NEXT in the regular course of the season's annual events will come the Visiting Nurses' Valentine tea, to be given Wednesday afternoon, February 14, as it has been given for many years in the past. This event is always one of more than passing interest for its social side as well as for its philanthropic purpose, which is to raise funds for the nurses' work. The tea is frequently held at one of the homes of the members of the board of directors or at one of the downtown hotels. The place and other details of arrangements have not yet been decided for this year. There is a large membership to the Visiting Nurse association which supports them with enthusiastic interest, as the practical assistance which the nurses give to the sick and needy along educational lines makes a strong appeal. The staff of trained workers who go into the homes of poor people to relieve suffering find many opportunities to educate their clients along the lines of healthy living and better sanitation, aside from their professional services.

For the girls of the Cinderella club the men who recently enjoyed their hospitality at a dancing party at the Benson will entertain Friday evening taking a section of the house at the Helig to see "The Liliac Domino." There will be about 100 in the party and they will gather at the Benson after the theatre for supper and will round out the evening dancing.

Miss Irene Pokorney Stein of Chicago was entertained Monday evening at a dinner party given by Mr. and Mrs. Carl G. Liebe at their home in Irvington. Covers for eight were arranged about a table replete with spring flowers.

The third annual Charity ball given for the Women's Exchange went into the annals of social history Thursday night as a splendid success. Multitudes of the hotel's gold ball room was a blaze of glory in the colorful and beautiful costumes of Portland's fair maids and matrons and was gay with the brilliant music which was a featured item in the evening's entertainment. Never have Portland women turned out with so many startlingly beautiful and smart new gowns. The ball room and tea room were decorated with the same effective and artistic foliage, in Oregon grape, pussy willow, California pepper, Woodwardia ferns and standards filled with huge clusters of laurel that graced the hall for the debut ball last Monday evening for Miss Mary Bacon. The combined efforts of the group of men serving as a floor committee and the members of the board of the exchange who greeted the guests contributed much to the success of the party. Supper was served at small tables in the tea room adjoining the ball.

Several unusual features added gaiety to the event. Jack Adams, who is on a furlough from service on the border, put in his first appearance at the ball and was quite the most popular beau of the dance. Alan Green, who is a clever musician, circled much of the evening around the orchestra as a moth to a flame, apparently fascinated with their clever music and finally dethroned the drummer and passed the remainder of the orchestra at the drums, with solemn concentration at his work.

There were about 400 guests in attendance. In the receiving line were the president and the board, Mrs. E. L. Thompson, Mrs. Theodore B. Wilcox, Mrs. C. E. S. Wood, Mrs. W. B. Ayer, Mrs. Henry C. Cabell, Mrs. Helen Ladd Corbett, Mrs. William MacMaster, Mrs. Ferdinand Reed, Mrs. Elliott R. Corbett and Mrs. Thomas Kerr.

Mrs. Thompson wore Alice Blue satin veiled in silver and black lace.

Mrs. Wilcox wore violet panne velvet with touches of silver cloth, and crystal beaded tulle.

Mrs. Corbett was gowned in black and gold brocade with touches of jet and black tulle.

Mrs. W. B. Ayer wore a handsome gown of pansy purple velvet combined with black with trimming of orchid tinted spangled lace.

Mrs. Cabell wore black satin with silver lace tunic.

Mrs. Corbett was gowned in a black beaded robe fashioned with white and black tulle.

Mrs. MacMaster wore black spangled net. Mrs. Reed was attired in black velvet and lace.

Mrs. Elliott R. Corbett wore an empire gown of ivory toned satin and tulle.

anne velvet elaborated with silver and white tulle and touches of French
