

THREE-YEAR-OLD BOY STOWAWAY ON CITY OF PARA FROM SOUTH

Youngest Adventurer on Record Finds Way to Cabin and by Chance to Sea.

ESCAPES USUAL LABORS

Immigration Inspectors Seek Relative to Turn Youngster Over to Is an Officer on the Ship.

San Francisco, Dec. 21.—(P. N. S.)—The youngest stowaway ever to reach this port arrived today aboard the Pacific Mail steamer City of Para from Acapulco, his home city.

He is Alfonso Orbe, aged 3, and he stowed away in order to come to San Francisco to see his mother, Mrs. Melissa Orbe.

Since she did not know of his coming, however, and was not on hand to meet him, immigration inspectors took the lad to Angel Island pending a search for her.

Since Mrs. Orbe left for this city some time ago, the boy has been discontented and lonesome. When the Para arrived at Acapulco, the boy begged his uncle, Fortena Galena, steward of the steamer, to bring him here. Galena refused, so the lad took matters into his own hands. Tossing down to the wharf, he stepped aboard the steamer unnoticed while all hands were busy, made his way to a stateroom and fell asleep. He was not discovered until the vessel was well out to sea. He was then taken in charge by his uncle, who in view of the stowaway's tender age, suspended the usual sentence of scrubbing decks.

Tug Wheilan Safe. Calumet, Mich., Dec. 21.—(I. N. S.)—The tug Wheilan of Port Arthur, which was believed lost, arrived at the Rat Portage ship yard and reported laying up at Washington Harbor, the Royale, during the blizzard the first of the week. Owing to shortage of fuel, the tug today returned to Port Arthur, making no attempt to break the ice to release the Canadian steamer Arabian which in Portage lake. Eight to 12 feet of slush ice jams the canal and the Arabian probably will be held here all winter.

Wreckers Return. San Francisco, Dec. 21.—The revenue cutter McCulloch and Captain Whitlaw's wrecker Greenwood both returned from the scene of the H-3 wreck this morning, indicating a hitch in the efforts to pull the diver from the beach. Having failed to get the submarine off within two or three days after it went ashore, local wreckers believe that the task will be long and difficult now. Heavy seas land and swells are washing the vessel higher on the beach, it is said. The Greenwood left some wrecking gear at the scene.

HAT WITH REMARKABLE RIM LATEST THING

Here is the last word in hats. It is the dinner date hat, with a wide detachable brim which can be checked while one enjoys the dance in the nifty little hat shown in the picture, and then readjusted into the big picture hat. This is the latest New York fad.

RED CROSS SEALS IN GREAT DEMAND AND GLADLY PAID FOR

Association Headquarters Is Receiving Many Cheering Words and Much Money

LETTERS BRING RETURNS

Rural Schools Are Taking Very Earnest Interest in the Distribution and Sale of the Stamps.

"I enclose, with pleasure, check for $25 in payment for Red Cross Christmas seals which you sent me and trust this will aid the Oregon Association for the Prevention of Tuberculosis in keeping up the good work it is engaged in." Thus runs a letter which arrived yesterday at the association headquarters in the Corbett building and in the game mail came many other encouraging letters and checks.

The sale of the Red Cross Seals is being pushed throughout the state in a vigorous, organized way unknown in past years, with the result that the returns are larger than in past years to date. Thirteen hundred and ninety letters enclosing from one to $25 worth of stamps were sent out in Portland early in the season. Throughout the state 2300 letters with enclosures were sent to well known citizens. In the Portland public schools $1490 worth of stamps were placed and in many of the schools additional orders have been requested. To the rural schools of the state 1400 one dollar packages have been sent. In addition to these mail sales which are much more comprehensive than ever before, the booth sales, which have been in charge of the various women organizations of the city, have been large. The women's clubs and other organizations have responded most heartily, there being more offers for services at the booths than there were days before Christmas.

