

DAVE FULTZ ISSUES ARTICLE OUTLINING FRATERNITY'S TERMS

Full Explanation of Demands Made of National Board Are Given in Statement.

MAJOR LEAGUES TO SUFFER

Baseball Players Entitled to More or Less Consideration, Declares Head of Diamond Stars.

By H. C. Hamilton. New York, Jan. 20.—(U. P.)—Any doubt as to whether Dave Fultz, president of the Baseball Players' fraternity, intends to carry to the bitter end his fight against the governing board of the major leagues was removed today when Fultz issued a statement outlining in terms of unquestionable directness the stand of the fraternity as he represents it.

In making the statement Fultz gave a full explanation of the reasons for his stand and asked the public to give him and the fraternity full consideration before passing judgment.

Fultz began at the start of the troubles between managers and players, tracing the threatened strike from the very first, giving explanations of every point.

Majors Are Favored.

Fultz stated that the controversy arose over a petition to the national commission and the national board. The petition, he explains, was granted by the commission in so far as it applied to the major leagues.

He points out that the national board never has gone to the trouble to inform him whether or not it has favorably, or otherwise acted upon the petition, but admits that the press has kept him informed to the extent that he knows the board has not granted the requests.

Mr. Johnson, secretary of the national board, had handled the situation very ably, but it is possible the reader may differ with him.

Requests Are Explained.

Fultz explains the requests: "First—That clauses in baseball contracts empowering clubs to suspend without pay, after certain periods of disability, players who are injured, be eliminated, and that such players be entitled to full pay as long as they are held under contract.

"Second—That rules of the rules and regulations of the national board be amended insofar as it violates section marked 'first' of the fraternity agreement.

"Third—That minor league players receive their traveling expenses from their homes when returning for spring practice.

"Fourth—That the procedure now employed by the national board in hearing players' claims presented by the fraternity shall be retained, and that the franchise interest of the clubs and an opportunity be given it in answering such defenses, that immediately upon defenses being presented, the fraternity shall be served with a copy thereof and the players' exhibits, if any, presented by the fraternity, returned to it if requested; that the club shall enforce its award against the club."

Fultz declares that a baseball player, besides being a human being, is entitled to more or less consideration as an athlete.

National Board Holds Back.

The commission has once agreed to the requests, he says, and he doesn't know why the national board doesn't consider it just as important.

In regard to the lease clause, which now virtually permits a player to be released while a game is in progress, he says:

"Players have been released while sitting on the bench in uniform before a game and received no pay for that day. This did not seem fair to us, as we felt a player should have reasonable opportunity to look for another position before being without salary. We procured a rule entitling him to five days' notice. This is section one of the fraternity agreement and reads as follows:

Does Not Deny Violations.

"First—When a major league player receives a 10 days' notice of unconditional release, or when a class AA or class A player receives a five days' notice, he shall be free to sign with any team immediately."

"The national board, at its meeting in San Francisco, in 1915, enacted a clause as in direct violation of the above mentioned clause as follows:

"The unconditional release of any player in class AA or class A may be recalled at any time within five days after notice has been given. It can be recalled at any time during the five days' period no other club can sign a released player because all other clubs know that his release may be recalled."

Farrell in his published justification of this clause, does not even attempt to deny that it is a violation of our agreement."

Ball Game Gambling Is Strictly Taboo

Toledo, Ohio, Jan. 20.—(U. P.)—After passing amendments prohibiting gambling of any kind on ball grounds where Federation games are being played and requiring all clubs to post a $100 forfeit before entering the inter-sectional series, the National Baseball Federation closed its annual session here today. The next meeting of the body will be in Detroit on April 29.

PORTLAND GUN CLUB WILL SPEND $1600 IN PARK IMPROVEMENT

Contracts Are Announced by Acting President Pollock; Work to Start Immediately.

STANDS MADE OF CEMENT

Promenade of Crushed Gravel Lined With Flower Beds Will Add to Beauty—Water Plant Planned.

Sixteen hundred dollars additional will be expended in improving and beautifying the Everding Park grounds of the Portland gun club at Jones station. Acting President H. A. Pollock yesterday announced that contracts were let calling for the expenditure of $1600 in carrying out the details of improvements planned by the directors.

The work will be started as soon as weather conditions permit and when completed will include the Everding Park traps second to none in the United States. The club grounds are now recognized among the best in the country, having been greatly improved last year.

