tables at bridge Wednesday afternoon followed by an informal tea.

Greeted by more than 300 guests of both the younger and older sets, Miss Mary Bacon made her formal bow to Portland society Monday evening of last week. The charming young debutante was presented by her aunt, Mrs. Dallas Baché, at an elaborately appointed ball given at the Multnomah hotel. The gold ballroom was turned into a garden scene with a most artistic decorative scheme. On the walls of the ballroom were great spreading clusters of greens, the rich red tints of the Oregon grape, combined with the gray green foliage, and bright red berries of the California pepper, with eucalyptus and acacia being most effective. Tall standard baskets of Woodwardia, ferns and laurel were set here and there among the potted palms. The orchestra at the far end of the room was encoined in a little garden of its own and a pergola path with trailing greens above interspersed with the pepper berries led into the tea room adjoining. Here a little formal garden with primrose and box borders was most effective. The mass of beautiful flowers sent to the debutante were also arranged in the supper room. The tables were centered with little baskets of spring flowers. Miss Bacon was a charming picture in a dainty frock of pink tulle fashioned over white satin made with full fluffy skirts and gold lace elaborations were used on the bodice. She carried a shower bouquet of orchids. Mrs. Baché was a most distinguished figure in a gown of black velvet trimmed with black and white tulle and touches of lace. She wore a corsage bouquet of orchids. Mrs. M. S. Fitzgerald, who is a sister of the hostess, wore a becoming gown of light blue satin with gold lace and tulle elaborations. She carried a bouquet of Ophelia roses. Among the guests at the ball was General J. Franklin Bell who stopped over en route from San Francisco to the Sound to attend the affair. General Bell was a close friend of Miss Bacon's father, the late General John M. Bacon.

Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Hart and Miss Stella Frohman.

Mrs. Josephine Smith Andrews presided at another dinner party as a compliment to Mrs. Thomas Sharp of Princeton. Her guests included: Mr. and Mrs. Elliott R. Corbett, Mr. and Mrs. Hawley Hoffman, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Leslie Warrens, Charles Holbrook and Arnold Reimann.

Mr. and Mrs. Edmund L. Devereaux presided at one of the most beautifully appointed dinners at the University club Monday evening. Seated at the table which was artistically decked with Ophelia roses and pink sweet peas, were Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Robertson, Mr. and Mrs. C. Edward Grell, Mr. and Mrs. D. W. L. MacGregor, Mr. and Mrs. John Latta, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Henry Davis Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Donald Green and Mr. and Mrs. Kurt H. Koehler.

Miss Katherine Hart gave a kitchen shower and luncheon Friday in honor of Miss Alice Tucker, whose marriage to Spencer Biddle will be an event of the early part of next month.

Miss Helen Bates' wedding to Christopher T. Cheney took place in Chicago Thursday evening at the University Congregational church. It was a simple ceremony with only the immediate friends and relatives who are in that city being present. Miss Bates is a popular society girl of Portland and her wedding announcement, which came early this week, was a surprise to her friends in Portland. The bride is the daughter of Professor H. L. Bates of Pacific university, Forest Grove, but has made her home in Portland with her aunt, Miss Carrie May Nichol, for many years. She is the sister of Miss Margaret Bates and Dr. Harold Bates, the latter now somewhere in France, with the Harvard unit. She is a graduate of the old Portland academy, and of Smith college and one of the popular girls of Portland society.

Mr. Cheney is an Ashland, Va. man and made his home here but a few years ago. He was a member of the University and Multnomah clubs at that time and made many friends. He resided with Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Cheney who are distant relatives, during part of his stay in the city. He is now with the United States commission on industrial relations with headquarters in Chicago. His brother, William L. Cheney, is a well known newspaperman of that place, writing on the Chicago Herald.

Miss Bates has been visiting since November with Mrs. Charles F. Miller and her daughter, Miss Miller, the latter her former roommate at Smith college. She lived with them a year after graduating from college and went to them this fall after the death of Mr. Miller. Owing to their deep mourning, the wedding was simply arranged.

Mr. and Mrs. Cheney will be at home in Chicago, as they plan to take their wedding trip in the summer vacation.

At the Lincoln high school auditorium Friday evening the invitational recital of aesthetic dancing given by Miss Katherine Laidlaw drew forth a large audience. Miss Maud Ainsworth was sponsor for the affair and the program was one of the most enjoyable and artistic which has ever been presented in Portland by local talent. A number of talented young pupils of Miss Laidlaw gave numbers in addition to her numbers.