Following are a few extracts from letters throughout the state which accompanied checks for seals: Wilbur, Oregon. "Enclosed please find one dollar check for the stamps sent me. I hope you will find many willing purchasers and thus enable you to continue your good work."

Mikkalo, Or.—"Your letter containing one dollar's worth of stamps at hand. I take pleasure in sending you five dollars, as encouragement to your worthy work."

McMinnville—"I herewith hand you my check for one dollar for the Red Cross seals. You are doing a splendid work in which I am glad to help a little."

Salem—"Enclosed find check for one dollar for Red Cross seals. I consider this money well spent for a worthy cause."

Ashland—"Herewith my check for one dollar and may the good work continue."

Portland—"Enclosed please find check for $10 for the Red Cross Christmas seals. Wishing you success in your very worthy cause."

Portland—"I am glad to give my small mite to this noble cause and I wish that I were able to do very much more. I have watched with interest the splendid work your association is doing and I wish you God-speed."

Portland—"Enclosed find check for five dollars for stamps. We wish to state that we are very much in accord with the new movement and feel that your time and money expended in this way is of great advantage."

Of the thousands of Red Cross seal purchasers, none are more interesting and more practical in their work than the children of the rural school districts. In each of the 1400 letters enclosing a dollar's worth of seals there was also sent a little language lesson entitled, "Danny's Christmas Seal." Already many responses have been received, among them: "We used the story for language work in all the grades and the children enjoyed it very much."

"Please send us 200 more." "Send us 100 more by return mail." "Will sell another set."

"We will be glad to use the lecture course; thank you very much for giving us an opportunity to help you. I think you are doing a great work; while a teacher I can see so much of this dreadful disease."

"The pupils were very much pleased to help the other little boys and girls."

"Enclosed find check for $1. We have a health club with a health officer who sees that each pupil obeys the laws of the club. I read the stories you sent and they were much enjoyed. Could you send us information concerning what the Tuberculosis association is doing in Oregon. Every child likes to see that he is accomplishing something."

"I want to thank you for sending the Red Cross Seals, which the children in my school are eager to buy. I am much interested in them becoming Modern Health Crusaders and possessors of certificates and pins. My pupils are a wide awake lot and already I have taught them a good deal of healthful living. I will write you later of the success of our shining class, clean nails, teeth, faces, hair combed."

"Enclosed find check for $1. The children bought 90 stamps the first day."

"The children enjoyed the story of 'Danny's Christmas Seal' and I am sure it helped them understand the big word, tuberculosis."

"The school children and I have disposed of the seals. We know it is a

HOW GOOD THAT MUSTEROLE FEELS!

It Gets to That Sore Spot Like Magic

A-a-h! That's a delicious relief for those sore muscles, those stiff joints, that lame back.

Musterole is a clean, white ointment, made with the oil of mustard and other home simples.

It does the work of the old-fashioned mustard plaster, minus the plaster and minus the blister.

You simply rub Musterole on the spot where the pain is—rub it on briskly—and usually the pain is gone.

No muss, no bother. Just comforting soothing relief—first a gentle glow, then a delightful sense of coolness. And best of all, no blisters like the old-fashioned mustard plaster used to make.

Use Musterole for sore throat, bronchitis, tonsillitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, headache, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frosted feet and colds of the chest (it often prevents pneumonia).

LIKE ELECTRIC BUTTON ON TOES

Tells why a corn is so painful and says cutting makes them grow.

Press an electric button and you form a contact with a live wire which rings the bell. When your shoes press against your corn it pushes its sharp roots down upon a sensitive nerve and you get a shock of pain.

Instead of trimming your corns, which merely makes them grow, just step into any drug store and ask for a quarter of an ounce of freezone. This will cost very little but is sufficient to remove every hard or soft corn or callus from one's feet. A few drops applied directly upon the tender, aching corn stops the soreness instantly, and soon the corn shrivels up so it lifts right out, root and all, without pain. This drug is harmless and never inflames or even irritates the surrounding tissue or skin.
