

PORTLAND, OREGON, SUNDAY MORNING, MARCH 25, 1917.

WHAT SOCIETY IS DOING

MISS FRANCES GILL

Mrs. Margaret Doeh Josselyn was an old fashioned girl.

Mrs. Thomas Barnes was gowned as a native Hawaiian, and Mr. Barnes as Carranza.

Douglas Lawson was a very good Villa.

John Banks was a hobo.

Mrs. Carl Walters was a design in gray and black.

Mr. Walters was a Chinese coolie.

Miss Catherine Mackenzie was a Chinese maiden, as was also Miss Clara Wold.

Miss Loretta Hardy was a lady harlequin.

Mrs. C. Dunlap was an old fashioned matron of 1850.

Miss Ione Dunlap was a Gainesborough study.

Miss Helen Putnam a Florentine lady.

Mrs. W. U. Sanderson a flower girl.

Mrs. E. W. Lazell was summer.

Miss Laura Shay was a Hungarian dancing girl.

Miss Marjorie Forbes was confetti.

Miss Sue Truby wore a riding costume.

James Gault was Cameron of Lochlell, Scotland.

Mrs. A. Homey Pierson was a chic figure as Robin Hood.

Miss Mary Bacon was a Spanish girl.

A number of Portland people went up to Seattle Wednesday afternoon by special train for the ship launching, returning Friday morning. Among those in the party were: Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ladd Corbett, Mr. and Mrs. Elliott R. Corbett, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Smith, Mr. and Mrs. G. Kirkham Smith, Miss Harriet Cumming and Curtis Bailey.

Mrs. Henry Hoyt, who has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Henry Ladd Corbett, and Mrs. Charles E. Miller, who passed several weeks with her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Miller (Lesley Smith), returned early last week to their homes in New York city.

For the relief of the Belgian children the Progressive Business Men's club, the Rotary club and the Realty board will stand sponsors for a benefit entertainment at the Heilig theatre, March 30 and 31. There will be a five reel moving picture, featuring Ellis Paul, the world's youngest movie leading man, aged four years, and aesthetic dancing numbers interspersed between numbers, the latter being furnished by Miss Frances Hanrahan and Miss Aza Paget with her six ballet girls. That the school children of the city may be able to assist in helping the Belgian children, Superintendent Alderman has given permission that any child who brings an excuse from its parents may be excused from school Friday afternoon in time to attend the Friday matinee, as all can not be accommodated at the Saturday matinee. There will be four performances each day, beginning at 1 o'clock to 5 in the afternoon, and from 7 until 11 o'clock in the evening. Among the box holders: Mrs. Theodore B. Wilcox, Mrs. J. A. Pouloux, Mrs. Halley Hoffman, Mrs. David Honeyman, Miss Henrietta Fall, Mrs. William Ryan, Miss Mary Francis Ison, Mrs. James Cooke, Mrs. Andrew Porter, Mrs. E. C. Shevlin, Mrs. W. D. Several dinner parties preceded the French ball Thursday evening. Miss Maudie MacMaster presided at one of these affairs at her residence in Ardour, honoring Miss Elizabeth Wiley. The affair was most informal. Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Shevlin also entertained a group of 10 guests at their residence, and for the young people of the debutante set, Miss Alice Smith was hostess at her home on Portland Heights. Here was a Turkish party with the guests in Turkish garb.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Barnes of Prineville, were dinner hosts Friday evening to 25 guests, prior to their departure for their ranch. They will be domiciled at the Mallory until they leave for Prineville.

Miss Helen Ladd returned to her home Wednesday from Good Samaritan hospital, where she went Monday to have her tonsils removed. Miss Ladd underwent a serious operation last fall, and her speedy recovery is now looked for. She is reported to be doing nicely, and will be about again within a week of 10 days.

Regular Value $52.50

Low Credit Terms

This "Sterling" Bed-Davenport $43.85

Accommodating a Big Thick Mattress, Pillows and All Bedding

Far Superior to Ordinary Bed Davenports

Its Simplicity of Operation Insures Lasting Wear

Upholstered in Sterling Art Leather

The ordinary bed davenport will accommodate a pad or thin mattress only. The new "Sterling" takes the same mattress you use on your regular bed. It gives you the same comfort, the same perfect sleeping qualities of the best bed you can buy. It is simple in operation, has full quartered oak frame and is superior to all bed davenports manufactured today. Even a child can operate it.

The "Sterling" is designed for service and the accommodation of any full size mattress of any thickness. The "Sterling" is designed for service, and no matter whether you use it as a bed every night or one night in the month, it is always ready, never out of order, changing from a pretty piece of parlor furniture to a comfortable bed smoothly and silently.

Not only have the makers of the "Sterling" bed davenport developed the convenience and simplicity of their bed davenport to a remarkable degree, but they have also devised a great deal of time and money to discover a fabric that would give the same service as leather, and their efforts have been successful. The fabric they use in the upholstering does not only resemble the genuine in appearance but it also wears like the genuine.

