman has received a letter from Harrington & Howard, the bridge engineers, confirming the statement in The Journal several days ago that the bridge completion has been delayed, largely because of the weather, and that the date of the formal opening must be delayed.

At the ceremonial opening, which may be pushed in connection with the Rose Festival, auto organization representatives and Pacific Highway association delegates from British Columbia, Washington, Oregon and California, are expected to attend the completion of the connecting link that provides an unbroken road from Canada to Mexico.

The Indian club will hold a bazaar Wednesday of this week between 8:30 and 10 o'clock in Graves' music store, located on Third street. The Indian club is an organization of women which was formed last February for charitable purposes. Mrs. Harriet

Friend, who has a comedy that sparkles in every line and situation, Zinnierman comes onto the stage with a most miraculous whistling ability stowed away behind his lips and puts her to the test of imitations that make a huge hit.

Bingham and Gable present a pretty musical novelty with a feature in double act playing by Mr. Bingham, who can well be classified as remarkable.

In brilliant old world costume and charming setting, the Blackstones Quartet offers a repertoire of operatic, classical and popular selections that prove a winner with the audience.

The big photodrama feature is "Mixed Blood," a story of love and adventure on the Mexican border.

Another Winning Bill.—Colorful music and excellent comedy at the Orpheum this week is furnished by favorites that seem even to grow more popular. The highest point in the bill is, of course, when Nellie V. Nichols revives the old story of her Irish-Yiddish pedigree. "Will Somebody Name My Nationality?" What is winning in dear Nellie is an over-bubbling personality full of sincerity. Her new contribution to vaudeville is "The Volunteers," in which Billy Cripps selects a quartet from the audience, orchestra and stage. The singing is wonderful. Some of the audience again for about the seventh time. Devotees of vaudeville know Jimmie Barry better as "the Ruben" than by his real name, and his appearance on the actress, Mrs. Barry, is history. Phil White, in the role of Milton Mutterzoh, is a scream. Rena Parker, comedienne, has personality in the making and really makes somewhat of a hit. The St. Clair girls, said to be refugees from Belgium, are versatile in music, vocal and instrumental, while King's mules are versatile in circus stunts.

Oliver Twist Remarkable Film.—If Dickens were able to see his "Oliver Twist" portrayed on a screen from cover to cover at the Peoples this week, he would, no doubt, be amazed as were a succession of admiring audiences yesterday at the remarkable representation. Marie Doro takes the title role, and an appealing little Oliver she is. Hobbes, the miser, is vividly villainous as Bill Sykes. Tully Marshall essays the part of Fagin and comes high excellent. Nat Goodwin's assumption of the character, Nancy, is wonderful. Some of the audience yesterday, who is none other than the sympathy of the readers, and who is so cruelly murdered, is excellently played by Elsie Jane Wilson. The Artful Dodger, Monks and the pompadour are assumed by Raymond Hatton, Carl Stockdale and Harry Ratbenbury, respectively. W. S. Van Dyke is seen as Charles Dickens himself in an introduction. Paramount Photoplaying presents a little from front, showing French warfare and active battles, feature the first of Donald Thompson's movies of the front.

Sothorn in Great Play.—It takes E. H. Sothorn, of the old historic school, to make something real and interesting out of a romantic drama. "An Enemy of the King," at the Majestic, deals with the romance of a romantic and a romanticist. E. H. Sothorn is the romantic, a knight of yore, who in the role of Ernaunt de Launay, which he created on the legitimate stage years ago, takes the part of the Robin Hood of the mistreated Huguenots in the reign of Henry III, when Henry of Navarre

Argument that it is clothes that breed immodesity and not the human figure has been long existent, but it was left to Audrey Munson to actually prove it. The great model in the film play "Purity" at the Star shows conclusively as could be desired by the most exacting that the ideal human figure carries with it no suggestion.

