FORM GOSPEL TEAMS TO HOLD MEETINGS IN EVERY CITY CHURCH

Will Be Strictly Evangelistic # in Character and Conducted by the Young People. *

C. D. Chilson.

The Portland District Epworth league will open its third series of evangelistic meetings in the Clinton Kelly Methodist church Monday evening. January 15. The district officers have formed gospel teams and are planning to hold meetings in every church in the city to which they are invited. So far they have invitations from Clinton Kelly, Woodstock, Woodlawn and Lincoln Methodist churches. Meetings already have been held in the Centenary and Sunnyside churches.

These meetings are strictly evangelistic in character and are conducted by the leaders of the young people, the main purpose being to bring the young people of the Methodist churches of Portland into a closer relation with the

The cabinet plans to start a new series every other week. In this way it hopes to cultivate the territory surrounding each church in the city The meetings already held have netted such good results for the district that the leaders are optimistic as to the outcome of the remainder of the

"It's All in the Day's Work," to Be Theme

For his evening discussion in the First Congregational church, Dr. Luther R. Dyott will take President Henry Churchill King's book, "It's All in the Day's Work." All who know President King and the character of his writings, as also the many people who are interested in such a practical theme as this writer has discussed, will find the services in this church more helpful than ever next Sunday evening. The morning theme will be equally practical-"The Secret of a ecessful Life." The main fact of the sermon will be to show that the popular conception of success is incorrect and altogether too limited and we may so adjust our lives that our success will be one of the most certain

City Missionary on "The Resurrection"

Rev. Thomas Stephenson, who recently came to Portland to act as Bap- sights, sounds and smells coming riottist city missionary, will occupy the ously down the five highways of pulpit of the First Baptist church Sun- sense, day morning and evening. In the rection, or the Final Consummation of in contemplation of the savior, of his upon the subject, "Gratitude, or the Secret and Power of Life."

The music, which will be rendered by the Temple quartet, will be "I Am mind and feelings for a shorter or Alpha and Omega," by Steiner, and as longer time on spiritual realities do the morning offertory, "Prepare Ye the Way," by Garrett. In the evening the anthem "Now the Day Is Over." by Shelly, and "Day Is Dying," by Salter,

Church House Open For Young People

Room E of the First Presbyterian Church house, 454 Alder street, is enjoyment of young people who desire so that all young people who desirs may remain for Christian Endeavor and evening service without the necessity of going out somewhere for lunch.

Salvation Song Service.

A service of song will be given to-Army corps No. 1, entitled "Little Al-ice, or From Match Girl to Captain." It will begin at 8 o'clock in the hall

State Biologist Scout Executive To Talk to Boys

Finley and his motion pictures of wild animal and outdoor life and James S. Brockway, scout executive of the Boy Scouts for the Portland district, speaking on "Scouting," have been secured by the Men's club of Central Presbyterian church for their "boys' and men's night" next Tuesday evening at 7:30. The c'ub abandoned its month-ly dinner in order to devote its energies to making the evening's entertainment a most pleasing one for the boys. Refreshments will be served following the program, All east side boys are extended an in-vitation to see Mr. Finley's pictures and hear Mr. Brockway's *
interesting talk on the Boy *
Scout movement. *

First Congregational Is Growing Steadily

New accessions in the First Congregational church and bible school indicate the growth and interest in this church's work. All the church organizations are actively at work, assisting local charities where possible and holding regular monthly meetings in the church parlors or in the homes of members. During the week the Brothnese Girls' club were among those who

Mr. Reece came to Portland from Los Angeles upon an invitation extended to him by the directorate of the New Church society. Following is an outline of his first as pastor of the church:

"The Lord is a matter of conscious fless. He becomes present only as we become intellectually and spiritually aware of him. He cannot be found among the multitude - the ordinary thoughts of everyday sense life, thoughts making that plane of cansciousness with which our daily newspapers deal. To find him we have to draw apart, to follow him, to go to the mountain top. These are but terms to describe the kind or state of consciousness in which he makes himself

Series of German Lectures to Close With New Subject

Rev. George Edw. Lewis, spastor of Highland Congrega-tional charch, will close his series of sermon-lectures from the interesting subject "Is the World Getting Better?" on Sunday evening.

After the lecture has been given, five judges chosen out-side of the church membership will meet and weigh the subject matter as presented by the minister and then decide whether the old world is going for-ward or backward religiously. Much interest has been manifested in the entire community regarding these Sunday night addresses, as they have been filled with historical and statistical data and presented in a clear and forceful manner.

GREAT MISSIONARY DRIVE IS PLANNED BY LOCAL C. E. UNION

Starts Last of Month and Is in Line With Young People's Church Work.

In line with the forward movement of young people's church work in Portland the Multnomah County Christian Endeavor union is planning a big missionary drive, which is to start the latter part of the month and continue for at least three months. Miss Ellennor Ewing, superintendent of this department, has taken up the work with im, and it is her desire to organize a mission study class in every society in the union, either a separate class or in conjunction with the regular sunay evening prayer meeting. The union officers have received much material from Chicago, where most successful camapign along hese lines was recently conducted. The hicago officers very willingly told of their drive in detail and the Multno-man county cabinet hopes to profit by Chicago's experience. The central officers of the Christian Endeavor work are gratified over the announcement of the contemplated drive and have offered to assist in every way

A normal study class, for the training of leaders and teachers, will begin January 30. There will be only one normal study class in the county and inyone desiring to prepare for teaching a local study class is invited to attend the central normal study class. The meeting place for this class will e announced later.

The normal class study will end February 16, at which time it is lanned to start the regular mission study classes in the various societies throughout the county. If the local society has no leader for the class, one will be furnished from the normal on these classes. They will continue as long as the individual society de-A list of good missionary textbooks has been compiled by the missionary department, which the classes will be privileged to choose from,

The mission subject has proven itself an interesting topic in the church and endeavor world and the cabinet members are quite sure the young people not familiar with the study will find it equally as enjoyable. Some of the local churches have already conducted these classes and have found them both interesting and education-