Have Cement Shooting Stands.

Cement shooting stands will be installed at each of the four traps and they will be connected with each other by cement walks. A wide cement walk will lead from the clubhouse to trap No. 3, which is situated directly in front of the building. Crushed gravel will be placed between the shooting stands and a promenade six feet wide will be put in between the clubhouse and the shooting stands. The promenade will be crushed gravel and will extend from one end of the grounds to the other. Permanent benches for the squads will also be erected.

The concrete traps, the finest in the country, will be improved with a little and concrete tops will be put on them. The ground in front of the shooting stands will be leveled and graded, and the water plant will be placed between each shooting stand, which will make the grounds as pretty as some of the most exclusive clubs in the country.

Will Construct Water Plant.

Five hundred dollars is being spent in the construction of a well. The wooded section in back of the clubhouse, through which the water runs, will be converted into a picnic grounds.

The officers of the club are putting forth every effort to have this work completed before the big northwest tournament, scheduled to be staged during the Rose Festival.

Another feature of the improvement work will be the construction of an auto road behind the clubhouse, which will allow the parking of automobiles on the west side of the clubhouse.

Exercises on Mat Which Will Produce Best Kind of Flesh Systematic Work Needed to Produce Healthy Development

These photographs, posed by Earl Crowe of the Multnomah club, are designed to show a set of exercises which may be performed at home or in a gymnasium.

This is the thirteenth of a series of articles on physical education, by Dr. Leslie Cough, physical director of the Multnomah club.

By Dr. Leslie Cough.

The state should have no higher concern than the health of its people. In fact, nothing can be of more importance to the multitude of individuals, who taken collectively make the state and nation. This fact, applied to every angle of our national life, is true from an economic standpoint because the individuals who possess health are more efficient workers than those who are unhealthy. Consequently, the law of averages requires that taxation be imposed on the fit to care for the unfit.

To better the physical health of the units who compose the nation means to increase the mental and physical efficiency of the nation as a whole. To accomplish this purpose, interest must be aroused on the part of every individual. Your body is your most precious possession. You are more vitally interested in your own condition than anyone else, whether you realize the fact or not. If you do not know how to get your body into good condition you should learn how. The fact that by so doing you will in all probability add years to your life, save money, increase your efficiency, and transmit health and vitality to your children should be sufficient inducements to you to get busy.

All Are Important Factors. Exercise, diet, care of the teeth, skin, feet, etc., all are important factors in the acquisition and retention of health. The time to establish systematic bodily training is in childhood. Any stress that you may lay on physical education to your children will be greatly augmented if that child knows through observation that you are caring for your own body. Many of our schools refuse to recognize the importance of bodily training as synonymous with that of the mind. This is worse than foolish, it is criminal. The child should be encouraged in all possible ways to develop body and mind together. Every infant should receive a thorough physical examination at birth. From then until he reaches maturity, he should be examined at least twice yearly and a chart kept accurately of his condition. Any physician will tell you that there are many cases of physically defective children that are practically hopeless as regards a complete correction of the defects. These physical claims will also tell you that had any course of examination similar to the one above mentioned been followed, that a large number of the cases referred to would have been found readily amenable to simple corrective measures.

Should Be In Every School.

Scientific physical education should form a part of the curriculum of every school in the United States. To those who are disposed to flout the question of expense and oppose such measures on the grounds of economy of school operation, I would say that the cost of maintaining the physically and mentally unfit, alone, in the United States each year, and the economic waste occasioned by the unnecessary loss of lives traceable in many cases to the

H. R. EVERDING TO DEFEND BRISTOL TROPHY SUNDAY

Strowger Hurls Defi at Holder of 20-Gauge Cup; Kelley May Also Challenge.

Henry R. Everding, holder of the W. C. Bristol 20 gauge gun trophy, has accepted the defi hurled broadside by Allan Strowger, President of the Portland Gun Club. The match, the second of the season, will be staged a week from today on the Everding Park traps.

C. C. Kelley, who has been appointed consulting engineer of the Portland Gun Club, will be among those to enter the competition for the trophy if Strowger is unsuccessful in his attempt to win the trophy Kelley will challenge Everding.

This trophy must be defended five times by a shooter. Everding succeeded in defending the cup a week ago when he smashed 20 of the 25 targets thrown for him.