This is shown in a charming little play, which depicts the beautiful sweetheart of an impecunious young poet becoming artist's model to enable the publication of the poet's epic on "Purity" which she excels in the inspiration. The artist who paints the sweetheart's undraped figure also names his poet "Purity."

When the poet learns that his sweetheart has been the artist's model, he discards her until the artist tells him that his model's sacrifice was to enable her to publish a book of poems. In contrition he goes to his sweetheart again. The film story is prefaced by a number of reproductions by Miss Munson of world-famous statuary which she posed for the originals.

Bill of Exceptional Merit.—The man who buys a ticket to the Strand Theatre for the night will be opened Sunday afternoon, is playing a sure thing in the way of wholesome amusement, for there are four vaudeville acts, every one of which is of unusual excellence—a Redfeather photodrama with as fine a dash of adventure as the heart could wish.

Masterful acting saves "The Price" from being all "problem" and no "drama." The play is a woman's

What Society Is Doing

The women of the Portland Fruit and Flower mission are busy preparing for each child, and next Saturday at the day nursery. There will be a tree for the children of the nursery, with pretty gifts and sweets for each child, and a turkey dinner will be served at 6 o'clock to the mothers when they come to call for their children.

Miss Mary Frances Isom left Thursday for Cleveland, Ohio, where she will pass Christmas with relatives. She will go from there to Chicago to attend the midwinter meeting of the American Library association and will return home early in January.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Damon have sent out announcements of the marriage of their daughter, Miss Nellie Damon, to Donald Bostwick Stuart, at 14 Fort McVowell, Cal. Mr. and Mrs. Stuart will be at home in Portland after January 1 at 84 King street.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Harbaugh entertained informally last evening at 227 East Sixteenth street, for a number of friends at a supper party in celebration of their first wedding anniversary.

The Indian club will hold a bazaar Wednesday of this week between 8:30 and 10 o'clock in Graves' music store, located on Third street. The Indian club is an organization of women which was formed last February for charitable purposes. Mrs. Harriet

Friend, who has a comedy that sparkles in every line and situation, Zinnierman comes onto the stage with a most miraculous whistling ability stowed away behind his lips and puts her to the test of imitations that make a huge hit.

Bingham and Gable present a pretty musical novelty with a feature in double act playing by Mr. Bingham, who can well be classified as remarkable.

In brilliant old world costume and charming setting, the Blackstones Quartet offers a repertoire of operatic, classical and popular selections that prove a winner with the audience.

The big photodrama feature is "Mixed Blood," a story of love and adventure on the Mexican border.

Another Winning Bill.—Colorful music and excellent comedy at the Orpheum this week is furnished by favorites that seem even to grow more popular. The highest point in the bill is, of course, when Nellie V. Nichols revives the old story of her Irish-Yiddish pedigree. "Will Somebody Name My Nationality?" What is winning in dear Nellie is an over-bubbling personality full of sincerity. Her new contribution to vaudeville is "The Volunteers," in which Billy Cripps selects a quartet from the audience, orchestra and stage. The singing is wonderful. Some of the audience again for about the seventh time. Devotees of vaudeville know Jimmie Barry better as "the Ruben" than by his real name, and his appearance on the actress, Mrs. Barry, is history. Phil White, in the role of Milton Mutterzoh, is a scream. Rena Parker, comedienne, has personality in the making and really makes somewhat of a hit. The St. Clair girls, said to be refugees from Belgium, are versatile in music, vocal and instrumental, while King's mules are versatile in circus stunts.

Oliver Twist Remarkable Film.—If Dickens were able to see his "Oliver Twist" portrayed on a screen from cover to cover at the Peoples this week, he would, no doubt, be amazed as were a succession of admiring audiences yesterday at the remarkable representation. Marie Doro takes the title role, and an appealing little Oliver she is. Hobbes, the miser, is vividly villainous as Bill Sykes. Tully Marshall essays the part of Fagin and comes high excellent. Nat Goodwin's assumption of the character, Nancy, is wonderful. Some of the audience yesterday, who is none other than the sympathy of the readers, and who is so cruelly murdered, is excellently played by Elsie Jane Wilson. The Artful Dodger, Monks and the pompadour are assumed by Raymond Hatton, Carl Stockdale and Harry Ratbenbury, respectively. W. S. Van Dyke is seen as Charles Dickens himself in an introduction. Paramount Photoplaying presents a little from front, showing French warfare and active battles, feature the first of Donald Thompson's movies of the front.

