ARCHITECTS KEPT BUSY

Local Designers Have Abundance o Work on Hand-Several High Schools to Rise Soon.

In spite of war talk and the uncertainty of the future, local architects have their hands full, and prospects for building are brighter than they have been for many months. Realtors report that several factory sites are under consideration, and that a num-ber of large deals will probably be concluded this week. Projected struc-tures include a sawmil, a laundry, two hotels and three or four factories. A contest for a $25,000 addition to the Corvallis high school will be settled this week. Three local architects have submitted drawings for the proposed addition. A bond election will be held a Estacada this week to provide funds for a $15,000 high school there. One Portland architect reports that he has made 25 estimates for proposed buildings within the past two weeks.

Banker May Build Warehouse. Isaac D. Hunt, vice president of the Ladd & Tilton bank, may build a large warehouse soon on a quarter block on the northeast corner of Eighteenth and Upshur streets, which he has recently acquired from Wilbur Hyland of Eugene. In exchange for the warehouse site, Mr. Hyland became the possessor of a residence in Alameda Park, two on the Base Line road, and a ranch near Scappoose.
