FUTURE OF PORTLAND LIES WITH YOUNG MEN WHO ARE PROGRESSIVE

Joseph N. Teal Tells Brotherhood of First Congregational What City Needs.

SHIPPING PROBLEM TOPIC

Unless Old-Timers Break Up Cliques and Help, Mothing but Decay Will Come to Port.

"Portland lacks bold, progressive men, willing to take a chance,
"No chance is given to young me. in this city; instead they are constantly suppressed. "We do not give a new man a chance People literally starve to death for want of sociability while we old tim ers, altogether self-centered, gather in cliques and exclude them.

"What a few men say in this town goes, whether they know what they are talking about or not, and usua,'y they do not These few sit back look ing wise and no one else dares i open his head.

There is an apsolute lack of unity of purpose and too much complacenty and a deadly inertia which can only be overcome by young blood and new

Subject Discussed Is Shipping. Speaking before the Brotherhood of the First Congregational church last night on the question of Portland's shipping problem, Joseph N. Teal gave the foregoing as a few, and the prin-cipal, reasons why this city has practically gone to pieces as a seaport.

Mr. Teal began by showing the im-mense increase in recent years of Sc constant shrinking, till now it is al- so most negligible in comparison with that of the northern port, of that of then proceeded to declare in plain Enlish that the people of Portland are to blame themselves for not taking Bend Firm Allowed Mavigation Obstacle Removed.

True, he said, up till a year and half or so, big ocean liners could not Eafely get into the Columbia, despita anything that was said or believel to the contrary. But this natural obstacle is now gone and the people are still sitting back and waiting for Providence to make good for them. He declared that 50 energetic young imbued with a spirit of absolute and complete loyalty to Portland, "could revolutionize this town in The first essential, he insisted, would be for them to declare the city in bondage.

The speaker declared that Sacraunder the ruling of the Interstate Commerce commission that water competition must be real and not merety potential, and about 150 other cities, have already lost terminal freight rates, and he warned that a similar situation may develop as to Portland if this city does not wake up

Columbia River Is Useful. "I still hope to see the time come," Teal. "when the Columbia river will serve some other purpose than to be pictured in railroad folders and being used for tourists to

Mr. Teal's reference to the men interfering with Portland's marine progress as filibusterers, like those who prevented action in the United States senate on the armed neutrality bill drew unanimous applause, indicating how his auditors felt about the pe: formance at Washington. In answer to a question he said that the Port of Portland commission will in a short timescommence barging coal to this city from British Columbia to supply ocean liners, the lack of coa supply being one of the greatest drawcacks to this port.

Port Board Is Waking Up. He said the cost of transporting i would not be in excess of 50 cents ton, probably considerably less.

In this connection he declared that the port commission is beginning to wake up to the fact that it is to a great degree responsible for the commerce of this port and that its duty is not confined "to digging a trench down the Columbia river to the sea."

Current Took It Out: Tide Brought It Back

"The River Log of a Bottle" might be the title of a tale which Deputy Sheriff R. W. Phillips has to relate, and one which challenges the credulity of a Doubting Thomas, but which is substantiated by proof.

On the occasion of the opening of the interstate bridge, Deputy Phillips cast a bottle into the Columbia, A note in the bottle asked the finder to communicate with Phillips. Sunday, M. S. Warkentin of 511 Harrison street notified the sheriff's office that he had found the bottle on the river's edge at Supple's shipyard, foot of East Pine street. The bottle, in its river journey, had gone down the Columbia and was brought back into the Wil-lamette with the tide.