Sothorn in Great Play.—It takes E. H. Sothorn, of the old historic school, to make something real and interesting out of a romantic drama. "An Enemy of the King," at the Majestic, deals with the romance of a romantic and a romanticist. E. H. Sothorn is the romantic, a knight of yore, who in the role of Ernaunt de Launay, which he created on the legitimate stage years ago, takes the part of the Robin Hood of the mistreated Huguenots in the reign of Henry III, when Henry of Navarre

Argument that it is clothes that breed immodesity and not the human figure has been long existent, but it was left to Audrey Munson to actually prove it. The great model in the film play "Purity" at the Star shows conclusively as could be desired by the most exacting that the ideal human figure carries with it no suggestion.

This is shown in a charming little play, which depicts the beautiful sweetheart of an impecunious young poet becoming artist's model to enable the publication of the poet's epic on "Purity" which she excels in the inspiration. The artist who paints the sweetheart's undraped figure also names his poet "Purity."

When the poet learns that his sweetheart has been the artist's model, he discards her until the artist tells him that his model's sacrifice was to enable her to publish a book of poems. In contrition he goes to his sweetheart again. The film story is prefaced by a number of reproductions by Miss Munson of world-famous statuary which she posed for the originals.

Bill of Exceptional Merit.—The man who buys a ticket to the Strand Theatre for the night will be opened Sunday afternoon, is playing a sure thing in the way of wholesome amusement, for there are four vaudeville acts, every one of which is of unusual excellence—a Redfeather photodrama with as fine a dash of adventure as the heart could wish.

Masterful acting saves "The Price" from being all "problem" and no "drama." The play is a woman's

Bill of Exceptional Merit.—The man who buys a ticket to the Strand Theatre for the night will be opened Sunday afternoon, is playing a sure thing in the way of wholesome amusement, for there are four vaudeville acts, every one of which is of unusual excellence—a Redfeather photodrama with as fine a dash of adventure as the heart could wish.

Masterful acting saves "The Price" from being all "problem" and no "drama." The play is a woman's equally wonderful. Mable Spencer & Co. put it over on father in a rollicking comedy that spells "Fep." Dresser & Wilson, and Wilson's came, dance exquisitely Gypsy Meredith & Co. have an act which combines athletic accomplishments with farce comedy that orders a good hand.

Singing and Yodeling offering of Willson & Sherwood is refined and artistic. The men are past masters of musical fame. The revolving hoop act of Emil Wille & Co. is a spectacular and dangerous balancing achievement.

Stock Show Charter Filed.—Charter for the southwestern exposition to be located at Fort Worth was filed Saturday with the secretary of state at Austin. Prominent stockmen are stockholders in the institution, which will replace the Fort Worth livestock show.

Adam Hyntz Arrested.—Salem, Or., Dec. 18.—Adam Hyntz of North Howell Prairie, was arrested Sunday by Sheriff Esch on a statutory charge against his 13-year-old daughter Virginia. Both are held in jail awaiting preliminary hearing.

That Jar of Musterole on the Bath-Room Shelf Has Relieved Pain for Every One in the Family

When little Susie had the cramp; when Johnny got his feet wet and caught cold; when father sprained his knee; when granny's rheumatism bothered her—that jar of Musterole was right there to give relief and comfort. Musterole is a clean, white ointment made with oil of mustard. It will not blister like a mustard plaster.

Quick relief for sore throat, bronchitis, tonsillitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, headache, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frost-bitten feet, colds on the chest (it often prevents pneumonia).