Leading with a total of 1391 pins for the three games, Chevrolet and Thomson are second with 1261 and Jones and O'Malley third with 1263.

Tuesday night the officers of the City league will hold a meeting at the Oregon alley. The fourth only two games short. The Oregon league has lost two games to the Journal Compositors.

George Johnson, leader of the Madison Printers, has a good night, shooting an average of 183.

The City league fair lightened up last week, when the three leaders lost two games.

Individual average Printers' Duck Pin league: Watkins 42, 43, 44, 45, 46, 47, 48, 49, 50, 51, 52, 53, 54, 55, 56, 57, 58, 59, 60, 61, 62, 63, 64, 65, 66, 67, 68, 69, 70, 71, 72, 73, 74, 75, 76, 77, 78, 79, 80, 81, 82, 83, 84, 85, 86, 87, 88, 89, 90, 91, 92, 93, 94, 95, 96, 97, 98, 99, 100.

The Brotherhood of American Yeomen furnished the feature work of the league, breaking the record with 2800 and 2805, yet they lost two games to Estes Grill.

The Modern Printers' C. Co. increased their lead in the Printers' league by taking two games from the former getting three 200 scores for the two games to the Journal Compositors.

Only one game was played in the O. W. R. N. G. league, the Disbursements team taking three from the former getting three 200 scores for a total of 600, and the latter shooting 535.

Roblin is proving a bit odd to the Oregon Alley five. He is shooting a consistent 191 average.

The Oregon Pressmen were without the services of Captain Thomson, but nevertheless they won two games from their rivals, the Journal Pressmen.

OREGON AGGIES ADD PAIR OF VETERANS TO THEIR GRAPPLE TEAM

Bolin and Allworth, With Three Years of Experience, Boost College Chances.

TRYOUT AT INTER-CLASS

First Conference Meet Will Be With Oregon at Corvallis February 16, and W. S. C. and Montana Later.

Oregon Agricultural College, Corvallis, Or., Jan. 20.—The addition of two veteran varsity wrestlers to the mat squad of O. A. C. in the last week has boosted local hopes for a northwest championship. Bolin, ex-captain and twice northwest champion, and Allworth, a light heavy with three years' experience, are the new acquisitions.

With Hawkins, another letter man this gives the wrestling team three unusually good grapplers. Under the new rules, there are only five weight classes, so that the majority of the places on the team will be cared for by veterans.

Bolin Is a Featherweight.

Bolin wrestles at 125 pounds and is one of the best men O. A. C. has ever had. He made the team in his freshman year and has won his letter three times. This will be his fourth season on the mat. An injury kept him from showing his best work in one season, but in the other two years he was easily the best at his weight in the northwest. Bolin is fresh from a lumber camp and is in fine shape to begin training.

Allworth Has Won on the Squad Three Years and Has Won His Letter Twice.

He has wrestled at 158 pounds and as a light heavy. He seems well adapted to the new weight of 165 pounds, and is expected to fill the position adequately.

Pretty Sure of Places.

These three men are fairly sure of their positions although Patton, 118 and Norton at 165 may give the veterans some competition in the tryouts. In the 115 and 135 pound classes there is opportunity for new and undeveloped material to show class. So far, Reardon and Strome are showing up best at the lighter weight position, although Patton, 118 and Norton at 165 may give the veterans some competition in the tryouts. The inter-class tournament, which will be held between semesters, will be held in eight divisions. A meet with the Salem high school wrestling team of which sport, ex-O. A. C. captain, is coach, may be arranged as another pre-season event.

The first conference meet of the year will be with Oregon university at Corvallis on February 16. Washington State college and the University of Montana will also be met during the season.

PORTLAND ROSEBUDS WILL HAVE CHANCE TO BLOOM NEXT FRIDAY

Locals Meet Spokane Team After Week's Rest in Torrid Hockey Race.

TEAMWORK IS NEEDED

Septet Has Not Been Passing Buck as It Should, but Players May Show Differently in the Next Game.

The Portland Buds may appear in full bloom this week. Next Friday night they are billed to tangle with Spokane in the local arena. With the advantage of having a week's rest, while the Canaries have two games with the Vancouver Millionaires, Captain Tobin and his collection of stick handlers ought to show a dash of the speed that they displayed three weeks ago.

