

DENVER VERY PEEVISH THAT SHE DIDN'T GET HER FARM LOAN BANK

Lusty Protest Is Made at the Opening of Congress and Support of Wilson Is Cited.

BLAME PUT ON LOBDELL

Kansas Member of Farm Loan Board Said to Have Swung Lock- tion to Wichita.

Washington, Jan. 11.—(WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE JOURNAL.)—Denver has let forth the most lusty protest of any of the cities that were disappointed in failing to secure farm loan banks.

Denver, it seems, feels especially hurt because the bank for its district goes to Wichita, the district including the states of Kansas, Oklahoma, Colorado and New Mexico.

Senator Shafroth introduced a bill to create a new district of Colorado, Utah, Wyoming and New Mexico.

Names were mentioned on the floor of the senate, but critics of Wichita are inclined to attribute the selection of that town to Charles E. Lobdell, the Kansas member of the farm loan board.

Senator Shafroth made as one point of his criticism that there is no farm loan bank for a stretch of 1400 miles from Wichita to Berkeley.

Herick loses fight. Washington, Jan. 11.—By the dismissal in the District of Columbia supreme court of Samuel Herick's suit for fees against settlers of Sherman county, Or.

Herick sought the injunction route to prevent the treasury department from mailing out warrants in payment of approved claims until he was paid his 20 per cent.

Herick collects fees it will have to be by individual suit against the settlers where they live, and he will have to convince the juries in those communities that he earned the fees he is attempting to collect.

Representative Sinnott's position has been that Herick rendered no service worthy of reward in connection with the bill, and for this reason he had the measure amended to provide that no attorney claiming a fee for such services should receive more than 5 per cent of the sum allowed to the claimant.
