EVILS OF SELFISHNESS

Historical records handed down from earliest times reveal the execrable consequences of selfishness. If selfishness had never crept into the human heart surely the difference between the world as it is today and what it would be without this all-embracing sin is far beyond the range of our finite understanding. Earth with every vestige of this most baneful of all human attributes eliminated would be paradise, a place of blissful delights. Across the water we have the spectacle of slaughtering men, of despairing womanhood and suffering, wondering childhood. And the great underlying cause—selfishness of divinely (?) appointed rulers of the lives and destinies of the masses.

Even in our own fair land, with countless homes of comfort, where the starry emblem of our Union waves over a land at peace, where seldom an outside marauder attacks and destroys our abodes, how often this same monster rears its head within our sheltered walls, taking the light from the sunshine for many a heart because some member of the family has never cared much for the Golden Rule anyway! And selfishness will ever drag suffering along by its side.

There is the spendthrift wife, who knows not and cares not how hard her husband toils for his dollars as long as he gets them to her in time for the "bargain" sales; the daughter of the house, who will look like the latest fashion plate if her mother has to trim up the same old hat for five successive seasons or more.

Then glance for a moment at that young couple with small children. The wife with her one pair of hands does over town news at the corner saloon or club, while the wife is left alone one weary night after another to seek her recreation in the same atmosphere she has enjoyed since Johnny was

OYSTER COCKTAIL

This is not a beverage. It is an easy way of serving raw oysters. A fourth of a teaspoon each of horseradish, Worcestershire sauce and tomato catchup, a teaspoon of vinegar, a little salt, two dashes of table sauce and eight small or medium oysters. This is the rule for one person.

STEAMED APPLE PUDDING

Half fill a deep baking dish with sliced apples, sprinkle with grated nutmeg and steam 10 minutes. Sift 2 cups of flour with 2 teaspoons of baking powder and 1/2 teaspoon of salt, chop in 1 rounded tablespoon of butter and moisten with about 1 cup of milk. Place the dough over the apple and steam 1/2 hour, then turn from the dish, sprinkle generously with sugar and serve with liquid sauce.

WILLIE'S DESTRUCTIVENESS

"O-o-o-h m-o-o-ther," howled an Oklahoma City child, "Willie's broken my go-ol!"

"The naughty boy! How did he do it?"

"I—I hit him on the head wiv it!" sobbed the little angel.

VOGUE'S VANITIES

Eyelet embroidery is noted on hats and blouses. Velvet ribbon is used for various trimming purposes. Quilting is gaining in prominence. Khaki Kool suits and dresses, which various New York shops are showing, favor either disc or Indian striped patterns in high colors on light grounds. Bathing suits of Khaki Kool combination with satin are already being shown. Shoes show the daring combination of gray grosgrain silk vamps with brown kid tops.

An evening gown of silver cloth had a silver lace cape falling all about it to the waistline from the low rounded décolleté. Brilliantly figured sports crepes are introduced in collar and cuff effects to transform the navy blue serge frocks for spring. Cotton and silk are united in smart

Deferred Kindness

Let the moral the following quotation points sink deep into your mind: "I'm rather tired of seeing all the flowers at weddings and funerals. We need a few in between. Maybe a few flowers put into the hand when it was warm instead of icy cold might have had the hands warm a little longer. Anyway, it would have made the heart that has ceased to beat a little lighter."

Oregon University Beaten in Debate

Team From Agricultural College Wins Decision in Contest at Eugene, Subject Being Arbitration in Disputes. University of Oregon, Eugene, Or., March 2.—Visiting O. A. C. debaters won a 3 to 1 decision from the Oregon winners upholding the affirmative side of the question, "Resolved, That capital and labor should be compelled to settle their industrial disputes in legally established courts of arbitration."

The rebuttal of Mainwaring for the Agricultural college was the turning point of the evening, driving home his points in the final speed. The Oregon men tried to overcome the affirmative argument on the practical grounds that the scheme was unworkable. The winning team was composed of W. B. Mainwaring of Newburg and C. W. McIndoe of Loraine. Oregon was defended by Don D. Davis of Nyassa and Lewis Beebe of Bostwick, Neb. The judges were Oswald West, Eugene Broking and Miss Cornelia Marvin.

NATIONAL GUARD NOTES

Ladies' Auxiliary May Be Formed to Help Enlistments.

Ladies' Naval Auxiliary Proposed.—The naval militia is steadily gaining recruits. A number have been signed up within the last few days and others have taken the matter under advisement. The store at 345 Washington street is attracting a great deal of attention, where a display of various objects of interest to the home and the service is made. It is a recruiting office every night, with a commissioned officer in charge. Wednesday night several young ladies called upon Lieutenant yet to inquire how they could assist in getting young men to enlist. It is possible that an auxiliary of ladies will be formed to help in any manner possible. "A lot of us will enlist," assured one of the fair visitors.

Near-Potatoes May Reduce Living Cost

Anderson, Ind., March 2.—(I. N. S.)—Near potatoes, destined to solve, in part, the high cost of living, were eaten today in the home of a family here. Professor George L. Clarke, assistant chemist of the University of Chicago, who is conducting experiments to make a sort of rice food take the place of potatoes, sent a sample of the new food to his father, Ralph Clarke, who lives here. The "near-potatoes" have the taste of the real vegetable, Mr. Clarke says.

Mysterious Wireless Messages Are Puzzle

New York, March 2.—(U. P.)—Wireless messages carrying warnings or instructions to mysterious ships at sea are flying above the Mexican and Cuban coasts, according to reports in shipping circles here. These messages, it is said, are sent by numbers to no apparent receivers. They trickle along and then stop as if the sender was picking up a number of stations without calling.

"What would you do if you only got $5.00 a week?"