Portland has lost four games in a row and it is just about time that they were sprucing up and showing a little class. A week ago last Tuesday Vancouver trimmed Portland 5 to 4 and three days later they fell before the Spokane team. Last week, they suffered two one-sided defeats at the hands of Pete Muldoon's Seattle aggregation, which is out in front in the race for the championship.

Team Work Is Poor.

The Buds have not been showing any great amount of team work. Their passing has not been up to the usual order. The various players allowed themselves to be swayed by their opponents' defense in the last game played before the local fans, and the defense seemed to crack before the rushing of the other players.

During last year's championship race, Eddie Oatman directed the playing of the team, and under his guidance the septet showed up in wonderful form. There is no doubt that Oatman's loss put a hole in the Buds' lineup that would be hard to fill, but there is no reason why the present lineup should not display better playing form.

It was the opinion of a number of fans that the passing of the late Del Irvine, who was the Buds' most reliable player for the local team, had been a serious blow. Loughlin is a better stick handler on the offensive than Irvine but in view of the Buds' slump he has not had an opportunity to show his stuff. The other games billed for the Coast League this week are: Spokane vs. Vancouver, at Spokane, Tuesday night; Vancouver vs. Seattle, at Vancouver, Saturday night.

"WOWS" TO PLAY FIREMEN QUINT OF M'MINNVILLE

Important Contest Scheduled for Friday Night at Y. M. C. A. Floor.

Next Friday night on the Y. M. C. A. floor, the famous McMinville firemen's basketball team, quiet, two winners of the independent championship of the state, will meet the George Washington Camp of the Woodmen of the World team, which has made a remarkable showing during the present season.

The only defeat the "Wows" have suffered since Manager Abe Brown lined up his present squad of tonners was at the hands of the crack Silverton aggregation. The record of the team has been during its most recent game is as follows: Wows 24, Est. Side 12; Wows 28, Company C. O. N. Eddie Campi in Town. Eddie Campi, the crack bantamweight boxer of San Francisco, has been matched to box a six round contest with Billy Mascott, former northwest bantamweight champion, before the Business Men's Athletic club, February 6, according to an announcement made yesterday.

Campi arrived in Portland yesterday and will start preparing for the contest immediately. He will do a little road work each day until about 10 days before the contest and then he will start working in a gymnasium.

The last bout the Bay City boxer had was a little over two months ago when he put Harry Bremmer to sleep in eight rounds.

ALOHA-OE.

If Mac should take his athletes to that mid-Pacific Pearl, Where they grow the hula and the hula hula girl; Where the black-eyed young kanaka sing his low and plaintive lay; Where the care-free youngsters gather when the ship sails up the bay; Where the playboard comes a-booming through the opalescent surf; Where the rain is gulped in barrels by the soft and verdant turf; Where the cocoanuts are nutty and the old pineapples pine; Where the poi is dipped with fingers and they feed you native vine.

Well, then, when they come home— Will the pitchers do a wiggle when they start to throw the ball? Will the catchers don their armor plate or any clothes at all? Will the outfielders juggle, as they do the toothsome poi? Will the infield dive for pennies like a brown-skinned native boy? Will the trainer do a warble of the quaint Aloha song? Will the scribes become more friendly just to kide the stars along? Will old Mac forget his grouches and the ukelele start? Yes, he will, if some one dumps him in Kilauea's fiery heart.

LET'S HOPE THEY'RE NOT INTERNED. Before departing for Vancouver, B. C., to take the British steamer Niagara for Honolulu, Judge McCredie will doubtless visit the British consul in Portland and secure passports for Messrs. Stumpf, Houck, Hollocher and Helfrich. That bunch of names would throw a scare into old England herself. And if some stray German raider should happen across the path of the Niagara, would the captain pin an iron cross on the breast of "Dink" O'Brien?

SOLVING THE HOMESICKNESS PROBLEM. John Barnes may have made a financial mistake when he tied to stage a tug of war tournament in Portland lasting a whole week, but none can deny that he was a shrewd bird in his younger days as a promoter and manager.

When Barnes was managing the old Spokane club that won the Northwest baseball championship nearly 20 years ago, he had on his baseball club, Ohio, to boost the catching staff. "Dummy" Rinn was a corking good receiver, but after spending a couple of months in the Northwest, he grew homesick. He went to Barnes, thanked him for his kindness of the past and announced that at the end of the week he would quit the club and leave for his home.