Auditor Barbara Knows—Webfoot camp, W. O. W. is planning to give an automobile away in its new campaign for membership, and a number of other prizes will be added to induce interest. It will take 200 new members to get that auto, but any member may have it—lucky. Ask A. I. Barbur, city auditor, about it. He knows.

Going to Be Married.—All attempts to persuade George Orson, director of the Loyal Order of Moose, to disclose the names of the bride and bridegroom who will stand up before the assembled Moose and their fair ladies and be married next Wednesday night, have proved a failure. That it will be a positive part of the program is all the assurance he will give even to a reporter who belongs to the Portland L. O. M.

St. Johns M. W. A. Officers.—The officers of St. Johns camp, M. W. A., elected for the ensuing term are as follows: G. W. Mullen, venerable counselor; Fred Haskell, advisor; A. L. Marley, clerk; H. A. Colt, banker; H. L. Campbell, escort; J. H. Heizer, sentinels; A. M. Downing, manager; Dr. W. J. Gustafson, physician.

Mount Tabor Officers.—The following are the newly elected and installed officers of Mount Tabor lodge, Ancient Free and Accepted Masons: Joshua S. Roark, senior warden; Edmund L. Cline, junior warden; Edward Burke, senior deacon; R. L. Eldredge, junior deacon; E. M. Harley, senior

At All Grocers
25c per lb.
Crescent Mfg. Co., Seattle, Wash.

AMUSEMENTS
TICKET SALE OPENS TODAY
HEILIG Broadway at Taylor Main 2 and A 1127
NEXT FRID. EVENINGS, DEC. 21, 22
SPECIAL PRICES
Mat. Sat.—No Performance Saturday Night
BRILLIANT COMEDY STUNTS
"TWIN BEDS"
Splendid Cast and Production.
Evenings, $1.75, 50c, 25c. Mat., 50c.

BAKER THEATRE
Only Exclusive Home of Spoken Drama
THE POPULAR ALCAZAR PLAYERS
Tonight—All Week—Mat. Wed. Mat. George Broadbent's Gripping Drama
THE PRICE
As played by Helen Ware. Beautiful production, splendidly acted.
Evenings—25c, 50c, 75c. Mat. 25c. Wed. Mat. 25c. Sat. Mat. 25c. Christmas Eve—All night, 10c. Mat. of the "Lonesome Line."

Orpheum MAIN 6 A 5555
VAUDEVILLE
AT HEILIG THEATRE
EVERY TODAY
SUN MELLIE V. NICHOLS
MON Five Belguim Girls
TUES MR. & MRS. JIMMY BARRY
WED. Bena Parker. Orpheum Travel
WED. THE VOL. CONCERT ORCHESTRA
WED. OUTRIGERS "LOVE AND LOTS OF IT"

MATINEE DAILY 10-25-50
NIGHTS - 10c - 25c - 50c - 75c
PANTAGES
MATINEE DAILY 2:30
LONDON SINGING BELL BINGERS
A Remarkable Musical Feature
"THE BETTING BETTY"
A big musical comedy with big acts
Boxes and logs reserved by phone
Currents 2, 30, 7 and 9
LYRIC 4th and Stark
Musical Stock
Matinee daily at 2:30. 10c only. Evening start at 7, continuing 10c, 25c, 50c, 75c.
THIS WEEK
The most musical farce
"BURNING FOR CONGRESS"
With musical triumphs, Pretty Girls, outsize stars, night, beautiful TRUITS, Friday night, chorus girls content.

Oregon Journal
Pathe News Weekly
News pictures of northwest and national events will appear each week at leading theatres throughout the northwest.

For Christmas
Ripe, juicy, Sunkist
Oranges. Buy a box to last all week. Serve them every day. Phone your dealer now.

Sunkist
Uniformly Good
Oranges
California Fruit Growers Exchange

269-271 MORRISON STREET
Main 419 Both Phones A-4213