"Whistler" Ivory Chamber Suite

Any Two Pieces $59.75—Any Three Pieces $87.50
Complete Four-Piece Suite $109.50

Just glance at the illustration and note the beautiful lines of this suite. It is a suite that anyone, regardless of their position in life, could well be proud of. The price, however, is but that of ordinary furniture. The pieces are beautifully made, all in ivory with a smooth egg-shell finish. The beaded frames and unusual design of the pieces make them unusually attractive. By all means see this Whistler suite if interested in enamel chamber furniture.

News for publication in the Sunday society pages must be in the Journal office by Friday afternoon.

THE post-Lenten events are beginning to be announced for the official resumption of things social. The Main Home silver tea which for many years has taken first place as a fixture on the social calendar for Easter Monday, falls this year on April 9. A program of musical numbers is always an enjoyable feature of this time-honored function, and the social side is equally alluring, as it is one of those occasions on which society en masse turns out in all its cliques and circles to greet the many delightful old people who are domiciled at the Home. The women of the Presbyterian church are acting as hostesses for the tea this year.

A number of postponed dancing parties will also be given Easter week, resuming a series of affairs that were dropped during Lent. The Monday Night Dancing club's last party for the season is one of these affairs, and it will be given April 9 at Harlow Grady hall.

Meanwhile the Belgian benefit at the Heilig Friday and Saturday of this week will hold an important place in the week's events.

The Bal Masque at Cotillon hall Thursday evening was the first and last word in social interest for the entertainment of last week. The Alliance Francaise was sponsor for the ball, which was more a festival than a dance, and the proceeds were for the French orphans—unless war comes in this country, when the funds of the alliance will go to American relief work. The mass of brilliant colors which made up the costuming of more than 400 couples presented a bewildering and gala scene. Leland Smith with Miss Alisa MacMaster and Alan Green, and Miss Elizabeth Wiley, of Washington, D. C., led the grand march. As the long procession of dancers formed in line, every race and class and clime were represented.

A few of the countless attractive costumes noted were as follows:

Miss Alisa MacMaster, an East Indian princess in white silk and robes, with handsome pearl ornaments and headdress.

Miss Wiley, a French student, in black velvet trousers and cap and white blouse.

Leland Smith, a clown in yellow and black and domino.

Alan Green, a black and white domino.

Miss William O. VanSchuyver was a stunning East Indian dancing girl.

Mrs. Maurice Crumpacker as Columbia, draped in a handsome taffeta silk flag.

Mrs. E. C. Shevlin was costumed as Manon.

Mrs. Walter F. Burrell was an Egyptian woman in black and silver.

Mrs. Harold Sawyer and her sister, Miss Katherine Ecob, were Dutch maidens.

Mr. Sawyer was a most distinguished Chinese noble.

Mrs. J. B. Bilderback was a French lady in waiting and Mr. Bilderback was a French student.

J. Ande Foulhoux was a French chef.

Mrs. Folger Johnson wore a becoming Turkish costume and Mr. Johnson was an Arabian noble.

Mrs. Henry Jewett wore an 1850 costume of white satin and rose point.

Major Jewett was a British dragoon.

Mr. John Keating was a Watteau shepherdess.

Miss Marian Hadgedorn was attractive as an old fashioned girl.

Mrs. Spencer Biddle wore a becoming Alice blue gown fashioned as a lady of the harem.

Miss Esther Tucker wore a sailor boy suit.

Miss Clementine Lambert was a Turkish maiden, as was Miss Allice Smith, Mrs. Charles Schnabel, Mrs. Hazel Blumauer Litt, Miss Agnes McBride, and a score of others.

Mrs. John Besson was a demure figure as a sister of charity.

E. V. Hauser was a Marsavian prince.

Dr. Joseph McCool was a green and brown frog.

Mrs. Charles T. Whitney wore a white costume as spring.

Charles Holbrook was a Red Cross nurse.

Gerald SooySmith was a Turkish gentleman.

Miss Margaret Hewett was dressed as a cowgirl and George Warrens as a hobo.

Seaton Taylor was a yellow clown. Miss Patsy Stewart was an attractive Spanish senorita.

Cashot Therkelson was a jockey.

Mrs. Therkelson wore a French student costume.

Mrs. Harold Grady wore a Turkish costume and Mr. Grady was a French artist.

Mrs. Joseph McCool wore a handsome peacock costume.

Miss Virginia McDonough was an attractive old fashioned girl.

Mrs. Raymond Wilcox was also an old fashioned girl in poke bonnet and mittens, and Mr. Wilcox was a clown.

Miss Dorothy Gilbert was a Grecian girl.

Mrs. Vanleer Elchbaum was a chic figure as the daughter of the Regiment.

Dr. Ralph Fenton was costumed as Tolstoy.

Mrs. Dennison Clark wore an East Indian princess costume of white with bird of paradise head dress.

Henri Leeb was a French student.

Roswell Doeh was a Fiji Islander.