Barnes was in a quandary. He knew Rinn's loss would hurt the club immeasurably. He laid awake nights trying to figure a scheme to keep the homesick Rinn. The Spokane club was playing a series in Portland, and Rinn was working behind the bat on the final afternoon. Barnes was in the grandstand bewailing his inability to keep Rinn. Behind him he suddenly heard a peculiar guttural sound. Glancing up in the grandstand, he saw a bright young fellow making rapid motions with his fingers.

"A ha! If I can only do it," murmured Barnes. In another moment he was sitting beside the digit manipulating party with pencil and an old envelope. "What is your name and what do you do for a living," wrote John with the speed of the heroine in a moving picture film.

"My name is 'Dummy' Gordon, and I work in a Front-street printshop for $9 a week," scribbled the stranger. "I'll give you $15 a week and expenses to travel with the Spokane ball club for the rest of the season," breathlessly wrote Big John.

"You're on," penciled the deaf and dumb printer. "After the game, Barnes hustled Gordon down to the Spokane dressing-room, introduced him to Rinn and left the pair signalling to each other. Rinn stayed with the club.

Wright Working With U. of P. Coach Joe Wright of the great Canadian oarsman has again taken charge of the University of Pennsylvania crewmen and they are working out indoors. Wright will endeavor to develop a crew of big men. He may abandon the tholepin English style of rowing introduced by Vivian Nickalls and equip his shells with the swift lock style of oars.

Kinsella to Defend Tennis. Walter A. Kinsella, holder of the world's professional squash tennis championship will defend the title against John Macklin the Yale club professional in the latter club's courts, New York City, February 2. The conditions call for best 4 out of 7 games. Kinsella concedes his opponent 5 aces in each game.

GREEK FIGHTER SAYS MISKE HAS HARDEST PUNCH

Darcy Is Close-In Fighter, While the Newcomer Stands Off.

If you want to take Kinnick George Brown's word for it, Billy Miske is a harder hitter than Les Darcy. And when it comes down to a case of brass knucks, Knockem Brown ought to know what he is talking about, for he has stopped the wallop of both fighters with most every inch of his map and his commissary department.

Met Les Twice. Brown met Darcy twice in Australia, and recently fought Miske here in New York. He was hammered all over the ring in both bouts with Darcy, but the Australian couldn't lay him out. And Miske, though he beat Brown by a wide margin, found the Chicago Greek always coming in for more. Says Brown:

"None of these guys can stop me. If it could be done, either Miske or Darcy would have done it. And what about Dillon? They can all hit, believe me. But that doesn't bother me a whole lot.

Can Punch Harder. "If you want to take my opinion of it, Miske is the best hitter of the bunch. He can hit harder, at least, than Darcy can. He is a good boxer and he has plenty of punches that he delivers at long range. What's more, he has the muscle back of them. Darcy, on the contrary, is mostly a short range fighter. He does his best work in close quarters and punches fast and hard. He tries to wear a man down with Darcy, but the Australian couldn't lay him out. And Miske, though he beat Brown by a wide margin, found the Chicago Greek always coming in for more. Says Brown:

PACIFIC FIVE IS WINNER OVER MT. ANGEL TEAM

Fenenga Stars With Winners by Sensational Basket Shooting.

St. Benedict, Or., Jan. 20.—The Pacific university lads defeated the Mount Angel collegians by a score of 25 to 17 in a game played at the latter school on Friday night. The outcome was due to the fact that the local lads were due to lose the game, for Fenenga, the winner's center, grabbed two baskets in the first few minutes of play. The local team put up the worst game of the season.

With four points against them, the collegians started scoring with Kaszner's baskets came back strong and made two more baskets for their share before Spear shot another one. But from that time the winners showed by their fine team work.

Fenenga selected 14 points for his share in the half of the game. The score of the first half ended with the visitors taking 20 points against 3 for Mount Angel.

The second half commenced with both teams fighting hard, it was during this part of the game that both teams were evenly matched for neither side scored for the first few minutes of play.

Shaughnessy shot a dandy basket from the center of the floor that set the spectators wild, but shortly after this the visitors scored frequently. Brost and Glat were shot into the game during the last part of the second half but they were unable to stem the rush of the P. U. boys.

The entire game was clean and fast.