Miss Katherine Gille gave an informal bridge tea Wednesday afternoon in honor of Miss Helen Teal of Hood River, who is passing the winter in Portland at the Alexandra Court. There were four tables arranged at cards and a few additional guests came in for tea.

Tuesday afternoon Mrs. Alma D. Katz and Mrs. Everett Ames entertained jointly at luncheon at the University club, in compliment to Mrs. Otis B. Wight's mother, Mrs. W. O. H. Martin, and sister, Mrs. Lorrain Mackey, of San Francisco, who are visiting in the city. Mrs. Mackey will make her departure soon for the south but Mrs. Martin will remain for several weeks with her daughter and will be the inspiration for much entertaining.

Mr. and Mrs. Dept. Mowrey arrive this week and will be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Reed. The Mowreys are always welcome guests in Portland and their visit this week is of special interest since they are to appear in concert Friday night at the Little theatre. They will be delightfully entertained during their stay. Among others, Mrs. Reed will be hostess at a dancing party in their honor. Wednesday evening the Mowreys shared honors with William Shakespeare of London at a reception given by Mr. William Perkins in Seattle.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ladd Corbett, Mrs. David C. Lewis and Mrs. Thomas Honeymay are among the Portlanders who are sojourning in New York. Mr. and Mrs. Corbett made their departure Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Webster Talbot are planning to leave soon for California to spend several weeks. Mr. Talbot is convalescing from a severe attack of the grippe and is going to southern California to recuperate.

After an extended visit in Southern California, Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Jackson have returned home. Mrs. Jackson went south in October, visiting in company with friends at Berkeley and Los Angeles. Mr. Jackson joined her for Thanksgiving and they motored together through the southern part of the state and into Mexico, passing Christmas in Los Angeles.

Next Thursday evening another of the Scottish Rite dances will be held at the cathedral on Morrison street. A reception will be tendered by the 1916-17 Social club of the Scottish Rite bodies to Grand Sovereign Inspector-General Phillip S. Malcolm, and the officers of the various Scottish Rite bodies. The reception will take place at 8:20 in the large room over the dance hall, and the committee in charge is endeavoring to get out a full attendance. The grand march will start at 8:45 and will be reviewed by the inspector general and the officers. Cards will be provided at 9 o'clock for those who do not care to dance, with the usual prizes for high scores. Refreshments will be served. The patronesses for the evening will be the wives of the officers of the Scottish Rite bodies, as follows: Mesdames Louis G. Clarke, A. M. Wright, Robert Lutke, Arthur O. Jones, Norris R. Cox, W. L. Cooper, Albert Feldenheimer, William C. Alvord, Arnold Lindsay, B. B. Beekman, Archie Thurlow, Clayton Seaman, Frank S. Grant, James N. Davis, Alva L. Stephens, A. C. Callan, C. C. Newcastle, Wallace McCamant, Richard Martin, E. V. Littlefield, Daniel A. Groul, Arthur Langguth, Robert A. Miller, Adrian McCalman, E. A. Pierce, E. D. Jorgensen, Henry L. Pittock and Thomas A. Rochester.

Mrs. C. Lewis Mead entertained at her home in Irvington Friday afternoon with nine tables at bridge followed by a small tea for the pleasure of Mrs. Paul Church Gleesey and Mrs. Frederick Porter, both recent brides.

Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Mears, and attended school here, as well as in the east, and is one of the popular men of Portland. A host of friends will be very sorry that the two attractive young people will not make their home here.

Plans are progressing for the German Red Cross dance, which will take place Saturday evening, February 3, at the German House. Mrs. Theodore Mueller, assisted by Mrs. A. J. Wolff, is arranging the affair. The patrons and patronesses include: Mr. and Mrs. A. Schuman, Mr. and Mrs. T. Bergman, Mr. and Mrs. E. Winter, Mrs. Abendroth, Mr. and Mrs. H. Enke, Mr. and Mrs. F. Fuchs, Mr. and Mrs. J. Schwind, Mr. and Mrs. A. Kelsler, Dr. and Mrs. Keller, Mr. and Mrs. N. Harris, Mr. and Mrs. C. Schnabel, Mr. and Mrs. H. Rademacher, Mr. and Mrs. V. Wagnin, Mr. and Mrs. O.
